Space Prayer

Q. Where can I obtain a copy of Air Force Col. Frank Borman's space prayer? W.P., Long Beach.

A. Write to Robert Gordon, public information officer, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Manned Spacecraft Center, 2101 Nasa Road 1, Houston, Tex. Astronauts Borman, James Lovell and William Anders spent six days and three hours on their Apollo 8 mission which circled the moon. On Christmas Eve while he was 230,000 miles away from earth, Col. Borman dedicated a prayer to the people of his own St. Christophers Church in Seabrook, Texas. It began, "Give, Oh God, the vision which can see Thy love in the world in spite of human failure. Give us the faith to trust the goodness in spite of our ignorance and weakness ....." Other Christmas presents from the astronauts to earthlings were the words, "Please to be informed there is a Santa Claus," and a reading of the story of creation from the Book of Genesis.

Vulture Gulch

Q. I saw a television program about buzzards returning to their roost in Hinckley, Ohio. Is there a buzzard roost in California? A.M., Long Beach.

A. The word, "buzzard," applies to large birds of prey, usually hawks in Europe and vultures in North America. One of the most common buzzards in California is the turkey vulture, which, while classified as a bird of prey eats only carrion. Dr. Kenneth Stager, senior curator in the ornithology department at the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History, said the turkey vultures roost in tall trees and mountain areas all over California. They are migratory birds and will be in California from now until October. In the late fall, they move to Mexico and Central America. Dr. Stager said the vultures will roost in large groups when they first arrive in California, break into pairs for the breeding season, and then return to a community roost after the young birds are born. For help in locating diffferent buzzard roosts, call Dr. Stager at 746-0410 in a few weeks. With the help of the Los Angeles Audubon Society, ACTION LINE learned that two areas where you are likely to see buzzard roosts are near the town of Cambria, just south of San Simeon, and Twentynine Palms.

Set Up Horsekeeping

Q. I own two horses and must move them in June. It is too expensive to keep both of them at a boarding stable. I knew some people who kept horses on land they rented from Southern California Edison Co. under power line rights-of-way. Does the company still provide land for this purpose? If so, how does one go about making the arrangements? S.L., Lakewood.

A. In some isolated cases, Southern California Edison Co. will give a license to an individual to use one of the company's rights of way for grazing his horses. D. A. Thompson, a company representative, explained that certain conditions must be met before approval is given: individuals living near the right of way area in a residential district must agree to allow horses in, and there must be no city ordinance prohibiting the keeping of horses in the area; or the area must be in an industrial zone away from homes. Thompson added that the company has had to cancel a large number of its arrangements with horse owners, because people living near where the horses were kept complained. For more information contact the Southern California Edison Co. Right of Way and Land Department, 602 W. Fifth St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Old Dog

Q. Is my five-year-old dog too old to learn to perform tricks? If not, should I train her the same way I would a puppy? B.A., Lakewood.

A. You can teach an old dog new tricks according to two local dog trainers. Mrs. Evelyn Gann of the Lakewood Dog Obedience Club told ACTION LINE that a dog can be taught at any age, but it may take little longer with an older dog. "To train any dog, you must give a lot of love, affection and praise," she added. Although you can train your dog to do minor tricks at home, Mrs. Gann suggests that you take your dog to an obedience class. The Lakewood Dog Obedience Club offers free classes to its members. The club meets every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Del Valle Park, 5939 Henrilee St., Lakewood. There is a $1 initiation fee and a $1 per year dues. Joe DeBeck, a Long Beach trainer, said that you must reward your dog with food to get him to do tricks, but there is no bribing in obedience training. "The key element in obedience training is praise," he said. DeBeck also offfers a class which costs $20 for 10 lessons. You can sign up for the class at the Long Beach Pet and Feed Store, 999 E. Willow St. St.

Sweet Suite But Incomplete

Q. Last January I purchased a complete Bassett bedroom set from Mart Furniture Co. in Anaheim. The set plus several additional pieces of furniture were delivered but they have never included the matching headboard we ordered and we can't seem to get it. R.R., Los Alamitos.

A. Elwood Coy, store manager of the Anaheim outlet said your headboard was placed on special order from the Bassett Furniture Co. manufacturing plant in Virginia. He indicated it should be in by the end of April. A check of other Mart furniture stores in the area revealed that your particular set has been discontinued by the factory. The other stores said they have also had to special order pieces of the particular bedroom set you bought.

Compton: Sirhan Guilty in First Degree

By MARY NEISWENDER
Staff Writer

Either free him or find him guilty of first-degree murder.

That, in substance, is what the prosecution asks be the fate of admitted assassin Sirhan Bishara Sirhan.

With hands in his pockets, pacing the floor and at times sitting on the counsel table, Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn Compton began summing up the state's case against the admitted killer of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The crew - cut, gray-haired prosecutor, looking more like the football player he was than the chief deputy district attorney he is, began his home-spun dialogue following a four-hour closing argument for the defense by chief defense council Grant Cooper.

Cooper, suave and a savant among attorneys, appeared to have "lost" the jury with his detailed discussion of psychiatric testimony. Many of the jurors were glancing about the courtroom — all had stopped taking notes, including Downey schoolteacher Mary Lou Busby, who has taken extensive notes during the entire 14-week trial.

But when Compton, hands stuffed into his pockets sauntered towards the jury box and plunked himself down on the counsel table, the seven-man five-woman jury seemed to come alive again.

"I wrote a couple of notes on a piece of paper," he said, pulling a yellow, folded paper from his shirt pocket, "but first I've got to apologize for not being here all the time — I've been at budget sessions for the district attorney's office.

"You know," he said scratching his cheek, "we process 35,000 felons a year," ... then he came back to the Sirhan case, "and you know, in my opinion not one of those 35,000 demonstrated mature and meaningful judgment.

"Whether it's the college kid who got caught with marijuana ... or the 25-year-old adult who shoots heroin into his vein ... or the man who holds up a liquor store for $15 ... none of it reflects very mature, meaningful, wise judgment.

Allies Explore Means to Begin Talks with Russ

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The North Atlantic Alliance Friday moved cautiously toward the negotiation of concrete issues with the Soviet Union and its allies in Eastern Europe.

The 15 members of NATO are prepared to explore these issues and the foreign ministers have instructed the North Atlantic Council, the Alliance's executive body, to list the problems and study the best means of starting negotiations in due course.

* * * *

THIS MOVEMENT, interpreted as establishing the conditions for an approach to a detente, was accomplished by an emphatic statement in a NATO communique of the desirability of maintaining the West's military defense as a necessary condition for what was called "effective detente policies."

The communique omitted any reference to the Communist bloc's appeal for an all European security conference. The consensus of the foreign ministers in their two days of meetings was against an early multilateral meeting as proposed by the Warsaw Pact powers on March 17 in Budapest.

The omission also owes something to the unwillingness of some European foreign ministers to link their names to an outright rejection of a Communist proposal that has won a measure of popular support.

The key sentence of the communique, issued after a two-day meeting, said that the Allies proposed "while remaining in close consultation, to explore with the Soviet Union and the other countries of Eastern Europe which concrete issues best lend themselves to fruitful negotiation and an early resolution."

Investigate Chicano IQ Test Bias

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Education decided Friday to investigate charges that IQ tests doom many Mexican-American and Negro children to failure.

Mexican-American educators told the board that it's the fault of the tests, and not the children, when so many minority group pupils receive poor scores.

The result is that teachers get "a poor image of the child and don't expect enough of him," said Dr. Steven Moreno of San Deigo, a psychologist.

* * * *

"IF YOU TREAT a kid as stupid, he's going to act stupid after awhile," Moreno said. "The problem is that 75 per cent of our children generally are considered to have below average intelligence."

Moreno said that language and social differences often cause Mexican-American children to score worse on IQ tests than white, middle-class children.

Another member of the Association of Mexican-American Educators said that Mexican-American, or Chicano, pupils were placed in classes for the mentally retarded often unjustly, and occasionally because the school district wanted the resulting state bonus money given for each child in special education.

* * * *

MAX RAFFERTY, state superintendent of public instruction, said he would report to the board next month on any misuses of special education funds.

The board's action called for appointment of a special advisory commission to study IQ tests.

Heavy Floods Force 5,600 from Homes in Midwest

United Press International

Spreading floodwaters left more than 5,600 persons homeless in the water-logged upper Midwest and northern plains Friday and took a rapidly mounting toll of property damage.

Gov. William Guy asked President Nixon to declare North Dakota a disaster area as the Mouse River drove 1,200 persons from their homes in the Minot area and the Red River of the North left others temporarily homeless along the state's eastern border.

Floodwaters rose to the window sills of Ramstad Junior High School in Minot. City officials said 800 more residents might have to move out of their homes. The flood damage was said to be the worst in Minot's history.

Bloated by the spring runoff from melting snows, rivers and streams surged against dikes and spread over lowlands from northern Iowa to the Canadian border.

About 2,000 persons had been driven to higher ground in Minnesota, 1,650 in South Dakota, 1,250 in North Dakota and 730 in Iowa.

Guy was the third state governor in the flood-stricken area to seek federal disaster aid. The governors of Minnesota and South Dakota previously sought disaster designations.

The North Dakota governor said flood damage in his state had mounted to $4.5 million — more than half of it to private property. A county official estimated that property damage in the Minot area alone was $3.25 million.

Thousands of workers sandbagged battered dikes and levees against record or near-record flood crests. As 150 National Guardsmen were released from duty at Cherokee,

Pacific Awards 'Inflated'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon scaled down sharply Friday the award of controversial transpacific air routes once approved by former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and eliminated proposed international operations by Continental and Braniff Air Lines.

Shortly after taking office, Nixon had ordered cancellation of the charter awards, and held up related domestic route awards.

White House sources said he has concluded that transpacific traffic forecasts cited by the Civil Aeronautics Board during the Johnson administration were far too optimistic and that the Johnson decision "would have overburdened the Pacific with inflated route awards lacking an economic viability."

President Nixon's revised transpacific awards Friday knocked out the use of satellite departure points in the United States. The satellites previously approved by the Johnson Administration had been Long Beach and Ontario airports in the Southland and Oakland and San Jose in the San Francisco Bay Area.

There had been public suggestions earlier of possible improper dealings between government and air line officials prior to the Johnson route decision.

A WHITE HOUSE source said the new administration had looked into this matter and, "We found no evidence of any impropriety."

DINERS CONTRACT HIT

L. B. Sued on 'Queen' Pact

By MOLLY BURRELL

A taxpayer's suit challenging the legality of contracts between the City of Long Beach and Diners Queen Mary Corporation (DQM) was filed Friday in Superior Court.

The plaintiff is Edward Bynon, a former investigator for the city attorney's office and now columnist for a weekly shopper newspaper.

Although city officials were not served a copy of Bynon's complaint, they indicated they feel the suit is "without merit."

Bynon charges the City Council:

—Acted "arbitrarily and capriciously and in violation of the city charter" and by-passed conditions set by the State Lands Commission when it made contracts with DQM.

—Yielded to promoters who were unable to finance the vessel privately.

—Committed itself to expenditure of about $25 million in public funds for the primary profit of those promoters.

—Created a situation which prevents use of 30 acres of land next to where the Queen Mary will be berthed, because the Board of Harbor Commissioners did not authorize lease of the acreage.

Bynon seeks court affirmation of his contentions, as well as court costs, and "any other relief the court deems proper," according to his complaint.

About the complaint, City Manager John R. Mansell deferred comment to City Attorney Leonard Putnam.

"Cursory review," said Putnam, "indicates the action is based rather largely on gratuitous conclusions which we are satisfied are without merit in fact or under law.

"I am of course disappointed to find that at this late date a fair and equitable lease with Diners Queen Mary would be questioned in this obvious fashion.

"Because the matter is now in litigation I really am precluded from making any further comment except in court."

Named in the complaint are all the councilmen, the city manager, city treasurer, city auditor, the corporation and 20 "John Does."

After the city receives the complaint and files an answer, the next step could be the setting of a date on the civil court calendar. If that is the case, according to Putnam, a trial could be a year in coming unless it qualified for special precedence.

SAIGON Saturday—Communist gunners carried out about 25 new shelling attacks on military bases and towns in South Vietnam Friday night and early today, military spokesmen said. Damage and casualties were described as "light." Among the targets was the Mekong Delta province capital of Vinh Long which received a heavy barrage of Red rocket and mortar fire 15 hours earlier, killing 21 persons and wounding about 100. Spokesmen said in the latest attack Friday night, 34 rounds of mortar fire exploded around the town's police station, killing one civilian and wounding three others. Military spokesmen said American Marine artillery barrages Friday pounded Communist troops in the DMZ in the seventh "significant" incident in the buffer strip in nine days. They said 13 Communist soldiers were killed.

Ecuador Aircraft Hijacked

COLOMBIA — Three armed men hijacked an Ecuadorean Airlines D-C6 with 35 persons aboard in flight between Guayaquil and Quito Friday and ordered the pilot to take them to Cuba. The plane was permitted to land in Cali to refuel for the flight. The refueling took 34 minutes during which time the hijackers kept guns on crewmen aboard the plane while Colombian troops ringed the airport. It was the first hijacking since March 17 when two planes — one American and the other Peruvian — were hijacked to Cuba.

Russian Fleet Building

LONDON — The Russians are massing a major fleet of submarines and guided-missile destroyers in the Mediterranean and there is no indication the buildup is over, officials said Friday. Fourteen submarines and seven destroyers are either in the sea or approaching it as part of a Soviet fleet already numbering 40 ships, the officials said. Most of the vessels are armed with guided missiles, London officials said.

Italian Cities Embattled

ROME — Young demonstrators stormed through the streets of Rome, Milan and Florence Friday night, battling police with bricks and clubs and overturning cars. The violence erupted after rallies called by the Communist Party to show sympathy for rebels in the town of Battipaglia, where two persons were killed and 123 injured in rioting Wednesday. Workers across Italy struck for several hours Friday to support the Battipaglia rebels.

200 Anguillians Attack

ANGUILLA — British Royal Marines and paratroopers with fixed bayonets surrounded the home of British commissioner Anthony Lee Friday after it was besieged by a mob of 200 Anguillans who beat and kicked a Scotland for the fist time with the mobs land for the first time with the mobs break coincided with the arrival of British trouble-shooter Lord Caradon. British forces were placed on full alert as antiwhite sentiment surfaced on the isshouting such slogans as "Whites are no good!"

Sino-Soviet Talks Urged

MOSCOW Saturday—The Soviet Union Friday urged Communist China to hold early negotiations on their border dispute, the news agency Tass reported today. The agency said a note was handed to the Chinese Communist embassy here "expressing readiness" to open the talks in Moscow on Tuesday or "at any other early date convenient to Peking.

New Draft Proposal to Reverse Order

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has received for study a Pentagon proposal for a lottery-type draft under which the youngest eligible men would be called up first, informed sources said Friday. The plan is understood to have the full backing of Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird. If Nixon approves it, he will send a message to Congress requesting amendment of the draft law. In the past, the House Armed Services Committee, which handles such legislation, has refused to go along with lottery draft schemes. Under present law, draft-eligible youths are called up in order of their dates of birth, with the oldest being tapped first and the youngest last. The new proposal would reverse that order. First to be called would be those in the youngest eligible age bracket, 19.

Litton Gets Divest Order

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission ordered Litton Industries, Inc., Friday to divest itself of a German typewriter manufacturer. The commission voted 4 to 1 to reject Litton's plea for extended negotiations leading to an out-of-court settlement of the antitrust case, in which the company claimed the State Department had interceded in its behalf. The FTC, on grounds Litton violated antitrust laws prohibiting mergers that reduce competition, ordered it to give up the Triumph-Adler typewriter firm it acquired last October for $51 million to bolster its Royal Typewriter division.

AF to Close Training Units

WASHINGTON — The Air Force announced Friday it will close Reserve Officer Training Corps units at eight universities and colleges over the next three years because they are not turning out enough officers. An Air Force spokesman attributed the low officer output of the eight schools to a lack of student interest and denied the Air Force is under pressure from antiwar groups or faculty members to leave the campuses. Among the institutions affected is Boston University which, the Air Force said, is not expected to be able to meet the 15-officer minimum outexpected to be able to meet the 15-offiput this year.

Nixon to Back ABM Stand

WASHINGTON — President Nixon will throw the prestige of his office into the burgeoning political fight over deploying the safeguard antiballistic missile system, the White House indicated Friday. Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told newsmen that Nixon intends to campaign actively in behalf of the $7 billion ABM program, which faces a stiff battle in Congress. Ziegler said he expected the President to speak out in the weeks ahead. He gave no details on the timing or strategy involved, whether Nixon would seek to persuade members of Congress or take his argument for the ABM directly to the people. Nixon is aware of the "various points of view" involved in the controversy, Ziegler said.

U.S. Visits Soviet Fleet

WASHINGTON — A six-man U.S. team visited a Soviet fishing fleet factory ship off the Middle Atlantic coast Friday for the first time, the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries disclosed. It said the purpose is "to achieve a better understanding of the Middle Atlantic Fisheries Agreement among all concerned." Sources conceded the "better understanding" was mainly the concern of U.S. fishing interests, long suspicious of the big Soviet fleet operating in international waters outside the U.S. 12-mile limit. A bureau spokesman said the Interior Department and the Coast Guard are satisfied that on the whole "the Soviets have scrupulously observed the agreement."

Airman First Class Patrick J. Nugent, son-in-law of former President Johnson, was mustered out of military service Friday after completing a year's tour of duty in Vietnam.

Nugent was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in Vietnam just before being returned to the U.S., April 2. His separation from active duty in the Air Force was completed at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Tex., the Air Force said Friday. The Air Force said Nugent was the only one of the four crew members involved to receive the DFC for a mission in which 55 troops were transported to Cantum Air Field in Vietnam last Jan. 2. Nugent was "load master" aboard the plane. His citation said "although this field was subjected to mortar attack, he demonstrated superior knowledge of his crew duties and calmness under fire to accomplish this delivery without sustaining battle damage or crew injury." The Air Force said other members of the crew may be similarly honored when they complete their tours. A spokesman said Nugent had an outstanding record, which included 1,023 flights and 797 hours in the air within the combat zones.

Reddin Denies Yorty's 'Police Exodus' Charge

Combined News Service

Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty said Friday he hoped Police Chief Tom Reddin would speak up "loud and clear" when he becomes a television newscaster on May 6.

Reddin didn't wait for his first day of work at KTLA (Channel 5) to speak out, using Friday appearance before the City Council finance committee to squelch the mayor's claim that a mass exodus of policemen would result if Councilman Thomas Bradley defeats Yorty on May 27.

Reddin told the finance committee that there will probably be fewer retirements from the police department In th next fiscal year than have been experienced during the current one. The department is anticipating about 40 separations per month in the year ahead, down from the "more than 50 per month this year," Reddin said.

In other actions involving the heated Los Angeles mayoralty race Friday:

— Bradley challenged Yorty to a series of community debates in different sections of the city to "discuss the issues directly with the people."

— Yorty accepted an invitation to debate Bradley, but in a different manner. The mayor gave approval to a jointly-operated debate to be aired over radio station KGFJ and educational television station KCET (Channel 28) at a date to be determined by the participants.

— City Councilman Billy Mills chastized fellow Councilman Louis R. Nowell for the latter's endorsement of Yorty in the contest with Bradley. "I sense a wild, lashing, cutting nastiness that can do irreparable damage to this pueblo," said Mills.

— Nowell responded by calling a press conference for Monday at which time, he said, a group of councilmen will reveal the "facts" about some of the "loose political charges" being made about the city's police department.

Yorty's request for Reddin to speak out when he assumes his newscaster-commentator role on KTLA came during a news conference when he again lashed Bradley, a 21-year veteran of the LAPD, for being "antipolice."

The mayor said that if Bradley is elected "it will be necessary for him to select a chief acceptable to the left wing militants and such groups as the new Democratic coalition in which he serves as a member of the steering committee." And Yorty charged that Bradley and his group are a serious threat to professional law enforcement in Los Angeles."

* * * *

BRADLEY'S request for community debates with Yorty came during a press conference in the Greater Los Angeles Press Club. Laughlin Waters, former U.S. attorney for the Southern California area, said he and five other negotiators for Bradley were "just beginning" negotiations on television debates with Yorty's office and denied earlier reports that the talks were "deadlocked."

Bradley, discussing the Reddin resignation, said he was willing to "take the word of Chief Reddin" that there were no political motivations in his announcement he would leave the force May 5.

And Bradley again denied the claim that he favored police review boards for the Southland. "I have constantly been opposed to police review boards. I have never supported the idea," he said.

* * * *

REDDIN'S appearance before the council's finance committee was in support of police funds in the $461.5 million Los Angeles city budget. The police are budgeted for more than $92 million.

Yorty had said that nearly 1,400 Los Angeles policemen are now eligible to retire and predicted Reddin's resignation, coupled with a Bradley victory at the polls, could trigger a mass exodus of officers.

Reddin countered the Yorty statement, however, and told the committee the police "can live with this budget."

AT CONVENTION

Bridges is Voted $1,500 Pay Hike

By CHARLES SUTTON
Staff Writer

Four hundred delegates to the 18th biennial convention of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union shoved aside the objections of their president, Harry Bridges, Friday, and voted him a $1,500 pay raise to $21,000 a year.

Bridges didn't reject the salary hike, but — in a sometimes tumultuous debate — insisted the issue be put to a vote of the membership.

After 45 minutes of wrangling on the convention floor of Los Angeles' International Hotel, the delegates shouted down the 67-year-old union leader and rejected his motion to place the salary hike on a forthcoming election ballot.

* * * *

"HARRY'S WAGES are a disgrace when you compare them with the wages of other international union leaders," cried Joe Ibarra, vice president of Wilmington Local 26. His comments reflected the convention's overwhelming opinion.

Bridges, is perhaps the lowest-paid major union leader in the country. His new salary of $21,000 still won't match the wages of many ILWU supervisory clerks and walking bosses, who make $23,000 a year.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, makes $30,000 a year. But Joe Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, draws $80,000 plus an unlimited expense account and a chauffered car. Bridges has no expense account.

The delegates, who have been meeting in Los Angeles since Monday, also raised the salary of the union's vice president and secretary-treasurer to $20,000 from $17,500.

* * * *

BY MAKING official salaries a matter of direct rank and file concern, Bridges indicated the ILWU was telling prospective union members the kind of union they'd be joining.

"This can be a potent organizing weapon," Bridges said.

In a special resolution passed earlier in the day and introduced by John J. Royal, secretary-treasurer of Fishermen's Local 13 of the ILWU, the union threatened to boycott the ships and cargo of countries presently "harassing" U.S. tuna boats on the "high seas."

The resolution was aimed at Ecuador, Chile and Peru, which have seized or fired upon American fishing vessels on the ground the boats were violating their territorial waters.

Criminal Action for Oil Firms

Three oil companies and the Federal government were warned Friday they face criminal charges of creating a public nuisance if they continue drilling operations in the Santa Barbara Channel.

Santa Barbara County Dist. Atty. David D. Minier officially served notice on Union Oil Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., and Humble Oil Co., that their drilling is a public nuisance in violation of state law.

If the drilling does not stop "immediately and permanently," Minier said, he intends to file new criminal charges daily. Each day the drilling continued would constitute a separate offense, the district attorney said.

"I have assumed jurisdiction because the oil operations affect state waters and city and county beaches" even though the drilling rigs are located in Federal waters, Minier said. Similar warnings were sent to Federal officials.

SECRETARY of the Interior Walter Hickel ordered all drilling in the Santa Barbara Channel halted after Jan. 20 blowout at Union Oil Co.'s Platform A six miles offf Santa Barbara. Union later was permitted to resume drilling to relieve pressure and is currently is producing 3,000 barrels a day from Platform A.

Phillips, Humble and Mobil were allowed to resume drilling, but Mobil has not put its rigs into operation again.

Phillips is drilling from platforms off Carpinteria and producing from two dozen wells, Minier said.

Humble is drilling from two floating rigs off nearby Gaviota and Tajiguas.

U.S. Tuna Boat Sinks; No Injuries

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego-based tunaboat American Enterprise sank about 1,400 miles south of the Mexican border Friday, the American Tunaboat Association said here.

The 13-man crew was taken from the sinking 366-ton vessel by another local tunaboat, the Seafarer. There were no injuries. August Felando, association general manager, said the cause of the sinking had not been determined.

The Seafarer was proceeding to Acapulco to take the sunken vessel's crew to land for return home, and was due in Acapulco Sunday, Felando said.

The American Enterprise was almost fully loaded, Felando said, with a catch valued at about $65,000.

Overdose Kills Polka Dot Girl

A young woman who may have been the mysterious girl in a polka dot dress sought in the Robert F. Kennedy assassination has died of a drug overdose, police said Friday.

Kathy Fullmer, 23, who worked as a go-go dancer under the name of Sundyi Rossi, checked into a motel in El Sereno Monday at 7:30 a.m., and left a call for 5:30 p.m.

When the motel management got no response to the 5:30 call, he opened the door and found Miss Fullmer in a coma, apparently from an overdose of seconal.

She died Tuesday at Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center.

Miss Fullmer was quesdered to police last June saying she believed she was the mysterious woman in a polka dot dress seen at the Ambassador Hotel the night Kennedy was shot.

Muss Fullmer was questioned and released after she said she was wearing a yellow polka dotted scarf, was standing in the crowd, and was not acquainted with the suspect, Sirhan B. Sirhan.

3 Compton Men Face Bank Charge

Three Compton robbery suspects today face federal prosecution after their arrest Friday following the $340-holdup of the Bank of America branch at 185 E. Compton Blvd., Compton.

Detective Robert K. Walker and another unidentified officer were in the area when a silent robbery alarm was tripped and arrested the men as they tried to flee.

Booked for investigation of robbery were Donald L. Foster, 19, of 1801 W. Reeves St.; Gregory A. Rising, 21, of 2736 W. Caldwell St.; Lorenzo Johnson, 23, of 1200 S. Clivenden St., all of Compton, and Walter T. Johnson, 23, of Los Angeles.

mits a crime make a meaningful and wise decision."

Although he slapped briefly, but viciously, at Cooper's argument that Sirhan couldn't meaningfully and maturely premeditate his crime, he also slapped at the defense's big gun — the seven psychologists and psychiatrists wo found the young Jordanian, to be "schizophrenic, paranoid type."

"All of those magnificent seven up there" he said pointing to the courtroom blackboard where Cooper had written the doctor's names and diagnoses, "all said Sirhan had no malice . . .

"Yet," Compton charged, sarcastically, "they still can't answer what should be a simple, fundamental question:

"Did Robert Frâncis Kennedy, a young, highly successful man at the peak of his career . . . a former attorney general of the United States . . . a senator from New York and a candidate for the presidency of the United States . . . did he breathe his last breath on the dirty floor of the pantry of the Ambassador Hotel with the mops and dirty dishes and leave a widow and 11 children because he favored the United States support for Israel, or because he became a substitute father figure in some Oedepus complex in Sirhan's mind." (Both premises were made by psychiatrists.)

"The answer to that is whether he is guilty of nothing or of first degree murder.

"If you believe Dr. Diamond (defense psychiatrist Dr. Bernard Diamond) and his mirror act . . . that the defendant was in a trance . . . that he didn't know if he was afoot or on horseback . . . it would be inhumane to find him (Sirhan) guilty of anything.

"If you believe those so-called experts you'd have to turn him loose . . . but if you don't buy it, like I don't, then there's only one thing left — plain, old first degree murder."

Although the chief defense counsel seemed to "bore" the jury towards the end of his four-hour long summation Friday they were attentive and interested during the first part.

He hit at police officers for not properly checking Sirhan for alcohol and cited conflicts in their stories, and he admitted "embarrassment" at the testimony of defense psychologist Dr. Martin Schorr of San Diego.

CALLING HIM "the little man in the green suit" — referring to a vivid business suit the psychologist wore during his testimony — Cooper said he was "the first to tell you I'm not satisfied with his testimony . . . I could have crawled under the table when I heard that he had copied someone else's words.

"But," Cooper added shaking his finger at the jury members, "he didn't crib his protocol — his tests.

"Notwithstanding the little man in the green suit made a faux pas that I would prefer did not happen, but his raw data is good."

His condemnation was however, almost as harsh for prosecution psychiatrist Dr. Seymour Pollack who he charged with "still retaining his self-respect, but going as far as he could . . . for the prosecution."

Reading much of Dr. Pollack's testimony, he dramatically and slowly read the part where the psychiatrist had said: "It is my opinion that more intensive professional exploration of this defendant would probably reveal more definite signs and symptoms of psychosis." Pollack recommended, Cooper reminded the jurors, that Sirhan be sent to Vacaville Mental Facility where he "could get medical attention."

* * * *

THEN COOPER took a different tack, and one that seemed to stir jurors.

"If the man killed was someone other than Robert Kennedy — if he was Joe Smith or Jose Gonzales or George Washington Brown — you wouldn't hesitate for one minute to return a verdict of second degree murder. I call upon you to do just that and do not allow the fact that this was a very popular United States senator who was a candidate for the United States presidency to prevent you from doing your duty as you said you would — and I feel confident you will.

"By finding him (Sirhan) guilty of first degree murder you will make him, what he thinks he is, a hero in the Arab world.

"By finding him guilty of second degree murder you will show that a mentally ill person killed a fine man."

COMPTON will continue his final arguments when court convenes Monday. The jury now is expected to get the case by Tuesday.

Reddin Denies Yorty's 'Police Exodus' Charge

Combined News Service

Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty said Friday he hoped Police Chief Tom Reddin would speak up "loud and clear" when he becomes a television newscaster on May 6.

Reddin didn't wait for his first day of work at KTLA (Channel 5) to speak out, using Friday appearance before the City Council finance committee to squelch the mayor's claim that a mass exodus of policemen would result if Councilman Thomas Bradley defeats Yorty on May 27.

Reddin told the finance committee that there will probably be fewer retirements from the police department in th next fiscal year than have been experienced during the current one. The department is anticipating about 40 separations per month in the year ahead, down from the "more than 50 per month this year," Reddin said.

In other actions involving the heated Los Angeles mayoralty race Friday:

—Bradley challenged Yorty to a series of community debates in different sections of the city to "discuss the issues directly with the people."

—Yorty accepted an invitation to debate Bradley, but in a different manner. The mayor gave approval to a jointly-operated debate to be aired over radio station KGFJ and educational television station KCET (Channel 28) at a date to be determined by the participants.

—City Councilman Billy Mills chastized fellow Councilman Louis R. Nowell for the latter's endorsement of Yorty in the contest with Bradley. "I sense a wild, lashing, cutting nastiness that can do irreparable damage to this pueblo," said Mills.

—Nowell responded by calling a press conference for Monday at which time, he said, a group of councilmen will reveal the "facts" about some of the "loose political charges" being made about the city's police department.

Yorty's request for Reddin to speak out when he assumes his newscaster-commentator role on KTLA came during a news conference when he again lashed Bradley, a 21-year veteran of the LAPD, for being "antipolice."

The mayor said that if Bradley is elected "it will be necessary for him to select a chief acceptable to the left wing militants and such groups as the new Democratic coalition in which he serves as a member of the steering committee." And Yorty charged that Bradley and his group are a serious threat to professional law enforcement in Los Angeles."

* * * *

BRADLEY'S request for community debates with Yorty came during a press conference in the Greater Los Angeles Press Club. Laughlin Waters, former U.S. attorney for the Southern California area, said he and five other negotiators for Bradley were "just beginning" negotiations on television debates with Yorty's office and denied earlier reports that the talks were "deadlocked."

Bradley, discussing the Reddin resignation, said he was willing to "take the word of Chief Reddin" that there were no political motivations in his announcement he would leave the force May 5.

And Bradley again denied the claim that he favored police review boards for the Southland. "I have constantly been opposed to police review boards. I have never supported the idea," he said.

* * * *

REDDIN'S appearance before the council's finance committee was in support of police funds in the $461.5 million Los Angeles city budget. The police are budgeted for more than $92 million.

Yorty had said that nearly 1,400 Los Angeles policemen are now eligible to retire and predicted Reddin's resignation, coupled with a Bradley victory at the polls, could trigger a mass exodus of officers.

Reddin countered the Yorty statement, however, and told the committee the police "can live with this budget."

AT CONVENTION

Bridges is Voted $1,500 Pay Hike

By CHARLES SUTTON
Staff Writer

Four hundred delegates to the 18th biennial convention of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union shoved aside the objections of their president, Harry Bridges, Friday, and voted him a $1,500 pay raise to $21,000 a year.

Bridges didn't reject the salary hike, but — in a sometimes tumultuous debate — insisted the issue be put to a vote of the membership.

After 45 minutes of wrangling on the convention floor of Los Angeles' International Hotel, the delegates shouted down the 67-year-old union leader and rejected his motion to place the salary hike on a forthcoming election ballot.

* * * *

"HARRY'S WAGES are a disgrace when you compare them with the wages of other international union leaders," cried Joe Ibarra, vice president of Wilmington Local 26. His comments reflected the convention's overwhelming opinion.

Bridges, is perhaps the lowest-paid major union leader in the country. His new salary of $21,000 still won't match the wages of many ILWU supervisory clerks and walking bosses, who make $23,000 a year.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, makes $30,000 a year. But Joe Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, draws $80,000 plus an unlimited expense account and a chauffered car. Bridges has no expense account.

The delegates, who have been meeting in Los Angeles since Monday, also raised the salary of the union's vice president and secretary-treasurer to $20,000 from $17,500.

* * * *

BY MAKING official salaries a matter of direct rank and file concern, Bridges indicated the ILWU was telling prospective union members the kind of union they'd be joining.

"This can be a potent organizing weapon," Bridges said.

In a special resolution passed earlier in the day and introduced by John J. Royal, secretary-treasurer of Fishermen's Local 13 of the ILWU, the union threatened to boycott the ships and cargo of countries presently "harassing" U.S. tuna boats on the "high seas."

The resolution was aimed at Ecuador, Chile and Peru, which have seized or fired upon American fishing vessels on the ground the boats were violating their territorial waters.

Criminal Action for Oil Firms

Three oil companies and the Federal government were warned Friday they face criminal charges of creating a public nuisance if they continue drilling operations in the Santa Barbara Channel.

Santa Barbara County Dist. Atty. David D. Minier officially served notice on Union Oil Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., and Humble Oil Co., that their drilling is a public nuisance in violation of state law.

If the drilling does not stop "immediately and permanently," Minier said, he intends to file new criminal charges daily. Each day the drilling continued would constitute a separate offense, the district attorney said.

"I have assumed jurisdiction because the oil operations affect state waters and city and county beaches" even though the drilling rigs are located in Federal waters, Minier said. Similar warnings were sent to Federal officials.

SECRETARY of the Interior Walter Hickel ordered all drilling in the Santa Barbara Channel halted after Jan. 20 blowout at Union Oil Co.'s Platform A six miles offf Santa Barbara. President Issues 2nd Warning To Sit-ins at Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University sit-in demonstrators were warned Friday that they face disciplinary action unless they end their occupation of an electronics laboratory.

The sit-in started Wednesday night as a protest demanding that Stanford's trustees order classified military research ended on the campus and at Stanford Research Institute.

* * * *

IN HIS SECOND appeal, that students stop the sit-in, President Kenneth S. Pitzer asked the demonstrators to "join the faculty and me in working through peaceful channels to resolve the issues which so concern us all."

He then warned:

"Your failure to leave the building obligates me to initiate proceedings against your action through the Stanford Judicial Council.

"The longer the disruption of university activities continues, the more serious the case will become."

* * * *

ABOUT 400 protestors voted at a rally to continue the sit-in and demand that the trustees hold an open, decision-making meeting on the campus next Monday.

The laboratory occupation was continued with a force of about 100 inside the building.

Harvard Faculty Raps Both Sides

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The Harvard faculty Friday criticized both student demonstrators and the use of police against them. About half the students stayed away from class on the first day of a three-day strike at the nation's oldest university.

Meeting in the theater used for undergraduate drama productions because of the large turnout, the faculty voted 395-13 for a resolution rapping both sides.

The faculty, the resolution said, "deplores the forcible occupation of University Hall" on Wednesday but, "as members of a community committed to rationality and freedom, we also deplore the entry of police into any university."

"Responsibility for the events that followed falls, in the first instance, upon those who forcibly ousted the officers of the university at work there, and who insisted upon remaining long after they were requested to leave," the resolution said.

The faculty recommended that all criminal charges against Harvard students and faculty be dropped and said it would elect a committee to investigate the causes of the occupation, take charge of discipline in the case and consult with representatives of students and the other faculties "in order to recommend changes in the government of the university."

Harvard officials said at least 35 of the 184 arrested Thursday were not students. Harvard has about 15,000 students in all its schools, and about 5,000 undergraduates.

The occupiers of the building in historic Harvard Yard were demanding, among other things, the abolition of all ROTC programs on campus.

Guard Is 'Criminal' in Death

Pepperdine security guard Charles Lane was held responsible Friday for the shotgun death of 15-year-old Larry Donell Kimmons by a Los Angeles coroner's jury.

The inquest finding declared the death "was the result of a criminal act of the part of a known person." The person, the jury held, was Lane.

The jury of six men and four women deliberated 45 minutes, ending two days of testimony. Lane did not take the stand in his own defense.

* * * *

THE DISTRICT attorney did not issue a complaint against Lane, 60, pending a hearing for the security guard in Los Angeles Municipal Court on April 24. He is free on $6,250 bond.

The decision said death was caused "by a gunshot wound of the abdomen, inflicted by a gun in the hands of a known person in the vicinity of 8035 S. Vermont Ave."

Lane's attorney said he decided not to put his client on the stand. "In view of the evidence," said Ned R. Nelson, "I felt it was not in my client's interest for him to present his case at this time."

AIR ROUTES

nied a Johnson-approved great circle route to the orient from California — a route now served by Pan American World Airways.

And Pan American lost out on a bid to compete with Northwest over a great circle route from Washington and Oregon — a bid Johnson had favored.

Whereas the former president had OKd Continental to compete with Pan American on flights from California to the South Pacific, Nixon sent his question back to the CAB, saying the competing route should originate in the East and Midwest and bypass California.

White House sources said this did not automatically knock Continental out of contention, but that carrier has no East Coast terminals.

* * * *

JOHNSON ALSO had approved Continental for a new route between American Samoa and Okinawa. Nixon said service over this route should be postponed pending CAB action on a pending Pacific islands local service investigation.

Braniff lost a Johnson-approved authorization to fly to Hawaii via Mexico to carry stopover passengers. The Nixon administration was said to have found no economic justification for this.

"Otherwise," Nixon said in a letter to CAB chairman John H. Crooker Jr., "President Johnson's decision of last December is approved."

Left standing were Johnson decisions to grant Pan American a great circle route to Japan from New York-Newark, N.J.; Northwest to fly to Japan from California via the Central Pacific; Flying Tiger lines to operate an all-cargo service from the West Coast to Tokyo and other points in the Orient, and Trans World to fly between Hong Kong and Hawaii.

The Hong Kong-Hawaii award to TWA now permits that line, for the first time, to compete with Pan American for around-the-world traffic.

* * * *

SOURCES SAID that Nixon's advisers came up with estimates of transpacific traffic that ran 21 to 33 per cent below those used by the CAB in its initial consideration of the long-standing case.

Air carriers involved in the case still have the option of taking their arguments into the federal courts.

Nixon called on the CAB to "submit immediately for my approval" an order carrying out his decisions.

American Airlines, as was the case in the Johnson decision, again lost out on a proposal to fly beyond Hawaii to Tokyo. The Nixon ruling did not open Tokyo to any new U.S. passenger carrier.

Neither Continental nor Braniff had been recommended for routes in the earlier findings of CAB Examiner Robert L. Park.

PAN AMERICAN said in a statement issued in New York that "President Nixon has made a final decision in the Transpacific case under very difficult circumstances and Pan Am will vigorously carry out the responsibilities and opportunities he has given us."

Continental said "we are surprised at this rejection of CAB recommendations for Continental in the international phase of the investigation which would have provided the greatest benefits to the traveling public." The airline said it is studying "the matter as to our future course of action."

FAA Limit of Flights Challenged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A suit to prevent the Federal Aviation Administration from implementing a regulation that would limit flights at five of the nation's busiest airports was filed Friday in U.S. District Court.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association charged in its suit that the regulation, effective June 1, was illegal and would not "significantly relieve congestion."

The FAA announced the new regulation in December. It would limit flights at Chicago's O'Hare, Washington's Nation, J. F. Kennedy and Laguardia in New York and the Newark Airport.

FLOOD

Iowa, where the worst was over, other guardsmen went on duty in southwestern Minnesota.

The Mississippi River, inching steadily upward, forced some families from their homes in La Crosse and Prairie Du Chien, Wis. It was that state's first real harbinger of the troubles that lie ahead.

The weather bureau revised upward from 22 to 24.5 feet — close to the record 26-foot level of 1965 — its predicted flood crest for the Mississippi River at St. Paul, Minn.

Forecasters also set forward by two days the predicted date for that crest — April 18 instead of April 20 — and said it now appeared the crests of the Mississippi and Minnesota Rivers would both reach St. Paul at the same time.

Woman, 72, Dies of Crash Hurts

Lola Rahm, 72, of 5866 Gundry Ave., died in Memorial Hospital Friday of injuries sustained Thursday when she was struck by an auto while crossing South Street at Orange Avenue.

Driver of the car, Lionel Meeker, 49, of 3918 Cedar Ave., said he didn't see the woman while making a left turn to south-bound Orange from westbound South. He was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

NATO

Europe included guaranteed free access to West Berlin from the German Federal Republic and the removal of restrictions that now affect traffic and communications between East and West Germany.

Another criterion for a detente, mentioned by the communique, is the peaceful solution of the problem raised by a divided Germany based on the "free decision of the German people" and on European security interests.

The impact of President Nixon's participation in the two-day ministerial conference was evident in the communique.

Nixon addressed the ministers at a special session commemorating the signature of the North Atlantic Treaty here 20 years ago. Friday morning he participated in the first of the day's two sessions of the Ministerial Council.

At this session, and in his meeting with the North Atlantic Council in Brussels in February, Nixon took pains to discourage hopes that his proposed talks with Soviet leaders would lead to any immediate and general reduction of tension.

The communique, reflecting the Administration's fear of instant European euphoria, warned against "premature expectations of solutions to outstanding questions." Instead the emphasis was on maintaining a credible defense posture in Europe.

* * * *

THE ALLIANCE welcomed American proposals for discussion with the Soviet Union on limitations of offensive and defensive strategic weapons. In a gesture toward Nixon's insistence on the importance of consultation, the communique emphasized "strict adherence to the principle of full consultation in the council both before and during any negotiations" affecting the collective or individual interests of NATO members.

In a special statement issued after that ministerial meeting, the foreign ministers directed their permanent representatives at NATO to intensify their efforts to secure mutual force reductions in concert with the Communist bloc through negotiations.

Friday's communique noted, perhaps refully, that any lasting improvement in East-West relations pre-supposes full respect for the independence and territorial integrity of states, something the Soviet Union violated in Czechoslovakia.

Australians Young

CANBERRA (UPI) — Nearly half of Australia's population is under 25, the government reported Friday. Figures put the total population at 12,030,800 and said males outnumbered females by 88,000.

President Issues 2nd Warning To Sit-ins at Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University sit-in demonstrators were warned Friday that they face disciplinary action unless they end their occupation of an electronics laboratory.

The sit-in started Wednesday night as a protest demanding that Stanford's trustees order classified military research ended on the campus and at Stanford Research Institute.

* * * *

IN HIS SECOND appeal, that students stop the sit-in, President Kenneth S. Pitzer asked the demonstrators to "join the faculty and me in working through peaceful channels to resolve the issues which so concern us all."

He then warned:

"Your failure to leave the building obligates me to initiate proceedings against your action through the Stanford Judicial Council.

"The longer the disruption of university activities continues, the more serious the case will become."

* * * *

ABOUT 400 protestors voted at a rally to continue the sit-in and demand that the trustees hold an open, decision-making meeting on the campus next Monday.

The laboratory occupation was continued with a force of about 100 inside the building.

Stanford's total enrollment is about 12,000.

Harvard Faculty Raps Both Sides

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The Harvard faculty Friday criticized both student demonstrators and the use of police against them. About half the students stayed away from class on the first day of a three-day strike at the nation's oldest university.

Meeting in the theater used for undergraduate drama productions because of the large turnout, the faculty voted 395-13 for a resolution rapping both sides.

The faculty, the resolution said, "deplores the forcible occupation of University Hall" on Wednesday but, "as members of a community committed to rationality and freedom, we also deplore the entry of police into any university."

"Responsibility for the events that followed falls, in the first instance, upon those who forcibly ousted the officers of the university at work there, and who insisted upon remaining long after they were requested to leave," the resolution said.

The faculty recommended that all criminal charges against Harvard students and faculty be dropped and said it would elect a committee to investigate the causes of the occupation, take charge of discipline in the case and consult with representatives of students and the other faculties "in order to recommend changes in the government of the university."

Harvard officials said at least 35 of the 184 arrested Thursday were not students. Harvard has about 15,000 students in all its schools, and about 5,000 undergraduates.

The occupiers of the building in historic Harvard Yard were demanding, among other things, the abolition of all ROTC programs on campus.

Guard Is 'Criminal' in Death

Pepperdine security guard Charles Lane was held responsible Friday for the shotgun death of 15-year-old Larry Donell Kimmons by a Los Angeles coroner's jury.

The inquest finding declared the death "was the result of a criminat act of the part of a known person." The person, the jury held, was Lane.

The jury of six men and four women deliberated 45 minutes, ending two days of testimony. Lane did not take the stand in his own defense.

* * * *

THE DISTRICT attorney did not issue a complaint against Lane, 60, pending a hearing for the security guard in Los Angeles Municipal Court on April 24. He is free on $6,250 bond.

The decision said death was caused "by a gunshot wound of the abdomen, inflicted by a gun in the hands of a known person in the vicinity of 8035 S. Vermont Ave."

Lane's attorney said he decided not to put his client on the stand. "In view of the evidence," said Ned R. Nelson, "I felt it was not in my client's interest for him to present his case at this time."

AIR ROUTES

nied a Johnson-approved great circle route to the orient from California — a route now served by Pan American World Airways.

And Pan American lost out on a bid to compete with Northwest over a great circle route from Washington and Oregon — a bid Johnson had favored.

Whereas the former president had OKd Continutal to compete with Pan American on flights from California to the South Pacific, Nixon sent his question back to the CAB, saying the competing route should originate in the East and Midwest and bypass California.

White House sources said this did not automatically knock Continental out of contention, but that carrier has no East Coast terminals.

* * * *

JOHNSON ALSO had approved Continental for a new route between American Samoa and Okinawa. Nixon said service over this route should be postponed pending CAB action on a pending Pacific islands local service investigation.

Braniff lost a Johnson-approved authorization to fly to Hawaii via Mexico to carry stopover passengers. The Nixon administration was said to have found no economic justification for this.

"Otherwise," Nixon said in a letter to CAB chairman John H. Crooker Jr., "President Johnson's decision of last December is approved."

Left standing were Johnson decisions to grant Pan American a great circle route to Japan from New York-Newark, N.J.; Northwest to fly to Japan from California via the Central Pacific; Flying Tiger lines to operate an all-cargo service from the West Coast to Tokyo and other points in the Orient, and Trans World to fly between Hong Kong and Hawaii.

The Hong Kong-Hawaii award to TWA now permits that line, for the first time, to compete with Pan American for around-the-world traffic.

* * * *

SOURCES SAID that Nixon's advisers came up with estimates of transpacific traffic that ran 21 to 33 per cent below those used by the CAB in its initial consideration of the long-standing case.

Air carriers involved in the case still have the option of taking their arguments into the federal courts.

Nixon called on the CAB to "submit immediately for my approval" an order carrying out his decisions.

American Airlines, as was the case in the Johnson decision, again lost out on a proposal to fly beyond Hawaii to Tokyo. The Nixon ruling did not open Tokyo to any new U.S. passenger carrier.

Neither Continental nor Braniff had been recommended for routes in the earlier findings of CAB Examiner Robert L. Park.

PAN AMERICAN said in a statement issued in New York that "President Nixon has made a final decision in the Transpacific case under very difficult circumstances and Pan Am will vigorously carry out the responsibilities and opportunities he has given us."

Continental said "we are surprised at this rejection of CAB recommendations for Continental in the international phase of the investigation which would have provided the greatest benefits to the traveling public." The airline said it is studying "the matter as to our future course of action."

FAA Limit of Flights Challenged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A suit to prevent the Federal Aviation Administration from implementing a regulation that would limit flights at five of the nation's busiest airports was filed Friday in U.S. District Court.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association charged in its suit that the regulation, effective June 1, was illegal and would not "significantly relieve congestion."

The FAA announced the new regulation in December. It would limit flights at Chicago's O'Hare, Washington's Nation, J. F. Kennedy and Laguardia in New York and the Newark Airport.

Iowa, where the worst was over, other guardsmen went on duty in southwestern Minnesota.

The Mississippi River, inching steadily upward, forced some families from their homes in La Crosse and Prairie Du Chien, Wis. It was that state's first real harbinger of the troubles that lie ahead.

The weather bureau revised upward from 22 to 24.5 feet — close to the record 26-foot level of 1965 — its predicted flood crest for the Mississippi River at St. Paul, Minn.

Forecasters also set forward by two days the predicted date for that crest — April 18 instead of April 20 — and said it now appeared the crests of the Mississippi and Minnesota Rivers would both reach St. Paul at the same time.

Woman, 72, Dies of Crash Hurts

Lola Rahm, 72, of 5866 Gundry Ave., died in Memorial Hospital Friday of injuries sustained Thursday when she was struck by an auto while crossing South Street at Orange Avenue.

Driver of the car, Lionel Mecker, 49, of 3918 Cedar Ave., said he didn't see the woman while making a left turn to south-bound Orange from westbound South. He was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Europe included guaranteed free access to West Berlin from the German Federal Republic and the removal of restrictions that now affect traffic and communications between East and West Germany.

Another criterion for a detente, mentioned by the communique, is the peaceful solution of the problem raised by a divided Germany based on the "free decision of the German people" and on European security interests.

The impact of President Nixon's participation in the two-day ministerial conference was evident in the communique.

Nixon addressed the ministers at a special session commemorating the signature of the North Atlantic Treaty here 20 years ago. Friday morning he participated in the first of the day's two sessions of the Ministerial Council.

At this session, and in his meeting with the North Atlantic Council in Brussels in February, Nixon took pains to discourage hopes that his proposed talks with Soviet leaders would lead to any immediate and general reduction of tension.

The communique, reflecting the Administration's fear of instant European euphoria, warned against "premature expectations of solutions to outstanding questions." Instead the emphasis was on maintaining a credible defense posture in Europe.

* * * *

THE ALLIANCE welcomed American proposals for discussion with the Soviet Union on limitations of offensive and defensive strategic weapons. In a gesture toward Nixon's insistence on the importance of consultation, the communique emphasized "strict adherence to the principle of full consultation in the council both before and during any negotiations" affecting the collective or individual interests of NATO members.

In a special statement issued after that ministerial meeting, the foreign ministers directed their permanent representatives at NATO to intensify their efforts to secure mutual force reductions in concert with the Communist bloc through negotiations.

Friday's communique noted, perhaps refully, that any lasting improvement in East-West relations pre-supposes full respect for the independence and territorial integrity of states, something the Soviet Union violated in Czechoslovakia.

Ray Claims Lawyers Sought Movie Rights

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — James Earl Ray charged Friday he was "pressured" into pleading guilty to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to protect the story and movie rights to his life — rights which might be "worth millions."

In an apparent attempt to set the stage for a new trial, Ray filed a petition in federal court contending he could have done just as well with a student "fresh out of law school" and asked the court to void his contracts with famed trial lawyer Percy Foreman and author William Bradford Huie.

Ray contended that Foreman "never intended for him to have a fair trial and testify in his own behalf as this would then make the facts and testimony public property and no one would or could have exclusive (story) rights in the matter."

* * * *

HUIE WROTE several magazine articles on Ray after purchasing the rights to his life story, and Ray used the money to hire attorneys to defend himself in the case.

In the petition filed Friday by one of his new attorneys, Robert Hill of Chattanooga, Ray contended that he was not aware at the time he traded a guilty plea for a 99-year sentence that there had not been an execution in Tennessee's electric chair for nine years. He now claims he is innocent and wants a new trial.

* * * *

RAY ASKED the court to enjoin Foreman and Huie from disclosing any additional "alleged facts" linking Ray with the slaying of King in Memphis April 4, 1968, and also to void his contracts with another of his previous lawyers, former Birmingham mayor Arthur Hanes Sr.

When Hanes, Ray's first lawyer, was dismissed by Ray, the petition said, Ray signed a new contract with Foreman giving Foreman all rights previously held by Hanes, as well as new rights covering such things as movies that might be made of Ray's life.

"The petition charged that Foreman "advised, then cajoled, then pressured" Ray into entering a guilty plea.

"Among other things, Foreman told him this course was the only way to save petitioner's life — all of this in spite of the fact that petitioner (Ray) had at all times protested his innocence to Mr. Foreman," the petition said.

* * * *

IN A SEPARATE request Friday, Hill asked U.S. District Court Judge William E. Miller to make arrangements for him to confer with Ray in the maximum security building at the Tennessee State Penitentiary.

Miller granted the request and ordered state prison officials to permit the visit, although only a short time before state corrections commissioner Harry Avery rejected the idea.

Hill talked with Ray for nearly two hours and said Ray was discouraged about the prospect of 99 years alone in his own cell in prison — "that's not much different than the electric chair" — but added that Ray "seemed to show a great deal of hope" about getting a new trial.

NEW PROGRAM

Job Corpsmen Training Assured

By ERNIE HERNANDEZ
From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Asserting the government shouldn't "spend good money after bad," Labor Secretary George P. Shultz Friday announced scrapping of 59 of the nation's 106 Job Corps centers.

The 59, which represent an investment of $65 million, should be closed by July 1, said Shultz. However, close-out might take a little longer, and he stressed "none will be denied training because of the closings."

The close-out is part of a plan, approved by President Nixon, to integrate the five-year old Job Corps of the Office of Economic Opportunity into Labor Department's Comprehensive Manpower Program.

Shultz said there will be a shift in training emphasis from conservation work to industrial occupations and job placement. To accomplish this, he announced the eventual establishment of 30 in-city or near-city training centers. As in the Job Corps, trainees reside in some of these centers.

* * * *

THE 59 INCLUDE two large men's centers, seven women's centers and 50 conservation camps. Shultz was unable to say how much it would cost to close them, but said he's considering how best to dispose or put to other use the equipment so far invested in them.

The labor secretary said the centers essentially were failures in that they were too costly, they were unable to keep enrollees in the program, they didn't adequately improve trainee's reading and mathematic skills, and most important, they didn't result in jobs.

He pointed to a profile of corpsmen in residence and noted that only 28 per cent came from metropolitan areas. This suggested to him, he said, that training should be moved to the "in-city, ghetto" areas where the need is greatest.

Shultz said three out of 10 enrollees drop out between sign-up and arrival at camp. Of those who stay, 38 per cent drop out within 90 days, he noted.

* * * *

"THE NOTION of long-distance hauling has something to do with the dropouts," he said. "Also job placements are more difficult."

Shultz made it clear that he didn't — and wouldn't submit to congressional pressures in the decision to close the 59 centers.

Earlier news accounts set the number of center closings from 57 to 63, but until Shultz' press conference, the only Labor Department statement was that those accounts were "inaccurate."

Shultz said the integration of Job Corps with the Manpower Program and establishment of 30 new centers will result in a program cost in fiscal year 1970 of $180 million — $100 million less than projected by President Johnson.

* * * *

In Nixon's budget for fiscal year 1970, there are provision for 1,265,000 "training opportunities," said Shultz — compared to 1,163,000 in the Johnson budget.

Nine State Centers to Be Closed

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Eight of the nine California Job Corps centers will be closed, as the result of the new manpower plan announced by Labor Secretary George P. Shultz Friday.

The eight had 2,327 trainees in residence, as of Jan. 31. Shultz said none will be denied training as the result of the closings.

The only center to remain open is the women's Job Corps center at Los Angeles. It is run by the YWCA of Los Angeles and had an enrollment of 331 as of last January.

Capital investment in it amounted to $2.3 million.

Largest camp to be closed is the Parks Center for men with 1,354 enrollment and a capital investment of $3.9 million. Fiscal year 1968 expenses amounted to $15 million.

Contractor for the camp is Litton Systems Inc.

All Job Corps conservation centers in the state, with a total enrollment of 973, capital investment of $7.1 million and 1968 expenses of $7.5 million will be closed.

GOP State Job to Ex-Newsman

Former newsman Al Donner Friday was appointed public information officer for the Republican State Central Committee of California. The committee met in Newport Beach.

Donner was managing editor of the Fairfield Daily Republic in Solano County before joining the committee, the official structure of the GOP in California.

He previously covered a city hall and political beat for the newspaper, and worked as a reporter for the Rochester (N.Y.), Democrat and Chronicle.

INCOME TAX RETURNS TO REACH MILLION-A-DAY PEAK
Workers Detach Checks in the Internal Revenue Service center at Philadelphia

IS THE BITE RIGHT?

IRS Warns Taxpayers: Haste Causes Mistakes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This weekend about eight million Americans will engage in one of the traditional rites of spring — trying to beat the April 15 deadline for filing income tax returns.

The U.S. Internal revenue Service (IRS) warns this last-minute rush results in delayed refunds and sometimes costly mistakes in figuring out taxes owed. The task is complicated further this year by the need to figure out what the new 10 per cent tax surcharge will cost.

IRS officials say that despite warnings and pleas to file early, April 1 brought the customary flood of returns. The heaviest per day load is still to come.

In 1968 nearly half of the 83.5 million returns filed arrived at IRS offices around the nation between April 1-15.

* * * *

SO FAR, the trend for 1969 is right in line with previous years, the IRS said. As of April 4, about 45 million returns had been filed. Of these, 27.5 million will get refunds totaling $5.4 billion.

At the same point in 1968 there were 29.6 million returns filed with $5.3 billion due in refunds.

For those still sweating out the chore of paying Uncle Sam his share for last year, the IRS cautions tax filers to use extra care in their calculations as the hour of midnight, April 15 draws near.

The most common errors in making out a tax form are either mathematical or just plain omitting an item altogether.

IRS spokesmen said nearly 6 per cent of the tax forms filed had a mistake in adding or sugtracting.

* * * *

MORE THAN eight million taxpayers forgot to include their Social Security number.

About five million forgot to sign their returns. Another group forgot to attach the proper forms from their employers on taxes already withheld.

More than 6 million left off a special schedule or statement which they needed to complete their return, the IRS said.

If a taxpayer files his return and then realizes he has made a mistake, the IRS has a special form called 1040-X available for corrections.

Kennedy Lauds Alaskan GOP Team: Slaps Others

BARROW, Alaska (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., heaped praise Friday on two Alaska Republicans who remained on a tour of Eskimo villages after three GOP senators pulled out, charging the trip was a "publicity stunt."

After touring this northernmost U.S. community by bus, the party went to a town hall meeting to discuss education and other problems affecting Alaska natives.

Kennedy, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Indian education, told 250 persons who crowded into the meeting hall Rep. Howard Pollock and Sen. Ted Stevens, both R-Alaska, were "two friends who need no introduction."

* * * *

"THEY HAVE been extremely kind, generous and helpful to us on this visit," he said.

Neither Stevens nor Pollock are members of the subcommittee, but they helped make arrangements for the 3,000-mile tour.

Both remained with Kennedy after the departure of Republican subcommittee members Sens. George Murphy, Calif., Henry Bellmon, Okla., and William Saxbe, Ohio.

Murphy and Bellmon left Thursday after branding the trip "a publicity stunt paid for at taxpayers' expense." Saxbe said Friday he left because the tour was "a humiliating indignity to the Eskimo."

He said he had "no reason to believe the trip was a rigged campaign activity" or publicity stunt as charged by the other two senators.

Kennedy emphatically denied the charge and said their decision to leave "is regrettable in a matter of such import and significance."

Also remaining with Kennedy was Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn.

Turkish Air Crash

ANKARA (AP) — A Turkish army helicopter crashed near Ankara Friday, killing eight noncommissioned officers on a training mission, army sources reported.

SURVEY FINDING

Malnutrition Hits Rich, Poor Alike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's top nutrition expert said Friday that all segments of the American population, rich and poor, suffer from malnutrition and dental problems and that half the nation's women are too fat.

Dr. Arnold E. Schaefer, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's nutrition program, said many affluent families are ignorant of their food needs and choose foods simply because they are easy to prepare. These habits lead to anemia, obesity and dental difficulties, he said.

Schaefer has testified for the past two days before the Food and Drug Administration's nearly year-long hearings on advertising and labeling of vitamins and minerals.

He is directing a national nutrition survey involving interviews with families with incomes between $1,900 to $42,000 a year.

"Irrespective of income levels, we are finding obesity in 50 per cent of our adult women," Schaefer said. He said starchy diets is the principal cause of overweight women in poor families.

Other nutritional problems include:

—Severe dental decay in all segments of the population;

—Iron and vitamin C deficiency in a "considerable percentage" of children up to 3 years of age;

—Lack of vitamins A and C in adolescents and older persons.

Schaefer testified there had been little change in the incidence of anemia in recent years. Anemia results in fatigue, listlessness and inability to achieve sharp physical and mental performance.

Man Hurt in Campus Bombing

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A home-made time bomb exploded in the arms of a maintenance man early Friday, critically injuring him and damaging the faculty club at the University of California campus.

Dovar O. Sharp, 55, who lived at the club, suffered burns over 80 per cent of his body, a fractured right leg, multiple fractures of the left hand and severe injury to the left eye. He spent most of the day in surgery.

University officials said the bomb was inclosed in a cardboard box and went off as Sharp picked it up. They said it consisted of a half-gallon wine jug filled with a volatile liquid, a pipe packed with explosives, a timing device and a battery.

Damage to the faculty club was estimated at about $1,000. Four large glass sliding doors in the patio were smashed and the walls were charred.

Suicide Attempt Causes Explosion

FREMONT (UPI) — A predawn explosion which ripped a small home apart, killing its lone occupant and injuring a neighbor child, was caused by the victim's attempt to kill himself, Police Chief Earl McDaris said Friday.

He said Leslie Worcester, 62, tried to asphyxiate himself by disconnecting the main gas pipe to his kitchen stove and filling the two-bedroom stucco house with fumes.

OLD COALITIONS THREATENED

State Dems Debate Shakeup

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

SACRAMENTO — A mixed ideological bag of Democrats will debate here this weekend whether to abandon the party's old coalitions and embrace a "new coalition of people interested in improving the quality of life."

G. W. (Joe) Holsinger, Northern California Democratic chairman, told newsmen the crucial issue of the party's conference here on reform and reorganization is that debate.

The old coalition was comprised of political blocs based on economic issues. In the new coalition, he said, are the McCarthy-Kennedy people, the idealistic students.

Out of the debate, or "think tank" as Holsinger termed it, Democrats hope to map an action program that will win elections. "If the election were held today," he said, "the party in its present condition could not be very helpful to its candidates regardless of their merits. The issue at hand is not who will run next year but whether the party's structure can elect anyone."

The major prospective candidates will be on hand here. First among them, even eclipsing the "household word" names such as Assembly Minority Leader Jess Unruh and San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, is acting San Francisco State College President Dr. S. I. Hayakawa.

Although Hayakawa has heard of the statewide poll which revealed he could beat almost anyone on the 1970 political horizon in California, he said he has not given any thought to running for public office.

However, an insider here who has talked with Hayakawa said the colorful educator is seriously considering making a bid for either U.S. senator or governor. The source said he would run as a Democrat, even though his current popularity as a strong hand against campus disruption was nurtured under the strong approbation of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan.

IN A SEPARATE request Friday, Hill asked U.S. District Court Judge William E. Miller to make arrangements for him to confer with Ray in the maximum security building at the Tennessee State Penitentiary.

Miller granted the request and ordered state prison officials to permit the visit, although only a short time before state corrections commissioner Harry Avery rejected the idea.

Hill talked with Ray for nearly two hours and said Ray was discouraged about the prospect of 99 years alone in his own cell in prison — "that's not much different than the electric chair" — but added that Ray "seemed to show a great deal of hope" about getting a new trial.

NEW PROGRAM

Job Corpsmen Training Assured

By ERNIE HERNANDEZ
From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Asserting the government shouldn't "spend good money after bad," Labor Secretary George P. Shultz Friday announced scrapping of 59 of the nation's 106 Job Corps centers.

The 59, which represent an investment of $65 million, should be closed by July 1, said Shultz. However, close-out might take a little longer, and he stressed "none will be denied training because of the closings."

The close-out is part of a plan, approved by President Nixon, to integrate the five-year old Job Corps of the Office of Economic Opportunity into Labor Department's Comprehensive Manpower Program.

Shultz said there will be a shift in training emphasis from conservation work to industrial occupations and job placement. To accomplish this, he announced the eventual establishment of 30 in-city or near-city training centers. As in the Job Corps, trainees reside in some of these centers.

* * * *

THE 59 INCLUDE two large men's centers, seven women's centers and 50 conservation camps. Shultz was unable to say how much it would cost to close them, but said he's considering how best to dispose or put to other use the equipment so far invested in them.

The labor secretary said the centers essentially were failures in that they were too costly, they were unable to keep enrollees in the program, they didn't adequately improve trainee's reading and mathematic skills, and most important, they didn't result in jobs.

He pointed to a profile of corpsmen in residence and noted that only 28 per cent came from metropolitan areas. This suggested to him, he said, that training should be moved to the "in-city, ghetto" areas where the need is greatest.

Shultz said three out of 10 enrollees drop out between sign-up and arrival at camp. Of those who stay, 38 per cent drop out within 90 days, he noted.

* * * *

"THE NOTION of long-distance hauling has something to do with the dropouts," he said. "Also job placements are more difficult."

Shultz made it clear that he didn't — and wouldn't submit to congressional pressures in the decision to close the 59 centers.

Earlier news accounts set the number of center closings from 57 to 63, but until Shultz' press conference, the only Labor Department statement was that those accounts were "inaccurate."

Shultz said the integration of Job Corps with the Manpower Program and establishment of 30 new centers will result in a program cost in fiscal year 1970 of $180 million — $100 million less than projected by President Johnson.

* * * *

In Nixon's budget for fiscal year 1970, there are provision for 1,265,000 "training opportunities," said Shultz — compared to 1,163,000 in the Johnson budget.

Nine State Centers to Be Closed

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Eight of the nine California Job Corps centers will be closed, as the result of the new manpower plan announced by Labor Secretary George P. Shultz Friday.

The eight had 2,327 trainees in residence, as of Jan. 31. Shultz said none will be denied training as the result of the closings.

The only center to remain open is the women's Job Corps center at Los Angeles. It is run by the YWCA of Los Angeles and had an enrollment of 331 as of last January.

Capital investment in it amounted to $2.3 million.

Largest camp to be closed is the Parks Center for men with 1,354 enrollment and a capital investment of $3.9 million. Fiscal year 1968 expenses amounted to $15 million.

Contractor for the camp is Litton Systems Inc.

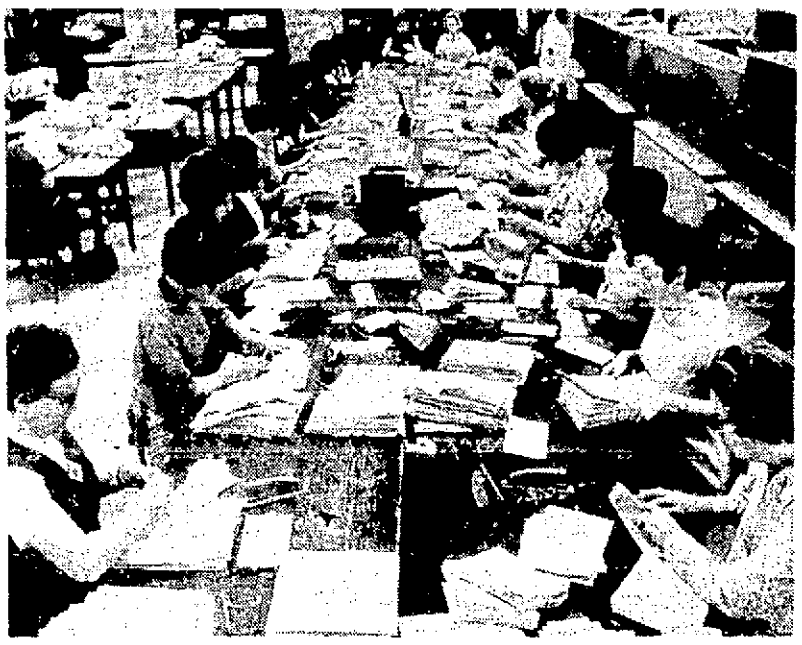
All Job Corps conservation centers in the state, with a total enrollment of 973, capital investment of $7.1 million and 1968 expenses of $7.5 million will be closed.

GOP State Job to Ex-Newsman

Former newsman Al Donner Friday was appointed public information officer for the Republican State Central Committee of California. The committee met in Newport Beach.

Donner was managing editor of the Fairfield Daily Republic in Solano County before joining the committee, the official structure of the GOP in California.

He previously covered a city hall and political beat for the newspaper, and worked as a reporter for the Rochester (N.Y.), Democrat and Chronicle.



INCOME TAX RETURNS TO REACH MILLION-A-DAY PEAK
Workers Detach Checks in the Internal Revenue Service center at Philadelphia

IS THE BITE RIGHT?

IRS Warns Taxpayers: Haste Causes Mistakes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This weekend about eight million Americans will angage in one of the traditional rites of spring -- trying to beat the April 15 deadline for filing income tax returns.

The U.S. Internal revenue Service (IRS) warns this last-minute rush results in delayed refunds and sometimes costly mistakes in figuring out taxes owed. The task is complicated further this year by the need to figure out what the new 10 per cent tax surcharge will cost.

IRS officials say that despite warnings and pleas to file early, April 1 brought the customary flood of returns. The heaviest per day load is still to come.

In 1968 nearly half of the 83.5 million returns filed arrived at IRS offices around the nation between April 1-15.

* * * *

SO FAR, the trend for 1969 is right in line with previous years, the IRS said. As of April 4, about 45 million returns had been filed. Of these, 27.5 million will get refunds totaling $5.4 billion.

At the same point in 1968 there were 29.6 million returns filed with $5.3 billion due in refunds.

For those still sweating out the chore of paying Uncle Sam his share for last year, the IRS cautions tax filers to use extra care in their calculations as the hour of midnight, April 15 draws near.

The most common errors in making out a tax form are either mathematical or just plain omitting an item altogether.

IRS spokesmen said nearly 6 per cent of the tax forms filed had a mistake in adding or sugtracting.

* * * *

MORE THAN eight million taxpayers forgot to include their Social Security number.

About five million forgot to sign their returns. Another group forgot to attach the proper forms from their employers on taxes already withheld.

More than 6 million left off a special schedule or statement which they needed to complete their return, the IRS said.

If a taxpayer files his return and then realizes he has made a mistake, the IRS has a special form called 1040-X available for corrections.

Kennedy Lauds Alaskan GOP Team: Slaps Others

BARROW, Alaska (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., heaped praise Friday on two Alaska Republicans who remained on a tour of Eskimo villages after three GOP senators pulled out, charging the trip was a "publicity stunt."

After touring this northernmost U.S. community by bus, the party went to a town hall meeting to discuss education and other problems affecting Alaska natives.

Kennedy, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Indian education, told 250 persons who crowded into the meeting hall Rep. Howard Pollock and Sen. Ted Stevens, both R-Alaska, were "two friends who need no introduction."

* * * *

"THEY HAVE been extremely kind, generous and helpful to us on this visit," he said.

Neither Stevens nor Pollock are members of the subcommittee, but they helped make arrangements for the 3,000-mile tour.

Both remained with Kennedy after the departure of Republican subcommittee members Sens. George Murphy, Calif., Henry Bellmon, Okla., and William Saxbe, Ohio.

Murphy and Bellmon left Thursday after branding the trip "a publicity stunt paid for at taxpayers' expense." Saxbe said Friday he left because the tour was "a humiliating indignity to the Eskimo."

He said he had "no reason to believe the trip was a rigged campaign activity" or publicity stunt as charged by the other two senators.

Kennedy emphatically denied the charge and said their decision to leave "is regrettable in a matter of such import and significance."

Also remaining with Kennedy was Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn.

SURVEY FINDING

Malnutrition Hits Rich, Poor Alike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's top nutrition expert said Friday that all segments of the American population, rich and poor, suffer from malnutrition and dental problems and that half the nation's women are too fat.

Dr. Arnold E. Schaefer, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's nutrition program, said many affluent families are ignorant of their food needs and choose foods simply because they are easy to prepare. These habits lead to anemia, obesity and dental difficulties, he said.

Schaefer has testified for the past two days before the Food and Drug Administration's nearly year-long hearings on advertising and labeling of vitamins and minerals.

He is directing a national nutrition survey involving interviews with families with incomes between $1,900 to $42,000 a year.

"Irrespective of income levels, we are finding obesity in 50 per cent of our adult women," Schaefer said. He said starchy diets is the principal cause of overweight women in poor families.

Other nutritional problems include:

—Severe dental decay in all segments of the population;

—Iron and vitamin C deficiency in a "considerable percentage" of children up to 3 years of age;

—Lack of vitamins A and C in adolescents and older persons.

Schaefer testified there had been little change in the incidence of anemia in recent years. Anemia results in fatigue, listlessness and inability to achieve sharp physical and mental performance.

Man Hurt in Campus Bombing

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A home-made time bomb exploded in the arms of a maintenance man early Friday, critically injuring him and damaging the faculty club at the University of California campus.

Dovar O. Sharp, 55, who lived at the club, suffered burns over 80 per cent of his body, a fractured right leg, multiple fractures of the left hand and severe injury to the left eye. He spent most of the day in surgery.

University officials said the bomb was inclosed in a cardboard box and went off as Sharp picked it up. They said it consisted of a half-gallon wine jug filled with a volatile liquid, a pipe packed with explosives, a timing device and a battery.

Damage to the faculty club was estimated at about $1,000. Four large glass sliding doors in the patio were smashed and the walls were charred.

Suicide Attempt Causes Explosion

FREMONT (UPI) — A predawn explosion which ripped a small home apart, killing its lone occupant and injuring a neighbor child, was caused by the victim's attempt to kill himself, Police Chief Earl McDaris said Friday.

He said Leslie Worcester, 62, tried to asphyxiate himself by disconnecting the main gas pipe to his kitchen stove and filling the two-bedroom stucco house with fumes.

OLD COALITIONS THREATENED

State Dems Debate Shakeup

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

SACRAMENTO — A mixed ideological bag of Democrats will debate here this weekend whether to abandon the party's old coalitions and embrace a "new coalition of people interested in improving the quality of life."

G. W. (Joe) Holsinger, Northern California Democratic chairman, told newsmen the crucial issue of the party's conference here on reform and reorganization is that debate.

The old coalition was comprised of political blocs based on economic issues. In the new coalition, he said, are the McCarthy-Kennedy people, the idealistic students.

Out of the debate, or "think tank" as Holsinger termed it, Democrats hope to map an action program that will win elections. "If the election were held today," he said, "the party in its present condition could not be very helpful to its candidates regardless of their merits. The issue at hand is not who will run next year but whether the party's structure can elect anyone."

The major prospective candidates will be on hand here. First among them, even eclipsing the "household word" names such as Assembly Minority Leader Jess Unruh and San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, is acting San Francisco State College President Dr. S. I. Hayakawa.

Although Hayakawa has heard of the statewide poll which revealed he could beat almost anyone on the 1970 political horizon in California, he said he has not given any thought to running for public office.

However, an insider here who has talked with Hayakawa said the colorful educator is seriously considering making a bid for either U.S. senator or governor. The source said he would run as a Democrat, even though his current popularity as a strong hand against campus disruption was nurtured under the strong approbation of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Sponsor Gone; Bill Is Killed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An Assembly committee killed Friday a bill to give legal sanction to city and county-operated housing information services after several members criticized the absence of the bill's author.

Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, sponsor of the measure, was in his home district which annoyed many committee members who had given up a day in their own districts to attend the Urban Affairs and Housing Committee meeting. The Legislature is in the first day of a three-day weekend recess.

Republican Pete Wilson of San Diego, the committee chairman, summed up the sentiment by saying: "It does indicate some lack of interest on the part of the author."

* * * *

FRANK OLRICH, administrative assistant to Vasconcellos, who had also substituted for his boss at an earlier hearing on the bill, said: "The intent of the bill is not to have a housing information service compete with private enterprise. The bill affects a group of people not covered by private enterprise."

But Assemblyman Newton R. Russell, R-Tujunga, strongly disagreed. "I don't see any reason for the state to get into the rental unit business in competition with a private group that is doing the job," he said. The bill would enable cities and counties to operate a housing information service for low-income families.

A motion by Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh, D-Chula Vista, to approve the bill was defeated on a split voice vote. Deddeh noted that both public and private agencies operate in the employment field and said he thought the bill would "complement the efforts of the real estate industry."

Reagan Attacks Dissidents

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan broke ground for California's 19th state college Friday with another strong attack on student and faculty dissidents.

The governor joined local dignitaries in the groundbreaking ceremony for California State College, Bakersfield, scheduled to open in September 1970 with about 750 students. The $2.8 million school is located southwest of here.

Reagan told an audience of about 500 persons the dissidents were attempting to destroy the college system. He said those dissatisfied with the system "have a right to be heard, but not to prevail."

He warned the college could be the cornerstone of the community or its "Achilles heel."

* * * *

"A MODERN college is uniquely vulnerable to the use of force," Reagan said. "We have found that out."

He admitted there were legitimate student complaints which should be considered. "But the use of force should not be tolerated," he said.

Reagan said privileges and rights on campus were not the exclusive preserve of dissidents, and those of other students and faculty must also be recognized.

The Republican chief executive used the occasion to again deny he advocated use of a political test in hiring and promoting faculty members. He said reports to the contrary were "gross misinterpretations" of his remarks at a recent news conference.

ENJOYING REPUBLICAN SPLIT

Still in control of the State Senate, President pro tem Hugh Burns appears to be smiling at the GOP's current dilemma. Steam Auto Breakthrough Claimed for New Design

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A computer research firm and an oil product company, joining forces to develop a low-smog steam engine, said Friday they had overcome a major barrier to adapting steam for family cars.

A new design, officials told a news conference, greatly reduces the size of the condenser needed to convert steam back into water after it has been used to drive pistons.

Planning Research Corp. and STP Corp. said a proposal to design a passenger car using the principle has been submitted to the National Pollution Control Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

* * * *

THE DEPARTMENT recently asked for proposals to develop steam automobiles as a way of reducing smog. The PRC-STP bid is one of several expected from industry.

Numerous steam engine designs convert used steam back into water, instead of exhausting it, to avoid having to carry a water supply.

A spokesman said the PRC-STP design calls for a small jet condenser instead of a bulky radiator-condenser that collects water as the steam cools. The jet condenser uses water spray to cool the steam instantly.

STP President Anthony (Andy) Granatelli said the 100-horsepower engine would use cheap fuels such as unleaded gasoline or kerosene and propel a six-passenger car at a cruising speed of 75 miles an hour.

* * * *

STEAM ENGINES produce far less smog, he said, than the internal combustion engines now in general use.

Granatelli formerly headed the Studebaker division which produced the Paxton steam car in 1957.

AT ARMY MUTINY TRIAL

Jailer Cast in Eichmann Image

FT. ORD (UPI) — The Army said Friday it would prove "beyond any reasonable doube" the Presidio Stockade sit-down demonstration was mutiny, but the defense said it was "a cry for help."

Opening arguments were delivered at the court martial of 14 young soldiers who with 13 others staged the demonstration Oct. 14 at the stockade in San Francisco following the fatal shooting of an escaping prisoner three days earlier.

The Army's chief trial counsel, Capt. John Novinger, said, "the accused, with intent to override military authority, did override it for a period of about one hour" during the demonstration. He said it was a "nonviolent, passive-type mutiny."

* * * *

NOVINGER siad he would put onto the witness stand Sgt. Thomas Woodring, the military policeman in charge of the stockade guards during the demonstration.

Defense attorney Terence Hallinan, in a bitter opening argument, said Woodring was 'a beast" and "well-cut in the image of an Adolph Eichmann." He claimed Woodring had served eight years on the Los Angeles police force and was "kicked out for brutality" before entering the Army.

He said his defense would show the 14 defendants were "incapable" of forming the intent necessary in the Army's definition of mutiny. He said their demonstration was a legal, nonviolent means of attempting to redress intolerable conditions in the stockade.

* * * *

HALLINAN said 13 of his 14 defendants were mentally incapable of adjusting to military life — which he said was their only crime — and that their demonstration was "a cry for help."

"In another war in another time, these 14 men might very well have been heroes," he said. "They all have tremendous courage."

The defense statement said the defendants joined the demonstration to protest alleged critical overcrowding at the stockade, short rations, lack of recreational facilities, bad sanitary conditions, lack of visiting facilities and detention in isolation cells. Hallinan said the death of Pvt. Richard Bunch while allegedly attempting to escape was "the straw that broke the camel's back."

* * * *

A COURT martial panel of three enlisted men and two officers heard the opening statements. It was the first time sergeants were seated on a panel in the series of mutiny trials that began in February.

In three previous trials, at three different West Coast Army posts, officers made up the courts-martial panels. They convicted eight defendants and sentenced them to terms ranging from nine months to 16 years. Two others of the 27 are under psychiatric care and three have escaped from the stockade.

7 Candidates Drop from Council Race; Petitions Not Filed

By DON BRACKENURY
Staff Writer

Seven would-be candidates for City Council fell by the wayside Friday as they failed to return their signed nominating petitions by the 5 p.m. deadline.

There now are 34 candidates for council, four for city prosecutor and two each for city attorney and city auditor.

In four of the nine council districts, only two candidates will be competing in the May 13 primary, and thus will get a "free ride" into the June 3 general election.

The ballots in the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth districts will carry only the names of the incumbent and one challenger.

There could still be changes in the ballot lineup, as candidates may, until next Wednesday, file a written petition to withdraw from the race. After that date, even though they chose not to run, their names would appear on the May 13 ballot.

City Clerk Margaret L. Moore announced Friday that 106,026 Long Beach citizens are eligible to vote in the primary election. This compares to 169,020 persons eligible in the last municipal primary election in May of 1966, and 172,686 registered for the June, 1966, general election.

The list of candidates is as follows:

CITY COUNCIL

First District—Raymond C. Kealer (inc.) and Charles F. Legeman.

Second District—Bert B. Bond (inc.) and Saul Stolzberg.

Third District—Steven D. Cobb, Paul R. Deats (inc.), Daniel J. Foley, Larry Schwartz and Morton H. Stein.

Fourth District—Dr. Thomas J. Clark (inc.) and William S. Urquhart.

Sixth District — Vance Hardy, P. B. Simmons, Emmet M. Sullivan (inc.), Arne R. Tite and C. T. Weber.

Seventh District—Robert F. Crow (inc.), William Morel, Ronald Morgan, R. A. (Fred) Porter, Wayne B. Sharp and John F. Topp.

Eighth District—Tom Cox, E. F. (Ted) Cruchley, William A. Graham (inc.), David E. Kaye, Stanley J. Kelso and Melvin D. Salsman.

Ninth District—Peter S. Clara, R. E. (Pat) Corbett (inc.), Russell Rubley and Henry Schultz.

CITY AUDITOR—Andrew H. Baird and Murray T. Courson (inc.).

CITY PROSECUTOR—E. Fred Lightner, James T. Starr (inc.), John A. Vander Lans and Maurice Weiss.

2 Canadian Officials Visit Here For Trade

Two Canadian municipal officials were in Long Beach Friday to "Get a piece of the action," but they assured Mayor Edwin W. Wade they are not trying to "steal" industry away from California.

John V. Killer, mayor of Stratford, Ont., and Ken Grant, Stratford's industrial commissioner, visited the mayor during a tour of the city.

They are on a 10-day tour of the United States, primarily California, to "stimulate interest in Stratford as an industrial and tourist center."

Friday they visited the Long Beach plant of Douglas Aircraft Co., where Grant explained that a Toronto plant is manufacturing wing assemblies for the DC-9, and Stratford hopes to get some other Douglas work.

"We want to get a piece of the action, if this is possible," said Grant.

Mayor Killer said Stratford, a city of about 24,000 is in the heart of a wealthy agricultural area. The city's chief claim to fame, however, is its annual Shakespearean Festival.

Last summer during the May through October run, the Shakespearean Festival drew 450,000 paying guests, the Canadian mayor said.

This year, the festival is expanding to begin a road-show company. The troupe will be here this winter, he said.

Grant said the city is seeking to expand its economy by attracting "prestige" industry.

Unlike some Canadians, neither Mayor Killer nor Grant feel that U.S. capital poses any threat to the Canadian economy.

City Council Has Summer Jobs for L.B. Youths

The nucleus of a Long Beach youth council, which City Manager John R. Mansell suggested last month, met for the first time Friday, and heard a report on the city's summer job program for students.

Mansell and Mayor Edwin W. Wade greeted about 25 representatives of various schools and youth groups at an informal meeting in the City Council chambers.

Mayor Wade explained the purpose of the proposed youth council would be to bring to the attention of city officials ideas, suggestions and problems of the city's young people.

MANSELL URGED the young people to spread the word in their schools and organizations that summer jobs with the city are open to students.

"If we haven't got enough money, we'll get more," Mansell said, "because I think there is no finer program in the city than this."

Robert E. Pond, assistant city director of personnel, told the council that nearly 300 young people were employed by the city last summer. They work up to 30 hours a week, and are paid $1.70 an hour, he said.

In response to a question from one council member, Pond said the work is limited to 30 hours so that more individuals can be hired.

Mansell also pointed out that various other organizations in Long Beach, such as the National Alliance of Businessmen at the Chamber of Commerce, also operate summer job programs, and that about 2,000 young people were employed in Long Beach last summer on such jobs.

SEVERAL OF the youth representatives said the word on the program was not getting to the young people, and one member suggested that applications be made available at schools and teen centers.

"I think that is an excellent idea," said Mansell.

Although applications for summer jobs with the city normally are taken in March, Mansell said the city would continue to accept applications, "because if we can't place you in city jobs, we will try to place you with private industry."

Carl Wallace, executive director of the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities, invited youth council members to work with his office in developing its summer program.

L.B. Doctors See Heart-Drug Ills

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

Two Long Beach doctors warn that a drug combination widely praised for treatment of heart disease may also be harmful.

The drug combination may do more harm than good or may do no good at all, the doctors say.

The drugs are propranolol and isosorbide dinitrate, said by some researchers to be excellent for the relief of angina pectoris, the excruciating chest pain associated with coromary heart disease.

Propranolol is also known by the name Inderal, and isosorbide dinitrate is prescribed under the names Isordil and Sorbitrate.

A new study at Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital indicates the two compounds can be harmful to victims of angina pectoris.

STUDIED WERE 23 PATIENTS 32 to 59 years-old with angina pectoris. They were given the drug combination four times daily for six weeks and a combination of dummy pills four times daily for six weeks.

Patients were exercised on a bicycle ergometer 12 times with physiological responses carefully measured.

Side effects from the drug combination were frequent in the VA study. Headaches especially were common. Also seen in some patients: shortness of breath due to heart failure, mental depression, lightheadedness and stomach distress. Three were unable to tolerate the drug comination.

Exercise tolerance before developing angina was the same on drugs as on dummy pills in 50 per cent of the patients, better on the dummy pills in 40 per cent, and improved on the drug combination in only 10 per cent.

Dr. Wilbert S. Aronow, staff cardiologist at Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital and assistant clincial professor of medicine at University of California College of Medicine, Irvine, conducted the research.

HE WAS ASSISTED by Dr. Marvin A. Kaplan, chief of the cardiology section at the VA Hospital and assistant professor of medicine at the Irvine medical college.

Their conclusions:

"We feel that patients with angina given these drugs should have exercise performance studies and exercise electrocardiograms before and during treatment."

If such tests evoke adverse responses, then the drugs propranolol and isosorbide dinitrate should be stopped.

The local research was reported to the medical profession in the April 17 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. Dr. Aronow will also report this reasearch April 23 at the 50th annual session of the American College of Physicians in Chicago.

Mass Turnout for the Big 'J'

When the USS New Jersey returns to Long Beach from her 7½-month Vietnam duty, a huge crowd is expected to greet her at Pier E.

Big "J" will be home a week from today, entering the Outer Breakwater at 9 a.m. and mooring between 9:30 and 9:45.

The Navy announced Friday the ship will be opened to the public sometime this spring.

The joint tackling of today's complex problems and the leadership role which must be assumed by business was the theme of a speech Friday by Robert V. Hansberger at the 78th annual meeting of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Hansberger, president of the Boise Cascade Corp.—which is the developer for the initial, $38-million West Beach Project—said he did not plan to discuss the project formally at the session.

But informally, beforehand, he and Stephen D. Moses, the firm's director of urban renewal, reaffirmed plans to begin construction of at least one building by summer's end.

Furthermore, Moses said, "We plan to have all three (in the initial segment of the project) underway by the end of the year."

AT THE FRIDAY chamber of commerce meeting, H. G. Hanawalt was formally installed as new president of the organization. He is manager of Southern California Edison Co. Installed as vice presidents for various divisons were Robert Pierce, Robert McNulty, Weckford Morgan and Don Gill. Roy Anderson was installed as treasurer.

Hansberger, a member of the national chamber of commerce, said he would point out to the chamber members "governments are good tax collectors" but not necessarily good tax spenders.

ON SKID ROW, L.A.

They Care for The Unfortunate

The Union Rescue Mission, in the heart of Los Angeles' Skid Row, has a reputation for solace and relief to some of society's most rejected members.

Howard Miller, regional training supervisor for Region 3 of the Parole and Community Services Division of the State Department of Corrections, emphasized the role played by the Mission in the rehabilitation of ex-convicts.

"The Union Rescue Mission has been — and we hope will continue to be — one of our major resources in attempts to readjust parolees to civil life," said Miller.

"Their work in this area has been marked by high interest and with no effort to draw attention to themselves or their work."

The selfless devotion with which the Mission addresses the needs of the ex-convicts mirrors their efforts on behalf of other men who are estranged from normal society. The devotion is best seen on those occasions—Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas—when the Mission prepares meals for those who have neither home nor family with which to share the holiday.

Cutback Affects 6 L.B. Ships

Long Beach emerged a small loser only on the Department of Defense 19-ship cutback order to the Navy.

Two destroyer escorts and two destroyers are scheduled to leave the active role, and two other destroyers will be given new home ports, Rep. Craig L. Hosmer, R-Long Beach, reported Friday from Washington.

The USS Marsh and Vammen, both reserve escorts, will be decommissioned.

Moving to the reserve list will be the USS Maddox and Brush while the Samuel N. Moore is slated to go to Tacoma, Wash., and the Brush to Port Hueneme, both as reserve ships.

Pearl Harbor was the biggest loser as eight destroyers will be taken from the active ship list there.

San Diego lost three ships, San Francisco and Portland, Ore., one each.

WHO WILL BE MISS WELCOME TO LONG BEACH?
Fifteen semifinalists for the title of Miss Welcome to Long Beach pose prettily in preparation for today's final judging. Contest will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Concert Hall of the Long Beach Auditorium. For the first time, the event is open to the public. Judges today were to mark ballots on the basis of beauty in bathing suits and in evening gowns. Hopefuls are (front, from left): Michelle Free, Debbie Powell, Patty Long, Leanna Johnson, Marta Stein, Gayle Kovaly, Vickie Sasseen, and (second row) Leana Leach, Jeri Pierce, Carol Ann Forrester, Jaime Davis, Betty Beadon, Carol Holland, Debby Williams and Laurie Loomis.

Hospital Extends Fund Drive

The St Mary's Hospital fund-raising drive for future development has been extended to April 22, it was announced Friday.

Dr. Edward J. Wiater, fund-drive chairman, said a "victory dinner" has been scheduled for that date.

The overall goal of $10 million is just $3 million short of being reached, Dr. Wiater said.

He said $1.1 million was donated by Modestus and Evalyn Bauer, of Long Beach. The Sisters of Charity will finance an additional $5.9 million through past gifts, bequests, federal and state grants and long-term borrowing.

The hospital's medical staff needs $650,000, he said.

Burglars Net $1,500

Burglars took cash and jewelry valued at $1,500 from the home of A. J. Landry, of 1716 Freeman Ave., Long Beach police said Friday.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: Readjustment is the key word for your year ahead. An effort to complete every job is worthwhile in many subtle ways. Avoid other people's problems. Emotional expressions fare very well if you can pursue them in a leisurely fashion. Today's natives are blessed with hope which often carries them through many trials with the opposite sex.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Sunday brings you a chore important to perform. Do whatever it turns out to be without hesitation. Promises you make today turn out to be binding obligations later.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Life continues serious. The conservative approach is favored. You can save yourself future confusion if you will keep things simple by not volunteering information.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Include loved ones in whatever adventure you are involved in today. Take nothing for granted, and resolve to let no thoughtless word turn you aside from your determination to be calm.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): No point in worrying this weekend about business and your dealings with other people. Do your share of what is to be done, and let it go at that.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Keep the peace. Take loved ones along to share in your regular Sunday customs, your share of the communal expression of faith. Then let them scatter and pursue individual interests.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your chosen path through this day may not be feasible — see what your mate wants to do, and consider suitable compromise. Financial outlays may be higher because of older people.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The temptation is to try for too many diverse things achieved in a single Sunday. Much discussion, even dissension is likely. Focus your efforts on things that do not fatigue you, and take a real rest from time to time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Any gamble is likely to backfire today, so be prepared. You can serve your own and the community interests if you will share in helping keep the peace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Circumstances suddenly improve. Pursue romantic and sentimental interests after a day of serious attention to personal and group responsibility.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Do not be surprised that routines and errands take longer time than usual. Use the opportunity to make long-needed corrections. Your patience with older people will reap much reward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Visits, family communications are slow, perhaps tedious today. Mechanical equipment is to be handled carefully. Center your mind and effort on simply keeping present circumstances in balance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Wherever you go and whatever you happen to be doing, put on a cheerful face and listen for the best in others. Spend some time alone this afternoon.

L. A. Harbor Area Faces Meter Problem

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Maritime Editor

Whether and where parking meters should be installed on Los Angeles Harbor Department Properties, is under study by staff officials.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners ordered the study Wednesday after operators of two waterfront restaurants said areas other than those adjacent to the restaurants should be included in the study to determine the feasibility of installing meters near other types of businesses and industries in the port complex.

ANOTHER AGENDA item was a request from Los Angeles City Council that the harbor department reimburse the city, in lieu of taxes, for all properties owned by the Harbor Department.

The commission's legal advisor, Edward Farrel, told the board it could not legally allocate harbor funds to the city without a charter amendment.

The council also asked the Harbor Department to pay a share of the cost of maintaining fire boat protection.

Bernard J. Caughlin, port general manager, claimed the department did not have sufficient funds to pay the city and still remain "competitive in the port field."

He also pointed out port tenants pay possessory interest taxes which cover fire protection.

COMMISSIONER Frank Sullivan suggested the staff explore "any and all means of paying the city."

The matter was held over until the next meeting on Wednesday.

The board voted to support the recommendation of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce that the proposed Pacific Coast freeway be constructed as a viaduct through the Wilmington area.

Lawrence L. Whiteneck, chief harbor engineer, said a viaduct type freeway would be suitable to the needs of the harbor department and would accommodate its future development.

Walks In, Confesses to Holdup

A 24-year-old Anaheim man who said he had a "twinge of conscience" surrendered to Garden Grove police early Friday and told them he had been involved in the holdup of a liquor store four hours earlier.

Jesse E. Moore, 1623 Jeffrey Dr., Apt. 3, was arrested at the home of his sister, 10241 Aldgate Ave., Garden Grove, about 5 a.m. Police recovered $154 taken at gunpoint from the liquor store at 9872 Westminster Ave., and charged Moore with robbery.

Officers learned Moore and his accomplice in the holdup had been questioned earlier by Anaheim police who were suspicious of them.

Anaheim police identified the second suspect as Gary W. Vieley, 20, of 1282 Crestwood Lane, Anaheim. He was arrested and charged with robbery.

New Lighting District Begun

The city engineer's office has been instructed by the City Council to begin proceedings for the creation of Long Beach Lighting District No. 10.

City Manager John R. Mansell said property owners in the proposed district have requested improvement of street lighting after seeing the results of other projects in the area.

Boundaries of District No. 10 would be Atlantic Avenue on the west, Market Street on the north, Cherry Avenue on the east, and, on the south, San Antonio Drive west of Orange Avenue and Carson Street east of Orange.

Furniture Stolen

Louis Cochran, of 787 Gardena Ave., told Long Beach police Friday burglars forced open a bedroom window of his apartment and took furniture valued at $300.

DR. H. W. APFEL

Dr. Apfel Rites Set on Monday

Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church of San Pedro for Dr. Harland Walter Apfel, nationally noted oral surgeon who pioneered the transplanting of tooth buds for teen-agers.

Dr. Apfel, 68, of 1622 Sunnyside Terrace, San Pedro, died Thursday in the Methodist Hospital of Southern California at Arcadia after a long illness.

A native of Shell Rock, Iowa, he came to San Pedro in 1926 as a general dentist. He later went into oral surgery, and his 1948 breakthrough in tooth bud transplanting was acclaimed in Life, Time and dental journals.

DR. APFEL developed the dental department at Harbor General Hospital, assisted in the organization of the dental department of the Assistance League, and taught graduate classes for UCLA Extension in Harbor General.

He was a Fellow in the American College of Dentists, and member of American Dental Assn. and Southern California Dental Assn.

Surviving are his wife, Helen; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Kirkland of San Marino, Mrs. Janet Weldon of Palmdale; a brother, Leon, of Redding; sisters, Mrs. Nina Burroughs of Long Beach, Mrs. Dorothy Schiller of Gardena, and four grandchildren.

McNerney's San Pedro Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Port Oil Spillages Bring Fines

The California Department of Fish and Game investigated 23 reported oil spills in the Los Angeles-Long Beach port complex during the month of March, according to Walter Putman, patrol captain.

Seven of the spillages were from shoreside installations, 11 from merchant vessels, and five from Navy ships.

Total volume of oil was estimated at 87 barrels.

The state official said the department obtained eight convictions during the month. Violators received fines ranging from $100 to $500 according to Capt. Putman.

Pacific Coast Port Traffic at New Peak

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Marine Exchange reports Friday the Pacific Coast's port traffic soared to all-time highs in March.

It said there were 878 vessel transits at the Golden Gate in March, a 14½ per cent rise over February.

The customs district in San Francisco reported January exports were worth $177 million, a 64 per cent increase over the same period a year earlier.

San Francisco exported $59 million more than the region's $118 million import volume in January.

Looks Like Vatican Envoy Balloon Shot Down Again

BY LES RODNEY

President Nixon has prodded a hornet's nest that had been given a wide berth since 1951, when President Truman decided to appoint Gen Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican. Protestant opposition stymied the move, and the next three presidents, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson, avoided the issue.

Now, says the President, the question of a permanent U.S. representative to the headquarters of the Roman Catholic Church is a "possibility," which is "under study."

It is no secret that the pros of the State Department, not at all interested in the religious ramifications, are for the move, feeling that the Vatican can sometimes be helpful in diplomatic efforts at the world's hot spots. Also that reports flowing in to Rome from all over the world constitute a valuable intelligence source.

Probably the President and the White House staff feel that the new ecumenical spirit will soften Protestant opposition to the move.

This could be a miscalculation. Most Protestants still oppose an envoy to the Vatican, not because of hostility toward Catholicism, but because they consider the Vatican the headquarters of a church, not a secular state.

Thus they see no more justification for U.S. diplomatic relations with the Catholic Church's headquarters than with, say, the Lutheran World Federation in New York, the Anglican Church in London, or the World Council of Churches (Protestant and Orthodox) in Geneva.

Protestants also question the validity of the State Department reasoning on the value of the official contact.

The Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, representing eight Baptist bodies with more than 20 million members, points out that the Vatican can easily communicate with the White House, and vice versa, through the U.S. Embassy in Rome, or through the apostolic delegate in Washington.

The Baptist group considers it "inconceivable" that the Vatican would hold back information that might serve the cause of world peace, just because it has nor formal diplomatic relations with this country.

Among others expressing immediate concern at the possibility have been the National Council of Churches, the Southern Baptist Convention and the Lutheran Council. That comes close to wrapping up all of American Protestantism.

An ad in the Washington Post signed by 40 religious leaders called the President's attention to President Kennedy's example of opposing an ambassador to the Vatican. Among signers were Methodist bishops, including the Southland's Bishop Kennedy, the president of Pepperdine College (Churches of Christ), the editor of Christianity Today, the director of the National Assn. of Evangelicals, the rabbi of the Stephen Wise Synagogue in New York, the president of the Southern Baptist Convention the president emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary, a leading United Presbyterian ecumenical executive, an Episcopal bishop, the leader of the American Baptist Convention, a Seventh-day Adventist leader, and a noted professor of divinity at Harvard.

The Nixon initiative puzzles some observers, in light of his close association with Baptist evangelist Billy Graham, who very much shares the Baptist Committee view.

Given the quick and broad-ranging negative reaction, it takes little journalistic courage to predict that the idea will again be dropped — maybe for good.

L. A. Harbor Area Faces Meter Problem

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Maritime Editor

Whether and where parking meters should be installed on Los Angeles Harbor Department Properties is under study by staff officials.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners ordered the study Wednesday after operators of two waterfront restaurants said areas other than those adjacent to the restaurants should be included in the study to determine the feasibility of installing meters near other types of businesses and industries in the port complex.

ANOTHER AGENDA item was a request from Los Angeles City Council that the harbor department reimburse the city, in lieu of taxes, for all properties owned by the Harbor Department.

The commission's legal advisor, Edward Farrel, told the board it could not legally allocate harbor funds to the city without a charter amendment.

The council also asked the Harbor Department to pay a share of the cost of maintaining fire boat protection.

Bernard J. Caughlin, port general manager, claimed the department did not have sufficient funds to pay the city and still remain "competitive in the port field."

He also pointed out port tenants pay possessory interest taxes which cover fire protection.

COMMISSIONER Frank Sullivan suggested the staff explore "any and all means of paying the city."

The matter was held over until the next meeting on Wednesday.

The board voted to support the recommendation of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce that the proposed Pacific Coast freeway be constructed as a viaduct through the Wilmington area.

Lawrence L. Whiteneck, chief harbor engineer, said a viaduct type freeway would be suitable to the needs of the harbor department and would accommodate its future development.

Walks In, Confesses to Holdup

A 24-year-old Anaheim man who said he had a "twinge of conscience" surrendered to Garden Grove police early Friday and told them he had been involved in the holdup of a liquor store four hours earlier.

Jesse E. Moore, 1623 Jeffrey Dr., Apt. 3, was arrested at the home of his sister, 10241 Aldgate Ave., Garden Grove, about 5 a.m. Police recovered $154 taken at gunpoint from the liquor store at 9872 Westminster Ave., and charged Moore with robbery.

Officers learned Moore and his accomplice in the holdup had been questioned earlier by Anaheim police who were suspicious of them.

Anaheim police identified the second suspect as Gary W. Vieley, 20, of 1282 Crestwood Lane, Anaheim. He was arrested and charged with robbery.

New Lighting District Begun

The city engineer's office has been instructed by the City Council to begin proceedings for the creation of Long Beach Lighting District No. 10.

City Manager John R. Mansell said property owners in the proposed district have requested improvement of street lighting after seeing the results of other projects in the area.

Boundaries of District No. 10 would be Atlantic Avenue on the west, Market Street on the north, Cherry Avenue on the east, and, on the south, San Antonio Drive west of Orange Avenue and Carson Street east of Orange.

Furniture Stolen

Louis Cochran, of 787 Gardena Ave., told Long Beach police Friday burglars forced open a bedroom window of his apartment and took furniture valued at $300.

DR. H. W. APFEL

Dr. Apfel Rites Set on Monday

Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church of San Pedro for Dr. Harland Walter Apfel, nationally noted oral surgeon who pioneered the transplanting of tooth buds for teen-agers.

Dr. Apfel, 68, of 1622 Sunnyside Terrace, San Pedro, died Thursday in the Methodist Hospital of Southern California at Arcadia after a long illness.

A native of Shell Rock, Iowa, he came to San Pedro in 1926 as a general dentist. He later went into oral surgery, and his 1948 breakthrough in tooth bud transplanting was acclaimed in Life, Time and dental journals.

DR. APFEL developed the dental department at Harbor General Hospital, assisted in the organization of the dental department of the Assistance League, and taught graduate classes for UCLA Extension in Harbor General.

He was a Fellow in the American College of Dentists, and member of American Dental Assn. and Southern California Dental Assn.

Surviving are his wife, Helen; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Kirkland of San Marino, Mrs. Janet Weldon of Palmdale; a brother, Leon, of Redding; sisters, Mrs. Nina Burroughs of Long Beach, Mrs. Dorothy Schiller of Gardena, and four grandchildren.

McNerney's San Pedro Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Port Oil Spillages Bring Fines

The California Department of Fish and Game investigated 23 reported oil spills in the Los Angeles-Long Beach port complex during the month of March, according to Walter Putman, patrol captain.

Seven of the spillages were from shoreside installations, 11 from merchant vessels, and five from Navy ships.

Total volume of oil was estimated at 87 barrels.

The state official said the department obtained eight convictions during the month. Violators received fines ranging from $100 to $500 according to Capt. Putman.

Pacific Coast Port Traffic at New Peak

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Marine Exchange reports Friday the Pacific Coast's port traffic soared to all-time highs in March.

It said there were 878 vessel transits at the Golden Gate in March, a 14½ per cent rise over February.

The customs district in San Francisco reported January exports were worth $177 million, a 64 per cent increase over the same period a year earlier.

San Francisco exported $59 million more than the region's $118 million import volume in January.

Looks Like Vatican Envoy Balloon Shot Down Again

BY LES RODNEY

President Nixon has prodded a hornet's nest that had been given a wide berth since 1951, when President Truman decided to appoint Gen Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican. Protestant opposition stymied the move, and the next three presidents, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson, avoided the issue.

Now, says the President, the question of a permanent U.S. representative to the headquarters of the Roman Catholic Church is a "possibility," which is "under study."

It is no secret that the pros of the State Department, not at all interested in the religious ramifications, are for the move, feeling that the Vatican can sometimes be helpful in diplomatic efforts at the world's hot spots. Also that reports flowing in to Rome from all over the world constitute a valuable intelligence source.

Probably the President and the White House staff feel that the new ecumenical spirit will soften Protestant opposition to the move.

This could be a miscalculation. Most Protestants still oppose an envoy to the Vatican, not because of hostility toward Catholicism, but because they consider the Vatican the headquarters of a church, not a secular state.

Thus they see no more justification for U.S. diplomatic relations with the Catholic Church's headquarters than with, say, the Lutheran World Federation in New York, the Anglican Church in London, or the World Council of Churches (Protestant and Orthodox) in Geneva.

Protestants also question the validity of the State Department reasoning on the value of the official contact.

The Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, representing eight Baptist bodies with more than 20 million members, points out that the Vatican can easily communicate with the White House, and vice versa, through the U.S. Embassy in Rome, or through the apostolic delegate in Washington.

The Baptist group considers it "inconceivable" that the Vatican would hold back information that might serve the cause of world peace, just because it has nor formal diplomatic relations with this country.

Among others expressing immediate concern at the possibility have been the National Council of Churches, the Southern Baptist Convention and the Lutheran Council. That comes close to wrapping up all of American Protestantism.

An ad in the Washington Post signed by 40 religious leaders called the President's attention to President Kennedy's example of opposing an ambassador to the Vatican. Among signers were Methodist bishops, including the Southland's Bishop Kennedy, the president of Pepperdine College (Churches of Christ), the editor of Christianity Today, the director of the National Assn. of Evangelicals, the rabbi of the Stephen Wise Synagogue in New York, the president of the Southern Baptist Convention the president emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary, a leading United Presbyterian ecumenical executive, an Episcopal bishop, the leader of the American Baptist Convention, a Seventh-day Adventist leader, and a noted professor of divinity at Harvard.

The Nixon initiative puzzles some observers, in light of his close association with Baptist evangelist Billy Graham, who very much shares the Baptist Committee view.

Given the quick and broad-ranging negative reaction, it takes little journalistic courage to predict that the idea will again be dropped — maybe for good.

FOR DEVOTION ABOVE AND BEYOND . . .
Jack Searles, right, and His Pastor

Church Salutes Its Hardest Worker, 75

Jack Searles, 75, of 1018 Bixby Road, is a retired businessman. He is also a member of the Long Beach Church of Religious Science at 505 E. 36th St. In the words of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Don Bertheau:

"His business experience has helped to guide the board in all of its decisions . . . He was untiring in his efforts, for several years, in searching for a suitable piece of property for the church location, and he alone found it and went through the endless negotiations to obtain it.

"His consistent dedication at keeping the Friendly Thrift Shop as an extremely successful part of the church is without compare. He not only gives all of his time, but he gives of his money, unflagging interest and energy, and even the use of his car to haul donated articles. It is not unusual for him to give his Sunday afternoons and 10 to 12 hours a day . . . with no thought of compensation of any kind.

"His ability to organize is without equal. This is the kind of consciousness that builds a successful church, and we all profit from it.

"Not only does he do all this . . . but he calls on the sick and aged, and is ready to give spiritual help to any and all who ask him. In all my years, I've never known anyone who is loved as much as this man."

NEW IDEAS ARE FINE, BUT . . .

'Youthmongers' Are Going Overboard on the Young, Says Church Leader

Is the "youthmonger" — one who thinks younger people are always right and older people always wrong — a new one-sided feature of American life?

The president of a major Protestant denomination thinks so. He is Rev. Dr. Culbert G. Rutenber, president of the American Baptist Convention, and also professor of the philosophy of religion at Andover Newton Theological School.

In his column in the ABC "Crusader," Dr. Rutenber, commenting on proposals by the denomination's "Younger Churchmen," makes clear that he is not a foe of youth participation and of new ideas.

"Experience and youth need each other," he writes, "hard as it is for each to acknowledge the fact. Fresh viewpoints, impatience with long tolerated evils . . . are always to be taken seriously, for ruts imprisoning. At the same time, thorough knowledgeability, insight into ultimate limits and patience learned through much struggle are also great assets. The wise householder is he who brings from his treasure things new AND old."

But the theologian feels there is a growing tendency to invest youth with all ultimate wisdom. He proclaims:

"I'm not a youthmonger. A youthmonger is such a promoter of youth that all adjectives used are invariably - upgrading, never downgrading; of the praising variety, never the blaming variety.

"If there is restlessness on the university campuses, one might begin by assuming either that our educational system needs repair, or some of our young people have emotional problems, or both. But the youthmonger knows better. The fault is with the system, period."

Referring to the generation gap, the Christian educator notes that when a Barnard College sophomore "was caught living with her boyfriend off campus after lying about it," her mother was quoted as saying: "Her father and I are of a different generation. I guess we just don't understand."

Comments Dr. Rutenber: "A youthmonger type approach. Problem solved!"

Youthmongers, he holds, are typically middle-aged or older, either guilt-ridden about their own failures and inadequacies as parents, teachers, etc., or nostalgic about their own lost youth, or "determined to 'keep with it' with young people, even at the price of blinding themselves to reality.

"Youthmongering is sterile business," the churchman continues. "It is responsible for much of the arrogance and appalling self-righteousness of many of our most promising young people. Neither the country nor the younger generation is really served by an approach which fosters the dangerous delusion that all evil and sin reside in our older people and their institutions, and all virtue and goodness lie in the insights and intentions of our younger people.

"We haven't begun to level with our young people unless we make clear what is not difficult to document after all (in the last analysis they are very much like the rest of us: a curious mixture of good and bad, hypocrisy and integrity, strength and weakness, self-pity and self-determination, will-to-power and will-to-love).

"Even their most priceless asset — idealism — contains within it the seeds of the demonic," Dr. Rutenber asserts. "The Inquisition in its day, communism in ours, typify what happens when a naive idealism, made ruthless by the very impulse-to-save (which is its reason for existence) insists in its cocksureness on imposing its solutions on all and sundry — for everyone's ultimate good, of course."

GOINGS ON

"The Kantorei," a choral group of 56 Rockford, Ill. area boys ranging from 10-18, whose repertoire of Bach motets through show tunes by Rogers and Hammerstein has been hailed in coast to coast tours, will sing at the 10 a.m. services Sunday in Immanuel Lutheran, 345 Carson St. . . . Bible Baptist 'Finds Home,' Revival Set

REV. ESPINOSA
Settles Down

Bible Baptist Church, which began 2½ years ago with the pastor, Rev. Don J. Espinosa and his family, and has been temporarily housed in a funeral home, Morgan Hall, a dance studio, a store building and an Adventist structure, has purchased its own church building at 25th Street and Delta Avenue.

It will celebrate with its first revival meeting in the new building Monday through the following Sunday, with evangelist Rev. Joe Boyd, who was All-American tackle at Texas A&M in 1940 and made Sports Illustrated's Silver Anniversary All American in 1965. Meetings will start at 7:30 p.m., with music and singing, and on the final night the Hammond Sisters will be featured.

Bible Baptist, says Rev. SCHISM?

"Practically schismatic," said Pope Paul VI during Easter week, in speaking of the activities of dissident priests.

"Schism" is an ancient ecclesiastical term derived from a Greek word, used in the New Testament to describe differing views about Christ. But it is now defined in canon law as a split in the church, or break from its central authority.

It happened in the "great schism" of 1054 when Eastern Orthodoxy rejected papal supremacy, again in the 16th century Protestant departure from Roman Catholicism, and in 1870 when Old Catholics in Europe disowned the newly fixed doctrine of papal infallibility. Is it likely now?

Although Catholic officials and scholars have recognized the sharp strains of readjustment now going on in the church, they generally have not noted any signs of an actual rupture, or bloc exodus.

"My feeling, from talking with church people in this country and also in Europe, is that there is not a sense of much alarm on that count," commented Rev. Donald R. Campion, editor of the Jesuit weekly, America.

"Some places are having a rougher go of it than others, and there are some major questions which the church is beginning to face up to, but I don't see any of it as pointed toward a schismatic break."

In fact, Pope Paul only brought up the word "schism" in connection with a Scripture reading of the day referring to early Christian quarrels in Corinth, which resembled in some ways the current ferment in the church.

"He may not have been thinking in the fully technical sense of the word, and possibly used it in a broader way than it was generally taken," Father Campion said.

Certainly, however, Catholicism is in a time of transition with its governing system being overhauled, its disciplines changed and challenged, and traditional interpretations of some doctrines under questioning.

Hundreds of priests, including recently a member of the papal staff and two Latin-American bishops, have left their religious office to become laymen, but the overwhelming majority of them have remained loyal church members.

U.S. Catholics Agree No Signs of Real Break Seen

At the crux of many of the difficulties is the issue of church authority, which the Vatican Council defined in a new, more democratic way, as shared, collegial participation. But finding means to implement the new pattern often has produced sharp collisions with the old system of tightly centralized rule.

However, many church scholars see the process as leading potentially to a revitalized church. Pope Paul himself in his somber comments last week, also mentioned the hopeful possibilities, of "renewal in doctrine and in the conscience of the Church of God."

Rev. Andrew Greeley, a leading American Catholic sociologist and director of the University of Chicago's National Research Center, says that in the present ferment, "no exodus is indicated; even among the young" and "no apostasy appears on any indicator."

"The people may be restless, less respectful, more critical, but they are not about to leave."

NEW IDEAS ARE FINE, BUT . . .

'Youthmongers' Are Going Overboard on the Young, Says Church Leader

Is the "youthmonger" — one who thinks younger people are always right and older people always wrong — a new one-sided feature of American life?

The president of a major Protestant denomination thinks so. He is Rev. Dr. Culbert G. Rutenber, president of the American Baptist Convention, and also professor of the philosophy of religion at Andover Newton Theological School.

In his column in the ABC "Crusader," Dr. Rutenber, commenting on proposals by the denomination's "Younger Churchmen," makes clear that he is not a foe of youth participation and of new ideas.

"Experience and youth need each other," he writes, "hard as it is for each to acknowledge the fact. Fresh viewpoints, impatience with long tolerated evils . . . are always to be taken seriously, for ruts imprisoning. At the same time, thorough knowledgeability, insight into ultimate limits and patience learned through much struggle are also great assets. The wise householder is he who brings from his treasure things new AND old."

But the theologian feels there is a growing tendency to invest youth with all ultimate wisdom. He proclaims:

"I'm not a youthmonger. A youthmonger is such a promoter of youth that all adjectives used are invariably upgrading, never downgrading; of the praising variety, never the blaming variety.

"If there is restlessness on the university campuses, one might begin by assuming either that our educational system needs repair, or some of our young people have emotional problems, or both. But the youthmonger knows better. The fault is with the system, period."

Referring to the generation gap, the Christian educator notes that when a Barnard College sophomore "was caught living with her boyfriend off campus after lying about it," her mother was quoted as saying: "Her father and I are of a different generation. I guess we just don't understand."

Comments Dr. Rutenber: "A youthmonger type approach. Problem solved!"

Youthmongers, he holds, are typically middle-aged or older, either guilt-ridden about their own failures and inadequacies as parents, teachers, etc., or nostalgic about their own lost youth, or "determined to 'keep with it' with young people, even at the price of blinding themselves to reality.

"Youthmongering is sterile business," the churchman continues. "It is responsible for much of the arrogance and appalling self-righteousness of many of our most promising young people. Neither the country nor the younger generation is really served by an approach which fosters the dangerous delusion that all evil and sin reside in our older people and their institutions, and all virtue and goodness lie in the insights and intentions of our younger people.

"We haven't begun to level with our young people unless we make clear what is not difficult to document after all (in the last analysis they are very much like the rest of us: a curious mixture of good and bad, hypocrisy and integrity, strength and weakness, self-pity and self-determination, will-to-power and will-to-love).

"Even their most priceless asset — idealism — contains within it the seeds of the demonic," Dr. Rutenber asserts. "The Inquisition in its day, communism in ours, typify what happens when a naive idealism, made ruthless by the very impulse-to-save (which is its reason for existence) insists in its cocksureness on imposing its solutions on all and sundry — for everyone's ultimate good, of course."

Church Salutes Its Hardest Worker, 75

Jack Searles, 75, of 1018 Bixby Road, is a retired businessman. He is also a member of the Long Beach Church of Religious Science at 505 E. 36th St. In the words of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Don Bertheau:

"His business experience has helped to guide the board in all of its decisions . . . He was untiring in his efforts, for several years, in searching for a suitable piece of property for the church location, and he alone found it and went through the endless negotiations to obtain it.

"His consistent dedication at keeping the Friendly Thrift Shop as an extremely successful part of the church is without compare. He not only gives all of his time, but he gives of his money, unflagging interest and energy, and even the use of his car to haul donated articles. It is not unusual for him to give his Sunday afternoons and 10 to 12 hours a day . . . with no thought of compensation of any kind.

"His ability to organize is without equal. This is the kind of consciousness that builds a successful church, and we all profit from it.

"Not only does he do all this . . . but he calls on the sick and aged, and is ready to give spiritual help to any and all who ask him. In all my years, I've never known anyone who is loved as much as this man."

GOINGS ON

Bible Baptist 'Finds Home,' Revival Set

Bible Baptist Church, which began 2½ years ago with the pastor, Rev. Don J. Espinosa and his family, and has been temporarily housed in a funeral home, Morgan Hall, a dance studio, a store building and an Adventist structure, has purchased its own church building at 25th Street and Delta Avenue.

It will celebrate with its first revival meeting in the new building Monday through the following Sunday, with evangelist Rev. Joe Boyd, who was All-American tackle at Texas A&M in 1940 and made Sports Illustrated's Silver Anniversary All American in 1965. Meetings will start at 7:30 p.m., with music and singing, and on the final night the Hammond Sisters will be featured.

CONFIDENT LIVING

How to Realize Your Inner Power

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A farmer stood in front of his barn watching a light truck move rapidly across his land. His 14-year-old son was at the wheel. The kid was too young to get a license, but he was car crazy — and seemed plenty capable. So he had been given permission to drive the pickup around the farm, staying strictly off the public road.

But suddenly to his horror the father saw the truck overturn into a ditch. Racing to the spot, he saw there was water standing in the ditch and that the boy, pinned under the truck, was lying with his head partially submerged!

Now this farmer was a small man. According to the newspaper account, he stood 5 feet 7 and weighed 155 lbs. But without an instant's hesitation he jumped down into the ditch, put his hands under the truck, and lifted it just enough so that a farm hand, who came running up, could pull the unconscious boy out from under.

The local doctor came at once, examined the boy, treated him for bruises, and pronounced him otherwise okay.

MEANWHILE THE father started wondering: He had lifted that truck without stopping to consider if he could. Out of curiousity he tried again. He couldn't budge it. After examining him the doctor said it was a miracle. He said the physical organism did sometimes react to emergency by sending an enormous discharge of adrenalin through the body, giving extra power. That was the only explanation he could offer.

Now of course the capacity to deliver that much adrenalin had to be there in the glands. Nothing could have been activated that wasn't there. The fact is that a person normally has plenty of latent physical power in reserve.

But experiences of this kind tell us something even more important. Something happened to the farmer physically to produce that surge of supernormal strength. But it was more than a physical reaction. Mental and spiritual forces were involved. His mind-response, when he saw his son might die, motivated him to the one way of rescue with no thought but to get that truck off the boy. Such a crisis summons the latent powers in a person. If he rises to the challenge, it floods him with what you might call spiritual adrenalin, and if the situation calls for great physical strength, the mental state produces it.

Any number of things can serve to activate these reserves of inner power. It doesn't have to be sudden danger or crisis. William H. Danforth, whom I knew when he headed the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, was first made aware of his potentials by a dare handed him by a teacher. In his early teens he was a sickly boy, resigned to being a chronic semi-invalid. Then one day this schoolteacher said to him, "I dare you to be the strongest boy in this class. I dare you to chase those chills and fevers out of your system. I dare you to fill your body with fresh air, pure water, wholesome food, and daily exercise until your cheeks are rosy, your chest full and your limbs sturdy."

Recalling that experience in a little book called "I Dare You," Danforth wrote, "As he talked, something seemed to happen inside me. My blood was up. It answered the dare which surged all though my body into tingling finger tips as itching for battle. I chased the poisons out of my system. I built a body that has equaled the strongest boys in that class and has outlived and outlasted most of them. Since that day I haven't lost any time on account of sickness."

LATER IN life, Bill Danforth, whenever he discerned unrealized potentials in other men, would challenge them the same way. For example, there was a young man employed as a mechanic in a company making electric equipment. He had dropped out right after high school to go to work. He began to watch other men his age getting into much better jobs — the technically trained college graduates.

Danforth writes, "I dared him to leave his job and go back to school. Again I saw that priceless light of battle leap into the eyes of a fighter. He had no money, but somehow he got to college, was graduated with honors, and today the might-have-been-mechanic is a prominent electrical engineer."

Realize that you have reserves of inner power. Let the challenge of your ambitions, of your aspirations, rouse your slumbering power into action. Dare to be what your best self knows you ought to be; dare to be a bigger human being than you ever were before. Have great hopes and dare to go all out for them. Have great dreams and dare to live them. The more you venture to live greatly, the more you will find within you what it takes.

CITIZENS ASKED TO SET AREA GOALS

All interested citizens of the Long Beach-Signal Hill-Lakewood area have been invited to attend a meeting Monday, 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton St., to form a goal-planning committee for the area.

Darwin Thorpe, coordinator of the Long Beach Region Goals Seminar Committee, explains that it is an outgrowth of the Los Angeles Region Goals Project, sparked by the L.A. Inter-Religious Committee, Rev. John Wagner Jr., director.

Emphasis will be on the crucial public policies which directly affect the future of the area, its values, liveability, character, etc.

Mail Order 'Ordinations' Won't Win Draft Deferment

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

To become a doctor, dentist, lawyer, teacher, plumber or cab driver, you must meet requirements established by the government to insure that you are properly trained and competent for that line of work.

But you can become a minister, if you wish, without bothering to satisfy anyone that you know or care anything at all about religion.

This is true because the separation of church and state, decreed by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, prevents the government from requiring any kind of examination or license for persons who claim the title of "reverend."

Most religious bodies have their own requirements for ordination to their ministry, and in the major denominations these are quite strict. But there's no law to stop anyone from starting his own "church" and "ordaining" as many "ministers" as he pleases.

A couple of smart operators — one in California, the other in Florida — have seized upon this legal gimmick to go into the mail-order ordination business.

The Californian is Kirby James Hensley, 57, a self-styled illiterate who has issued some 20,000 "ordination certificates" to people who write to his headquarters — in the garage of his home at Modesto — saying they'd like to become ministers in his "Universal Life Church Inc."

The Floridian is Ronald Liborg, 38, of St. Petersburg, who is just setting up shop with what he calls "The Church of the Humanitarian God." Liborg recently ran advertisements in college newspapers throughout the country, offering ordination by mail.

The big attraction of ministerial status — which Liborg exploited in his ads — is draft deferment. Under the Selective Service Act, a "minister of religion" is entitled to 4-D (deferred) classification.

It's possible that some young men have actually gotten away with using mail order ordinations to obtain draft deferments. But officials at National Selective Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., do not believe that many have succeeded.

If the local draft board is alert, these officials say, it will quickly detect phony ministerial credentials. And a local board has all the legal authority it needs to blow the whistle on phony "preachers" trying to dodge the draft.

The law says that a 4-D deferment shall be granted to "a regular minister of religion . . . who, as his customary vocation preaches and teaches the principles of religion of a church, a religious sect or organization of which he is a member." It specifically rules out deferments for part-time or "incidental" preachers.

Court rulings have held that the burden of proof is on the applicant for draft deferment to convince the local board that he is a bona-fide minister serving an actual congregation. The board may look behind any "ordination certificate" the applicant presents to decide for itself whether, in reality, his primary vocation is that of clergyman.

If these rules are enforced — and Selective Service headquarters believes they are being enforced by the vast majority of local draft boards — any young man who tries to beat the draft with a mail order ordination is playing a sucker game.

Nix Parochial Aid

(UPI) — The United CHARLESTON, W. Va. Methodist Council of Bishops Friday adopted a resolution insisting that private or parochial schools be supported by private and not public funds. The resolution, reaffirmed the position of the 1968 general conference of the United Methodist Church.

ma, "are standing in the tradition of this nation, which was founded in large part by people who refused to fight for the political delusions of their homeland and came to American shores to escape conscription."

Rev. Olmstead, 29, on a two-year sabbatical leave from the pastorate of Shattuck Avenue United Methodist Church in Oakland, believes that the draft would be replaced by a volunteer army, and is critical of ministerial exemptions while there is a draft. He put his convictions on the line, giving up his own clerical exemption, then turning in his draft card and refusing to be inducted. His case is pending on appeal.

He asserts in the article, "A Minister Challenges the Draft" that the poor and members of minorities who do not qualify as readily for exemptions, are forced to fight the war in disproportionate numbers.

"I am not saying every individual in society has the right to live precisely as he wants," he qualifies, adding that he is not "a complete pacifist." While he feels "the Christian must go to great lengths to justify participation in any war," he believes the Vietnam war to be unquestionably immoral and unChristian.

He challenges the church to oppose conscription, saying that whereas "no question is asked of men who participate in war," conscientious objectors are required to "go to great lengths to justify" their stand. The current military system, he charges, "destroys individual creativity and respect for the person."

Ministerial exemption from the draft has also been opposed by students at Union Theological Seminary, many of whom gave up their exempt status in order to express thier opposition to the Vietnam war without personal immunity.

THE FORMER pastor for seven years of California Heights Methodist Church, Dr. Paul R. Woudenberg, who spent a sabbatical year studying at the University of Tubingen in Germany, will this week assume the pastorate at the largest United Methodist church on the West Coast, 3,316-member First of Santa Monica. He replaces Dr. Noel C. LeRoque, who becomes executive director of Pacific Homes Corp., church related agency which operates retirement homes in California, Arizona and Hawaii.

SEVEN PROTESTANT leaders representing the National Council of Churches met with Pope Paul, in connection with conversations with the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat about possible eventual admission of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States to the Council.

After the head of the delegation, Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Lutheran Church in America, read a statement, the pope responded, describing the visit "as a happy omen of your desire ot find ways and forms for even closer collaboration with our brother bishops" in America. He also observed that improved relations in the U.S. have "in many ways, implications for the general ecumenical and, we would add, missionary movements throughout the world."

Upon his return to New York, Dr. Marshall observed that "meeting face to face, we obtained a respect for each other that could not be duplicated by any other communication."

A LA HABRA architect, David Mitchell, won an award for his design of Truett Memorial Southern Baptist Church of Long Beach at the fifth Triennial Architects Conference of the nation's largest Protestant denomination. Exhibits were submitted by 166 architects.

AND SPEAKING of architectural designs, members of historic First Methodist at Fifth and Pacific are asked to view and grade in order of preference six "rough sketches" on view as proposed exterior designs of the new sanctuary. The Building Committee will evaluate the responses and decide whether one of the sketches should be developed further by architect Kenneth Wing (Long Beach Arena, Edison Building, County Building, co-architect at UC-Irvine) for submission to the entire congregation — or whether further sketches are deemed necessary.

Council Honors 'Fisherman,'

"Shoes of the Fisherman," an MGM production, was honored Thursday night by the Council of Churches of Southern California as the best motion picture of 1968. Producer George Englund accepted the award for the adaptation of the West book, starring Anthony Quinn.

Two awards were presented to "Of Black America," series of eight documentaries on CBS TV. One was to CBS News, and the other to the Xerox Corporation for "courageous sponsorship."

The radio award went to KFAC AM and FM, the classical music station, for its contributions to the community culture.

Suspended Priest Plans New Groups

New York Times Service

With a charge that the Roman Catholic Church has "repeatedly failed to respond to the major problems of racism, war, poverty and technology," a group of priests has announced plans to form local associations that would press for church reform.

The announcement was made by Rev. Joseph O'Donoghue, who is under suspension in Washington, D.C., for refusing to abandon his liberal stand on birth control.

Father O'Donoghue said that members of priest associations in Brooklyn, Newark, Washington, Boston and Wilmington, Del., were offering their services in forming associations of priests and layment throughout the nation. The groups would act independently of bishops, he said.

"We feel that even 15 or 20 priests standing up in a diocese and willing to speak out boldly can be a prophetic witness," Father O'Donoghue said.

After examining him the doctor said it was a miracle. He said the physical organism did sometimes react to emergency by sending an enormous discharge of adrenalin through the body, giving extra power. That was the only explanation he could offer.

Now of course the capacity to deliver that much adrenalin had to be there in the glands. Nothing could have been activated that wasn't there. The fact is that a person normally has plenty of latent physical power in reserve.

But experiences of this kind tell us something even more important. Something happened to the farmer physically to produce that surge of supernormal strength. But it was more than a physical reaction. Mental and spiritual forces were involved. His mind-response, when he saw his son might die, motivated him to the one way of rescue with no thought but to get that truck off the boy. Such a crisis summons the latent powers in a person. If he rises to the challenge, it floods him with what you might call spiritual adrenalin, and if the situation calls for great physical strength, the mental state produces it.

Any number of things can serve to activate these reserves of inner power. It doesn't have to be sudden danger or crisis. William H. Danforth, whom I knew when he headed the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, was first made aware of his potentials by a dare handed him by a teacher. In his early teens he was a sickly boy, resigned to being a chronic semi-invalid. Then one day this schoolteacher said to him, "I dare you to be the strongest boy in this class. I dare you to chase those chills and fevers out of your system. I dare you to fill your body with fresh air, pure water, wholesome food, and daily exercise until your cheeks are rosy, your chest full and your limbs sturdy."

Recalling that experience in a little book called "I Dare You," Danforth wrote, "As he talked, something seemed to happen inside me. My blood was up. It answered the dare which surged all though my body into tingling finger tips as itching for battle. I chased the poisons out of my system. I built a body that has equaled the strongest boys in that class and has outlived and outlasted most of them. Since that day I haven't lost any time on account of sickness."

LATER IN life, Bill Danforth, whenever he discerned unrealized potentials in other men, would challenge them the same way. For example, there was a young man employed as a mechanic in a company making electric equipment. He had dropped out right after high school to go to work. He began to watch other men his age getting into much better jobs — the technically trained college graduates.

Danforth writes, "I dared him to leave his job and go back to school. Again I saw that priceless light of battle leap into the eyes of a fighter. He had no money, but somehow he got to college, was graduated with honors, and today the might-have-been-mechanic is a prominent electrical engineer."

Realize that you have reserves of inner power. Let the challenge of your ambitions, of your aspirations, rouse your slumbering power into action. Dare to be what your best self knows you ought to be; dare to be a bigger human being than you ever were before. Have great hopes and dare to go all out for them. Have great dreams and dare to live them. The more you venture to live greatly, the more you will find within you what it takes.

CITIZENS ASKED TO SET AREA GOALS

All interested citizens of the Long Beach-Signal Hill-Lakewood area have been invited to attend a meeting Monday, 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton St., to form a goal-planning committee for the area.

Darwin Thorpe, coordinator of the Long Beach Region Goals Seminar Committee, explains that it is an outgrowth of the Los Angeles Region Goals Project, sparked by the L.A. Inter-Religious Committee, Rev. John Wagner Jr., director.

Emphasis will be on the crucial public policies which directly affect the future of the area, its values, liveability, character, etc.

ma, "are standing in the tradition of this nation, which was founded in large part by people who refused to fight for the political delusions of their homeland and came to American shores to escape conscription."

Rev. Olmstead, 29, on a two-year sabbatical leave from the pastorate of Shattuck Avenue United Methodist Church in Oakland, believes that the draft would be replaced by a volunteer army, and is critical of ministerial exemptions while there is a draft. He put his convictions on the line, giving up his own clerical exemption, then turning in his draft card and refusing to be inducted. His case is pending on appeal.

He asserts in the article, "A Minister Challenges the Draft" that the poor and members of minorities who do not qualify as readily for exemptions, are forced to fight the war in disproportionate numbers.

"I am not saying every individual in society has the right to live precisely as he wants," he qualifies, adding that he is not "a complete pacifist." While he feels "the Christian must go to great lengths to justify participation in any war," he believes the Vietnam war to be unquestionably immoral and unChristian.

He challenges the church to oppose conscription, saying that whereas "no question is asked of men who participate in war," conscientious objectors are required to "go to great lengths to justify" their stand. The current military system, he charges, "destroys individual creativity and respect for the person."

Ministerial exemption from the draft has also been opposed by students at Union Theological Seminary, many of whom gave up their exempt status in order to express thier opposition to the Vietnam war without personal immunity.

THE FORMER pastor for seven years of California Heights Methodist Church, Dr. Paul R. Woudenberg, who spent a sabbatical year studying at the University of Tubingen in Germany, will this week assume the pastorate at the largest United Methodist church on the West Coast, 3,316-member First of Santa Monica. He replaces Dr. Noel C. LeRoque, who becomes executive director of Pacific Homes Corp., church related agency which operates retirement homes in California, Arizona and Hawaii.

SEVEN PROTESTANT leaders representing the National Council of Churches met with Pope Paul, in connection with conversations with the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat about possible eventual admission of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States to the Council.

After the head of the delegation, Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Lutheran Church in America, read a statement, the pope responded, describing the visit "as a happy omen of your desire of find ways and forms for even closer collaboration with our brother bishops" in America. He also observed that improved relations in the U.S. have "in many ways, implications for the general ecumenical and, we would add, missionary movements throughout the world."

Upon his return to New York, Dr. Marshall observed that "meeting face to face, we obtained a respect for each other that could not be duplicated by any other communication."

A LA HABRA architect, David Mitchell, won an award for his design of Truett Memorial Southern Baptist Church of Long Beach at the fifth Triennial Architects Conference of the nation's largest Protestant denomination. Exhibits were submitted by 166 architects.

AND SPEAKING of architectural designs, members of historic First Methodist at Fifth and Pacific are asked to view and grade in order of preference six "rough sketches" on view as proposed exterior designs of the new sanctuary. The Building Committee will evaluate the responses and decide whether one of the sketches should be developed further by architect Kenneth Wing (Long Beach Arena, Edison Building, County Building, co-architect at UC-Irvine) for submission to the entire congregation — or whether further sketches are deemed necessary.

Mail Order 'Ordinations' Won't Win Draft Deferment

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

To become a doctor, dentist, lawyer, teacher, plumber or cab driver, you must meet requirements established by the government to insure that you are properly trained and competent for that line of work.

But you can become a minister, if you wish, without bothering to satisfy anyone that you know or care anything at all about religion.

This is true because the separation of church and state, decreed by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, prevents the government from requiring any kind of examination or license for persons who claim the title of "reverend."

Most religious bodies have their own requirements for ordination to their ministry, and in the major denominations these are quite strict. But there's no law to stop anyone from starting his own "church" and "ordaining" as many "ministers" as he pleases.

A couple of smart operators — one in California, the other in Florida — have seized upon this legal gimmick to go into the mail-order ordination business.

The Californian is Kirby James Hensley, 57, a self-styled illiterate who has issued some 20,000 "ordination certificates" to people who write to his headquarters — in the garage of his home at Modesto — saying they'd like to become ministers in his "Universal Life Church Inc."

The Floridian is Ronald Liborg, 38, of St. Petersburg, who is just setting up shop with what he calls "The Church of the Humanitarian God." Liborg recently ran advertisements in college newspapers throughout the country, offering ordination by mail.

The big attraction of ministerial status — which Liborg exploited in his ads — is draft deferment. Under the Selective Service Act, a "minister of religion" is entitled to 4-D (deferred) classification.

It's possible that some young men have actually gotten away with using mail order ordinations to obtain draft deferments. But officials at National Selective Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., do not believe that many have succeeded.

If the local draft board is alert, these officials say, it will quickly detect phony ministerial credentials. And a local board has all the legal authority it needs to blow the whistle on phony "preachers" trying to dodge the draft.

The law says that a 4-D deferment shall be granted to "a regular minister of religion . . . who, as his customary vocation preaches and teaches the principles of religion of a church, a religious sect or organization of which he is a member." It specifically rules out deferments for part-time or "incidental" preachers.

Court rulings have held that the burden of proof is on the applicant for draft deferment to convince the local board that he is a bona-fide minister serving an actual congregation. The board may look behind any "ordination certificate" the applicant presents to decide for itself whether, in reality, his primary vocation is that of clergyman.

If these rules are enforced — and Selective Service headquarters believes they are being enforced by the vast majority of local draft boards — any young man who tries to beat the draft with a mail order ordination is playing a sucker game.

Suspended Priest Plans New Groups

New York Times Service

With a charge that the Roman Catholic Church has "repeatedly failed to respond to the major problems of racism, war, poverty and technology," a group of priests has announced plans to form local associations that would press for church reform.

The announcement was made by Rev. Joseph O'Donoghue, who is under suspension in Washington, D.C., for refusing to abandon his liberal stand on birth control.

Father O'Donoghue said that members of priest associations in Brooklyn, Newark, Washington, Boston and Wilmington, Del., were offering their services in forming associations of priests and layment throughout the nation. The groups would act independently of bishops, he said.

"We feel that even 15 or 20 priests standing up in a diocese and willing to speak out boldly can be a prophetic witness," Father O'Donoghue said.

Council Honors 'Fisherman,'

"Shoes of the Fisherman," an MGM production, was honored Thursday night by the Council of Churches of Southern California as the best motion picture of 1968. Producer George Englund accepted the award for the adaptation of the West book, starring Anthony Quinn.

Two awards were presented to "Of Black America," series of eight documentaries on CBS TV. One was to CBS News, and the other to the Xerox Corporation for "courageous sponsorship."

The radio award went to KFAC AM and FM, the classical music station, for its contributions to the community culture.

Wisteria Festival Honors a Pioneer

By JUDI ROSKI

Light footsteps and laughing voices once again will echo through the historic Banning home Sunday at the annual Wisteria Festival in Wilmington.

Rows of blue, violet, purple and white blossoms planted near the house more than 85 years ago ornament the site of the festival commemorating one of the Southland's pioneers.

General Phineas Banning, founder of Wilmington and father of the Los Angeles Harbor, made his home the center of Wilmington's social and political gatherings.

The 30-room Banning home was built in 1864 and still retains the flavor of the turn of the century.

The horse-drawn carriages in the coach house are still much as they were when the general was alive.

The festival, sponsored jointly by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation, will begin at 2 p.m. Councilman John S. Gibson Jr., 15th District, will introduce festival speakers.

Chamber of Commerce president, Arthur A. McIntyre, and Long Beach author Mayme Krythe will speak.

Concerts by the Mexican Tipica Orchestra and the Los Angeles Harbor Choral Group are scheduled, and the Banning High School Band will perform.

Banning High School students Shirley Catada, Gloria Doran, Pam Keen, Carol Quijada and Marilyn Sablan will act as hostesses for the festival.

Walter E. Holstein and Oliver Cickery, curator for Banning Museum, serve as coordinators for the afternoon's festivities. Supporting them will be Wilmington Parlor No. 278, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and Boy Scout Troop No. 220, sponsored by the Calvary Presbyterian Church of Wilmington.

DOMINGUEZ CLUB MEET

The Dominguez Lincoln Village Garden Club regular meeting is slated for April 21 at 6:30 p.m., 21156 Santa Fe Ave. Travel films will be shown. A jitney pot luck dinner is planned. Visitors are welcome.

SWEET PEAS

Perfumed gardens are promised by a new novelty pack of sweet peas from Germain's, Inc., this spring. Some varieties in this blend have been preserved from the Middle Ages, while others derive from the Spaniards and 16th Century Peru.

For exotic looking bell-shape ruffled-edged flowers in showy colors of rose, pink, purple, red, lavender, or white, be sure to select several color varieties of Gloxinias (Sinninggia speciosa), to tuck in among indoor house plants. You will find them at your local nursery or garden shop.

The plants should get lots of indirect light, and about the same kind of watering as other indoor house plants.

GLOXINIAS belong to the same family (Gesneriads) as do the popular Saint Paulias (African violets) that bloom long periods of time. Gloxinias are not evergreen, but they are more than worth their cost for the spectacular blossoms they provide as well as for their attractive, oblong, velvety green foliage.

They gradually die down and may be dormant for several months. They should be repotted into a new soil mixture when new growth develops, watered periodically, then fed at the same time African violets are fed. They'll blossom again the following year.

We sincerely sympathize with folks in hilly sections whose homes were washed away or damaged by mud slides. We've had a number of inquiries as to what plants could be set out to grow deep roots to anchor the soil and prevent possible future slides which result from heavy rains.

WE'D LIKE to add one other important factor which those folk should consider. Such slope plants should also be fire retardant. Several of the bad mud slides were due to previous summer's brush fires that denuded the vegetation.

If we were in such a situation, we'd unhesitatingly plant prostrate rosemary, soon as we could. The reason it is our preferred choice is because the roots grow deep, knit and bind the soil together, and hold it in place.

Prostrate rosemary also roots at areas where the spreading branches are constantly in contact with the soil. Thismeans additional soil binding!

The plants are smothered by small sky-blue flowers twice a year. Bees favor the blosoms as do birds when the seeds have set. These plants furnish condimental value, because the leafage is used with pork, beef, chicken, stews, and in herb butters.

WE'RE NOT herpetologists, so we're just guessing, but we think rattlesnakes would avoid the mature prostrate rosemary because the foliage has a strong pungent fragrance. It takes hours or even a full day before the pungent odor disappears after handling the branches.

It is almost impossible to root out the plants after a few years. It actually takes a man with a powerful bull dozer to do it.

We'd set out flat size plants soon as we could, 18 inches apart and the rows 18 inches apart. This is crowding them closer than one normally should, but this is an emergency. We want the plants to grow together quicker in order to cover the slope. We'd work in some organic material such as a well-blended planter-mix mulch, mixed with the soil in each plant hole. This helps retain the moisture after each watering. We'd use a soil soaker for watering in order to eliminate any possibility of soil wash-down when plants are gradually growing together.

THE COMPLETELY grown-together planting should be watered less frequently. Finally a dozen or so waterings annually could be sufficient, the winter rains doing the rest.

Q. Please tell me how to plant and take care of lily of the valley pips. I tried once before without success but would like to try again indoors or outdoors.

A. Don't separate the pips by cutting the underground connective roots system. They grow together in colonies. Plant them in the coldest, dampest, part of the garden where they'll get the first hour or two of morning sun. Mix one-third of some organic material such as leaf mold, or premoistened peat moss, or one of the prepared planter-mix mulches with two-thirds soil plus bone meal added. Keep plants moist. A day or two after a good watering in November lightly scratch the soil then spread one-Quarter inch thickness layer of manure and soak down well. Keep moist.

Q. I had my house sand blasted and it ruined my grass. For the last three years I have used everything the gardeners suggested, but nothing helps. Our grass is just mud. Please advise what to do.

A. Level the soil to grade when it has dried. Apply a liquid soil conditioner-soil rinse that is highly acid. Fill quart size fertilizer hose-end water-pressure operated spray gun and apply it to each 250 square feet area of lawn. If lawn is alive, apply one quart to each 500 square feet, then water in. Four or five days later scratch soil lightly, sow grass seed and top dress with five sacks of quality lawn grade steer manure per one thousand square feet lawn area. Keep lawn moist until the first mowing. After first mowing apply the soil conditioner again, one quart per each 500 square-feet area and water in.

Q. When should the flower stalk of clivia be cut off? Can the red berries be planted to start new plants? If so how? I enjoy the gardening section. Hope it continues.

A. Cut off faded flower stalk soon as blossoms have faded. Yes, red berries can be planted to start new plants. Don't cut off faded flower stalk. Let the seeds form. Sow the dried seeds in a fern-pan pot or in a flat in a soil mixture of half organic material and half soil mixed well together. Barely cover the seeds. Keep soil lightly moist.

Plant some "foxy-foxgloves" for interesting two-feet tall spikes of flowers. Although foxgloves are biennials, foxy foxgloves bloom in about three months time after flat size plants are set out. They act as though they're annuals, yet will grow through the winter to flower again.

Spray roses and other plants for aphids infestation. Add a horticultural spreader which is a liquid to the insecticide spray. The combination becomes more effective because the spray residue sticks to the leafage.

Finish pruning back camellia branches to shape the bushes. Fertilize the plants with an acid food, or a camellia food.

L.B. AREA CLUB NOTES

A violet display has been scheduled by members of the LBAVS, the Long Beach Violet Club, at their regular meeting Thursday. A class on growing violets is planned at 10:30 a.m. at the Women's City Club 1309 E. Third Street. Mildred Gilkor will preside at the noon meeting. 'Plants to be judged' will be the discussion topic. Wisteria Festival Honors a Pioneer

By JUDI ROSKI

Light footsteps and laughing voices once again will echo through the historic Banning home Sunday at the annual Wisteria Festival in Wilmington.

Rows of blue, violet, purple and white blossoms planted near the house more than 85 years ago ornament the site of the festival commemorating one of the Southland's pioneers.

General Phineas Banning, founder of Wilmington and father of the Los Angeles Harbor, made his home the center of Wilmington's social and political gatherings.

The 30-room Banning home was built in 1864 and still retains the flavor of the turn of the century.

The horse-drawn carriages in the coach house are still much as they were when the general was alive.

The festival, sponsored jointly by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation, will begin at 2 p.m. Councilman John S. Gibson Jr., 15th District, will introduce festival speakers.

Chamber of Commerce president, Arthur A. McIntyre, and Long Beach author Mayme Krythe will speak.

Concerts by the Mexican Tipica Orchestra and the Los Angeles Harbor Choral Group are scheduled, and the Banning High School Band will perform.

Banning High School students Shirley Catada, Gloria Doran, Pam Keen, Carol Quijada and Marilyn Sablan will act as hostesses for the festival.

Walter E. Holstein and Oliver Cickery, curator for Banning Museum, serve as coordinators for the afternoon's festivities. Supporting them will be Wilmington Parlor No. 278, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and Boy Scout Troop No. 220, sponsored by the Calvary Presbyterian Church of Wilmington.

DOMINGUEZ CLUB MEET

The Dominguez Lincoln Village Garden Club regular meeting is slated for April 21 at 6:30 p.m., 21156 Santa Fe Ave. Travel films will be shown. A jitney pot luck dinner is planned. Visitors are welcome.

SWEET PEAS

Perfumed gardens are promised by a new novelty pack of sweet peas from Germain's, Inc., this spring. Some varieties in this blend have been preserved from the Middle Ages, while others derive from the Spaniards and 16th Century Peru.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

For exotic looking bell-shape ruffled-edged flowers in showy colors of rose, pink, purple, red, lavender, or white, be sure to select several color varieties of Gloxinias (Sinninggia speciosa), to tuck in among indoor house plants. You will find them at your local nursery or garden shop.

The plants should get lots of indirect light, and about the same kind of watering as other indoor house plants.

GLOXINIAS belong to the same family (Gesneriads) as do the popular Saint Paulias (African violets) that bloom long periods of time. Gloxinias are not evergreen, but they are more than worth their cost for the spectacular blossoms they provide as well as for their attractive, oblong, velvety green foliage.

They gradually die down and may be dormant for several months. They should be repotted into a new soil mixture when new growth develops, watered periodically, then fed at the same time African violets are fed. They'll blossom again the following year.

We sincerely sympathize with folks in hilly sections whose homes were washed away or damaged by mud slides. We've had a number of inquiries as to what plants could be set out to grow deep roots to anchor the soil and prevent possible future slides which result from heavy rains.

WE'D LIKE to add one other important factor which those folk should consider. Such slope plants should also be fire retardant. Several of the bad mud slides were due to previous summer's brush fires that denuded the vegetation.

If we were in such a situation, we'd unhesitatingly plant prostrate rosemary, soon as we could. The reason it is our preferred choice is because the roots grow deep, knit and bind the soil together, and hold it in place.

Prostrate rosemary also roots at areas where the spreading branches are constantly in contact with the soil. Thismeans additional soil binding!

The plants are smothered by small sky-blue flowers twice a year. Bees favor the blosoms as do birds when the seeds have set. These plants furnish condimental value, because the leafage is used with pork, beef, chicken, stews, and in herb butters.

WE'RE NOT herpetologists, so we're just guessing, but we think rattlesnakes would avoid the mature prostrate rosemary because the foliage has a strong pungent fragrance. It takes hours or even a full day before the pungent odor disappears after handling the branches.

It is almost impossible to root out the plants after a few years. It actually takes a man with a powerful bull dozer to do it.

We'd set out flat size plants soon as we could, 18 inches apart and the rows 18 inches apart. This is crowding them closer than one normally should, but this is an emergency. We want the plants to grow together quicker in order to cover the slope. We'd work in some organic material such as a well-blended planter-mix mulch, mixed with the soil in each plant hole. This helps retain the moisture after each watering. We'd use a soil soaker for watering in order to eliminate any possibility of soil wash-down when plants are gradually growing together.

THE COMPLETELY grown-together planting should be watered less frequently. Finally a dozen or so waterings annually could be sufficient, the winter rains doing the rest.

Address all questions to Garden Editor, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801. No stamps or self-addressed envelopes, please. Answers are given only in this column.

Q. Please tell me how to plant and take care of lily of the valley pips. I tried once before without success but would like to try again indoors or outdoors.

A. Don't separate the pips by cutting the underground connective roots system. They grow together in colonies. Plant them in the coldest, dampest, part of the garden where they'll get the first hour or two of morning sun. Mix one-third of some organic material such as leaf mold, or premoistened peat moss, or one of the prepared planter-mix mulches with two-thirds soil plus bone meal added. Keep plants moist. A day or two after a good watering in November lightly scratch the soil then spread one-Quarter inch thickness layer of manure and soak down well. Keep moist.

Q. I had my house sand blasted and it ruined my grass. For the last three years I have used everything the gardeners suggested, but nothing helps. Our grass is just mud. Please advise what to do.

A. Level the soil to grade when it has dried. Apply a liquid soil conditioner-soil rinse that is highly acid. Fill quart size fertilizer hose-end water-pressure operated spray gun and apply it to each 250 square feet area of lawn. If lawn is alive, apply one quart to each 500 square feet, then water in. Four or five days later scratch soil lightly, sow grass seed and top dress with five sacks of quality lawn grade steer manure per one thousand square feet lawn area. Keep lawn moist until the first mowing. After first mowing apply the soil conditioner again, one quart per each 500 square-feet area and water in.

Q. When should the flower stalk of clivia be cut off? Can the red berries be planted to start new plants? If so how? I enjoy the gardening section. Hope it continues.

A. Cut off faded flower stalk soon as blossoms have faded. Yes, red berries can be planted to start new plants. Don't cut off faded flower stalk. Let the seeds form. Sow the dried seeds in a fern-pan pot or in a flat in a soil mixture of half organic material and half soil mixed well together. Barely cover the seeds. Keep soil lightly moist.

DO IT NOW

Plant some "foxy-foxgloves" for interesting two-feet tall spikes of flowers. Although foxgloves are biennials, foxy foxgloves bloom in about three months time after flat size plants are set out. They act as though they're annuals, yet will grow through the winter to flower again.

Spray roses and other plants for aphids infestation. Add a horticultural spreader which is a liquid to the insecticide spray. The combination becomes more effective because the spray residue sticks to the leafage.

Finish pruning back camellia branches to shape the bushes. Fertilize the plants with an acid food, or a camellia food.

L.B. AREA CLUB NOTES

A violet display has been scheduled by members of the LBAVS, the Long Beach Violet Club, at their regular meeting Thursday. A class on growing violets is planned at 10:30 a.m. at the Women's City Club 1309 E. Third Street. Mildred Gilkor will preside at the noon meeting. 'Plants to be judged' will be the discussion topic. All who are interested in seeing the display are welcome.

Hall Whittles 8 Ticks Off U.S. Swim Record

FALLEN CHAMPIONS

Olympic champion Debbie Meyers can't disguise disappointment after finishing third in 400-yard individual medley Friday in AAU championships Friday at Belmont Plaza. Lakewood's Susie Atwood also felt disappointment, finishing fifth in 400 IM after setting record while winning 200 backstroke Thursday.

Rarely does a swimmer whittle more than one stopwatch tick from a national record.

But eight seconds? In a 400-yard race? Incredible!

Gary Hall, Rancho Alamitos High School senior, was credited with the incredible Friday night at the National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

He won the men's 400-yard individual medley in 4:00.85, routing the recognized American record of 4:08.9 established by Greg Buckingham, and the 4:07.7 pending record of Hans Fassnacht, Cal State Long Beach

Although Hall's competition was world class he made them look like the class of 1892. The 17-year-old won from here to Belmont Pier—or at least a half-pool length—as shrill screams ricocheted off the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool walls like a giant brass section gone mad.

As Hall completed the first leg, the 100 butterfly (53.5), Phil Houser of USC and Fassnacht were within arm's reach. As he finished the backstroke (1:54.5), Fassnacht trailed by two lengths.

At the termination of the breaststroke (3:07.2) Fassnacht was five lengths to the rear. Hall's only race was against the clock.

Dave Johnson, Yale, finished faster than the others to capture the silver medal in 4:10.40. Fassnacht, representing Phillips 66 of Long Beach in this competition, was next in 4:10.72.

Hall, somewhat less mellifluous than Chick Hearn, had plenty to say Friday.

"It's some kind of a dream to get down around four minutes. I didn't think I could do it. I would have been pleased with 4:04.

Today's Schedule

10 a.m., men's and women's swimming preliminaries in 200-yard butterfly, 200 breaststroke, 100 backstroke, 800 freestyle relay.

3 p.m., men's platform diving preliminaries and semifinals.

7 p.m., finals all events.

"My strategy was to take it out pretty fast and hope that I wouldn't 'die' too much. It worked out just about right. I was really pleased with my split on the last 100."

Hall rests today, then on Sunday he will tackle fellow Olympians Fassnacht and Mike Burton—the world's best — in the 1,650.

"I don't think I can beat them, but I want to see what I can do. It's a tough race, but I've been working pretty hard (12,000 yards a day)."

An American record also fell in the women's 400-yard medley relay. A Santa Clara Swim Club team of Jane Swagerty (1:00.2), Jan Henne (1:09.1), Lynn Vidali (58.9) and Linda Gustavson (52.5) was stopped at 4:00.67, breaking the record of 4:02.4 established by Santa Clara in 1968. Lakewood Aquatic Club was second in a rapid 4:02.5.

Hall's time was within centimeters of the Santa Clara relay team's record.

NICKLAUS SLIPS SIX SHOTS OFF PACE

Devlin, Casper Tied in Masters

SATURDAY Sports
INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM

SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1969 SECTION C—Page C-1

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Bruce Devlin plays it bold and Billy Casper plays it cool—and each man, doing his own thing, has a chance to break the Masters golf championship open today in the third round.

Devlin, the bland ex-plumber from Australia, and Casper, California's noted consumer of buffalo meat, go into the third round at the lush Augusta National Course tied for the lead at 7-under-par 137, and three strokes ahead of nearest rivals George Archer and Dan Sikes.

The rest of the contenders were even further behind, including tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus at 143, six strokes off the pace.

Which means that either 31-year-old Devlin or 37-year-old Casper has a chance, by shooting a good sub-par round, to go way out front with maybe an unbeatable lead going into Sunday's final round. Provided, of course, the other will kindly go away.

Devlin, who started the second round one stroke behind pacemaking Casper, came charging from behind with a 45-foot birdie putt on the 18th green Friday for a 2-under-par 70 that caught up with Casper's 1-under-par 71.

It was the climax of a roller-coaster round that saw Devlin commit two bogeys, on the third and fifth holes, before he picked up steam. Then he came roaring back with birdies on the seventh, 10th, 11th, and 18th. His bold attitude took charge on that No. 7, which he called "the turning point for me."

After a "perfect drive down the middle," Devlin found himself facing one of those "impossible" pin placements that the Masters officials—galled by the way the stars treated their pet course Thursday—came up with Friday to make things tougher. When he stared down for his second shot, Bruce found the flag "tucked right in behind the bunker."

"I started to play it safe," he related. "Then I thought to myself, 'Well, I'm two over already. What the hell am I trying to protect—a 78? So I went for the flag."

Boldness paid off, and his 9-iron shot dropped 12 feet past the pin. He sank the putt—and he was off and running. Even the 11th, where a horrendous eight wrecked him in the same round just a year ago—didn't faze him. "I thought I was going in the water again," he grinned. "But it didn't, and I cut myself five strokes for a three."

No such shennanigans

'I Told You So' Brunet Stops Twins

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

He had a little "I told you so" glint in his eye as he chatted with reporters. And he was smiling, too. Oh, was he smiling.

George Brunet, the veteran lefthander, was maligned in the prints as well as by enemy batters in a less-than-remarkable spring. He didn't have it anymore, complained some of his critics.

"Wait'll the season starts," was George's sharp reply. "They only count when the season starts, not in the spring."

ANGEL OF DAY

GEORGE BRUNET gave up six hits in eight innings as Angels beat Minnesota, 5-3.

Well, the season started for George Brunet Friday night. He's the ace of the Angels' staff again. The big guy, scoffed at a month ago, came within an eyelash of hurling a complete game as the Angels tripped Minnesota, 5-3, at Anaheim Stadium.

"I wanted to go nine," he said. "I pitched hard and I deserve the win. My stuff wasn't that good but I pitched hard.

"I really wanted to go all the way. But when a guy like Hoyt Wilhelm comes in to save you, well, it's a pretty good sitting in the clubhouse listening to 'strike one, two, three.' "

Brunet sailed through eight innings against the Minnies, giving up only a home run to first-year catcher George Mitterwald in the second.

But he lost his magic in the ninth as Tony Oliva and Bob Allison nailed him for back-to-back to homers. That brought manager Bill Rigney running. The manager called in the knuckler, Wilhelm, and the veteran's flutterball got the Twins one, two, three—just like that.

Brunet, 13-17 last year, admitted he was a trifle worried in the early going. "I knew if I didn't do it that was it for me," he explained. "I wasn't really bothered by my spring performance. But what did bother me was the fact it made all the papers and had everyone all upset. Me? Heck, I wasn't worried."

The Frenchman's earned run average was a bulky 11.00 for the spring.

"I didn't worry about the hits or runs or ERA in the spring," he continued. "I was just working to get in shape for the season. That's when it all counts."

Big Bru hasn't always enjoyed generous backing by the Angels' bats. But he did Friday. Tom Satriano and Jay Johnstone each rifled two-run home runs off Twins' starter Jim Perry. And Joe Grzenda, the second of four Minnie hurlers, wild pitched home the fifth run.

Altogether the Halos popped out eight safeties with Johnstone and Aurelio Rodriguez getting two apiece.

The Twins, given the nod as the favorite in the American League's new West Divison though still winless after three starts, showed their expected power with the three homers. And they just might have busted things up some back in the fifth winning.

It was the only time Brunet was in jeopardy until the two solo homers chased him in the ninth. The Twins got runners to first and third with two out, Leo Cardenas the hitter and — get set, now — Harmon Kellebrew on deck.

The count went to 3-2. And the next pitch was high, a ball, but Cardenas fished for it anyway and sent a meek pop fly to Bobby Knoop at second.

Lady Luck, Mel Counts Give Lakers 95-93 Win Over Hawks

By DOUG IVES
Staff Writer

A sensational three-point play by Mel Counts and the inability of Paul Silas to make a simple lay-in enabled the Lakers to outlast Atlanta, 95-93, Friday night in their frantic opener for the NBA Western Division championship.

The last 30 seconds was one of the wildest ever played between these two arch-rivals and 16,190 Forum fans screeched at every turn of events—and there were a flock of them packed into a very short length of time.

Counts made the big play. With 24 seconds left the hustling 7-footer leaped through two Hawks to rebound Keith Erickson's missed jumper and spin it into the hoop. He was fouled by Bill Bridges and dramatically completed the three-point play that produced the final score.

There was still plenty of action left, however. Lou Hudson's jumper at 0:13 came off the rim into the hands of Wilt Chamberlain, but it was deflected and a wild scramble ensued in which Elgin Baylor and Zelmo Beaty wound up in a jump situation.

Beaty controlled to Hudson, then Hudson spotted Silas all alone under the basket. The rugged Hawk forward had only two seconds to get the shot off and he rushed it as Erickson flashed by. The ball was short, but Silas poked at it again and so did Beaty as the Lakers watched helplessly.

The tip by Silas might have beaten the buzzer, but Beaty's never would have been allowed. It was fortunate the officials didn't have to make a decision.

The game was well played by both sides, but perhaps the most significant event was the play of Elgin Baylor, who has been lethargic in the playoffs thus far.

His two free throws at 0:51 produced the last tie, and he earned them by stealing the ball from Bridges under the Hawk basket.

"I think Elgin's coming back," said coach Bill van Breda Kolff. "He's driving the hoop more and when he does this the rest of his game gets better."

Baylor had 16 points, four above his playoff average, and 16 rebounds, eight above his norm.

The Lakers led 25-17 at the quarter and 53-40 at halftime, but the well-disciplined Hawks worked harder for their shots after intermission and soon Beaty found the range. As the Lakers wilted, the Hawks surged ahead 82-77 on the strength of a 15-3 spurt to open the fourth period.

West, Baylor and Counts contributed two baskets each down the stretch as the Lakers rallied to tie four times, then used Counts' third hoop of the period to win it.

Defense again was a major factor. The Lakers made it five consecutive games of holding the opposition below 40 per cent shooting and under 100 points.

Chamberlain, West and Bill Hewitt were the ringleaders. Wilt manned the middle admirably, West stifled the Hawks outside and Hewitt put the clamps on Lou Hudson, who got off only 14 shots in 43 minutes.

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be at the Forum Sunday.

Front Office Should Attempt to Perform as Well as Dodgers

By FRED CLAIRE

HOUSTON — The Dodger organization didn't enjoy the best of communication Friday. The words attributed to club officials in Los Angeles didn't match up with what the Dodgers were saying here.

DODGER OF DAY

TED SIZEMORE, singled, doubled, hit bases-loaded triple and stole home as Dodgers startled Houston, 9-3.

Fortunately, for the Dodgers, the players made better contact as they blasted out a dozen hits in the Astrodome to turn out the lights on the Astros, 9-3.

In Southern California, a team official was quoted as stating the Dodgers were interested in reobtaining shortstop Maury Wills from Montreal.

And another member of the Dodger front office was quoted as saying "we're all for playing the Angels" in an exhibition game which had been rained out last Saturday night and left the Freeway Series tied 1-all.

The Dodgers according to the word from under the Astrodome, aren't interested in making up an exhibition game now that the National League season is underway.

Manager Walt Alston declared "the thing we're interested in now is the West Division and not an exhibition. It would be silly to use one of our starting pitchers, or to take a chance on injury."

Dodger player representative Don Drysdale agreed. "I see no logical reason for making up that game.

Of the story on Wills, Alston said "I think it's mostly rumor. I'm sure there's nothing too hot on it."

That may not seem too strong, but a denial to the benefit of such a deal came from rookie shortstop Ted Sizemore.

Sizemore hit a bases-loaded triple in the fifth inning to break a 2-all tie. An inning earlier he had doubled for his initial major league hit and he singled to produce a run in the ninth inning.

Sizemore's triple to right was the hit which gave the spark to the Dodgers but he really lit a fire when he stole home against Denny Lemaster.

The entire Dodger team came to the dugout steps to greet Sizemore.

"This fellow is a lot like Wills," said Alston. "He's not cocky but he has confidence and believes in himself. After he tripled I passed on the word to Danny (Ozark) and gave Ted the okay to steal home if he wanted to try. A lot of guys would have been reluctant, but Ted got the good jump and made it home."

The official scorer ruled an error on Astro catcher John Edwards but then changed the decision when pictures showed Sizemore

Hall Whittles 8 Ticks Off U.S. Swim Record

By JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

Rarely does a swimmer whittle more than one stopwatch tick from a national record.

But eight seconds? In a 400-yard race? Incredible!

Gary Hall, Rancho Alamitos High School senior, was credited with the incredible Friday night at the National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

He won the men's 400-yard individual medley in 4:00.85, routing the recognized American record of 4:08.9 established by Greg Buckingham, and the 4:07.7 pending record of Hans Fassnacht, Cal State Long Beach

Although Hall's competion was world class he made them look like the class of 1892. The 17-year-old won from here to Belmont Pier—or at least a half-pool length—as shrill screams ricocheted off the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool walls like a giant brass section gone mad.

As Hall completed the first leg, the 100 butterfly (53.5), Phil Houser of USC and Fassnacht were within arm's reach. As he finished the backstroke (1:54.5), Fassnacht trailed by two lengths.

At the termination of the breaststroke (3:07.2) Fassnacht was five lengths to the rear. Hall's only race was against the clock.

Dave Johnson, Yale, finished faster than the others to capture the silver medal in 4:10.40. Fassnacht, representing Phillips 66 of Long Beach in this competition, was next in 4:10.72.

Hall, somewhat less mellifluous than Chick Hearn, had plenty to say Friday.

"It's some kind of a dream to get down around four minutes. I didn't think I could do it. I would have been pleased with 4:04.

"My strategy was to take it out pretty fast and hope that I wouldn't 'die' too much. It worked out just about right. I was really pleased with my split on the last 100."

Hall rests today, then on Sunday he will tackle fellow Olympians Fassnacht and Mike Burton—the world's best — in the 1,650.

"I don't think I can beat them, but I want to see what I can do. It's a tough race, but I've been working pretty hard (12,000 yards a day)."

An American record also fell in the women's 400-yard medley relay. A Santa Clara Swim Club team of Jane Swagerty (1:00.2), Jan Henne (1:09.1), Lynn Vidali (58.9) and Linda Gustavson (52.5) was stopped at 4:00.67, breaking the record of 4:02.4 established by Santa Clara in 1968. Lakewood Aquatic Club was second in a rapid 4:02.5.

Hall's time was within centimeters of the Santa Clara relay team's record.

NICKLAUS SLIPS SIX SHOTS OFF PACE

Devlin, Casper Tied in Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Bruce Devlin plays it bold and Billy Casper plays it cool—and each man, doing his own thing, has a chance to break the Masters golf championship open today in the third round.

Devlin, the bland ex-plumber from Australia, and Casper, California's noted consumer of buffalo meat, go into the third round at the lush Augusta National Course tied for the lead at 7-under-par 137, and three strokes ahead of nearest rivals George Archer and Dan Sikes.

The rest of the contenders were even further behind, including tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus at 143, six strokes off the pace.

Which means that either 31-year-old Devlin or 37-year-old Casper has a chance, by shooting a good sub-par round, to go way out front with maybe an unbeatable lead going into Sunday's final round. Provided, of course, the other will kindly go away.

Devlin, who started the second round one stroke behind pacemaking Casper, came charging from behind with a 45-foot birdie putt on the 18th green Friday for a 2-under-par 70 that caught up with Casper's 1-under-par 71.

It was the climax of a roller-coaster round that saw Devlin commit two bogeys, on the third and fifth holes, before he picked up steam. Then he came roaring back with birdies on the seventh, 10th, 11th, and 18th. His bold attitude took charge on that No. 7, which he called "the turning point for me."

After a "perfect drive down the middle," Devlin found himself facing one of those "impossible" pin placements that the Masters officials—galled by the way the stars treated their pet course Thursday—came up with Friday to make things tougher. When he stared down for his second shot, Bruce found the flag "tucked right in behind the bunker."

"I started to play it safe," he related. "Then I thought to myself, 'Well, I'm two over already. What the hell am I trying to protect—a 78? So I went for the flag."

Boldness paid off, and his 9-iron shot dropped 12 feet past the pin. He sank the putt—and he was off and running. Even the 11th, where a horrendous eight wrecked him in the same round just a year ago—didn't faze him. "I thought I was going in the water again," he grinned. "But it didn't, and I cut myself five strokes for a three."

No such shennanigans

'I Told You So' Brunet Stops Twins

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

He had a little "I told you so" glint in his eye as he chatted with reporters. And he was smiling, too. Oh, was he smiling.

George Brunet, the veteran lefthander, was maligned in the prints as well as by enemy batters in a less-than-remarkable spring. He didn't have it anymore, complained some of his critics.

"Wait'll the season starts," was George's sharp reply. "They only count when the season starts, not in the spring."

ANGEL OF DAY

GEORGE BRUNET gave up six hits in eight innings as Angels beat Minnesota, 5-3.

Well, the season started for George Brunet Friday night. He's the ace of the Angels' staff again. The big guy, scoffed at a month ago, came within an eyelash of hurling a complete game as the Angels tripped Minnesota, 5-3, at Anaheim Stadium.

"I wanted to go nine," he said. "I pitched hard and I deserve the win. My stuff wasn't that good but I pitched hard.

"I really wanted to go all the way. But when a guy like Hoyt Wilhelm comes in to save you, well, it's a pretty good sitting in the clubhouse listening to 'strike one, two, three.' "

Brunet sailed through eight innings against the Minnies, giving up only a home run to first-year catcher George Mitterwald in the second.

But he lost his magic in the ninth as Tony Oliva and Bob Allison nailed him for back-to-back homers. That brought manager Bill Rigney running. The manager called in the knuckler, Wilhelm, and the veteran's flutterball got the Twins one, two, three—just like that.

Brunet, 13-17 last year, admitted he was a trifle worried in the early going. "I knew if I didn't do it that was it for me," he explained. "I wasn't really bothered by my spring performance. But what did bother me was the fact it made all the papers and had everyone all upset. Me? Heck, I wasn't worried."

The Frenchman's earned run average was a hulky 11.00 for the spring.

"I didn't worry about the hits or runs or ERA in the spring," he continued. "I was just working to get in shape for the season. That's when it all counts."

Big Bru hasn't always enjoyed generous backing by the Angels' baths. But he did Friday. Tom Satriano and Jay Johnstone each rifled two-run home runs off Twins' starter Jim Perry. And Joe Grzenda, the second of four Minnie hurlers, wild pitched home the fifth run.

Altogether the Halos popped out eight safeties with Johnstone and Aurelio Rodirguez getting two apiece.

The Twins, given the nod as the favorite in the American League's new West Divison though still winless after three starts, showed their expected power with the three homers. And they just might have busted things up some back in the fifth winning.

It was the only time Brunet was in jeopardy until the two solo homers chased him in the ninth. The Twins got runners to first and third with two out, Leo Cardenas the hitter and — get set, now — Harmon Kellebrew on deck.

The count went to 3-2. And the next pitch was high, a ball, but Cardenas fished for it anyway and sent a meek pop fly to Bobby Knoop at second.

Lady Luck, Mel Counts Give Lakers 95-93 Win Over Hawks

By DOUG IVES
Staff Writer

A sensational three-point play by Mel Counts and the inability of Paul Silas to make a simple lay-in enabled the Lakers to outlast Atlanta, 95-93, Friday night in their frantic opener for the NBA Western Division championship.

NBA Playoffs

Lakers 95, Atlanta 93, Lakers lead best-of-7 series, 1-0.

Games Today
No games scheduled.

The last 30 seconds was one of the wildest ever played between these two arch-rivals and 16,190 Forum fans screeched at every turn of events—and there were a flock of them packed into a very short length of time.

Counts made the big play. With 24 seconds left the hustling 7-footer leaped through two Hawks to rebound Keith Erickson's missed jumper and spin it into the hoop. He was fouled by Bill Bridges and dramatically completed the three-point play that produced the final score.

There was still plenty of action left, however. Lou Hudson's jumper at 0:13 came off the rim into the hands of Wilt Chamberlain, but it was deflected and a wild scramble ensued in which Elgin Baylor and Zelmo Beaty wound up in a jump situation.

Beaty controlled to Hudson, then Hudson spotted Silas all alone under the basket. The rugged Hawk forward had only two seconds to get the shot off and he rushed it as Erickson flashed by. The ball was short, but Silas poked at it again and so did Beaty as the Lakers watched helplessly.

The tip by Silas might have beaten the buzzer, but Beaty's never would have been allowed. It was fortunate the officials didn't have to make a decision.

The game was well played by both sides, but perhaps the most significant event was the play of Elgin Baylor, who has been lethargic in the playoffs thus far.

His two free throws at 0:54 produced the last tie, and he earned them by stealing the ball from Bridges under the Hawk basket.

"I think Elgin's coming back," said coach Bill van Breda Kolff. "He's driving the hoop more and when he does this the rest of his game gets better."

Baylor had 16 points, four above his playoff average, and 16 rebounds, eight above this morm.

The Lakers led 25-17 at the quarter and 53-40 at halftime, but the well-disciplined Hawks worked harder for their shots after intermission and soon Beaty found the range. As the Lakers wilted, the Hawks surged ahead 82-77 on the strength of a 15-3 spurt to open the fourth period.

West, Baylor and Counts contributed two baskets each down the stretch as the Lakers rallied to tie four times, then used Counts' third hoop of the period to win it

Defense agin was a major factor. The Lakers made it five consecutive games of holding the opposition below 40 per cent shooting and under 100 points.

Chamberlain, West and Bill Hewitt were the ringleaders. Wilt manner the middle admirably, West stifled the Hawks outside and Hewitt put the clamps on Lou Hudson, who got off only 14 shots in 43 minutes.

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be at the Forum Sunday.

Cards Nudge Mets, 6-5, for First Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mike Shannons' two-run ninth inning double and three hits by Joe Torre, including his first homer of the season, paced the defending National League champion St. Louis Cardinals to their first victory of the season Friday, a 6-5 triumph over the New York Mets.

With two out in the ninth and the Cardinals leading 4-2, Vada Pinson slammed his second double of the game and Torre was walked intentionally before Shannon drilled his double over centerfielder Tommie Agee's head to score both runs.

Torre, who was rumored to be on his way to New York from Atlanta during the winter, but was traded to St. Louis this spring instead, broke out of an early slump at the plate against Mets' left-hander Jerry Koosman.

After only one hit in 14 at-bats during the first three games of the season, Torre singled and doubled in his first two times up and hit a towering home run in the seventh inning.

Cubs Snare 4th in Row

CHICAGO (UPI) — Billy Williams singled with two out in the 12th inning Friday to score Don Kessinger from third base and give Chicago a 1-0 triumph over the Montreal Expos, the Cubs' fourth consecutive victory.

Carroll Sembera, the second of three Expos pitchers, got into trouble when he walked Kessinger with two out. Kessinger stole second and reached third on the play when catcher John Bateman's throw to second was high and rolled into centerfield.

Pirates Rip Phillies, 7-1

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The surprising Pittsburgh Pirates playing before their biggest home crowd in two years, won their fourth consecutive game Friday by whipping the Philadelphia Phillies 7-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Moose.

A crowd of 31,641, the largest home turnout for the Pirates since 1967, watched their faithfuls lash out 12 hits in support of Moose and hand the slumping Phillies their fourth successive loss.

Braves Win Fourth, 5-2

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda broke an eighth inning tie with his first home run of the season Friday night and helped the Atlanta Braves to a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cepeda's shot opened the inning and moved the unbeaten Braves to their fourth successive victory. Sonny Jackson drove in an insurance run with a hit later in the inning.

ing amateur athlete of 1968, finished only third in the 400 individual medley, fourth in the 200 freestyle. She is just starting serious training.

Miss Vidali won the 400 I. M. in 4:36.78, while Miss Gustavson won the freestyle in 1:54.48.

Beverly Boys of Canada won the other women's event, the platform dive, on her last attempt.

Far behind Theresa Brookbank of Phoenix, Miss Boys attempted the most difficult dive of the competition — a forward one and one-half somersault with three twists. She was awarded a towering 57.42 points, high for the evening.

Miss Brookbank totalled 40.02 on her final five, a one and one-half somersault, and lost, 361.11 to 355.11, Miena Duchkova, Olympic champion from Czechoslovakia, was third at 334.59. She has been handicapped by an ear infection.

Frank Heckl of USC won the 200 freestyle in 1:42.29, Yale the 400 medley relay in 3:30.4.

With two days remaining in the nationals, USC leads with 175 points, followed by Santa Clara Swim Club 174.5, Phillips 66 of Long Beach 151, Arden Hills of Sacramento 120, Yale 115, and Lakewood Aquatic Club 95.5.

Ryun Gets Kansas No Better Than 3rd

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Kansas State and Texas-El Paso upset Kansas in the sprint medley and distance medley relays and Texas A&I sped to the only major record of the opening night of the 42nd annual Texas Relays Friday night.

Kansas, the NCAA indoor champion which normally dominates the first leg of the Midlands' big three relay carnivals Texas, Kansas and Drake Relays — salvaged only the 880-yard relay, but picked up first places in the discus and pole vault in the individual events.

A 4:05.9 anchor lap by little Robert Gonzales carried Texas A&I to a 9:50.8 clocking in the college division distance medley in contrast to the division mark of 9:51.6 by Howard Payne in 1967.

Kansas won the 880-relay in 1:23.4 and Bob Steinhoff gave the Wildcats a medal in the pole vault with a leap of 16-6.

Kansas State got a tremendous 45.7 440 lap out of Terry Holbrook in the sprint medley and a 1:47.1 anchor lap from Ken Swenson as the Wildcats held off Kansas-led Jim Ryun in the excellent time of 3:15.6, only four-tenths of a second off the world record Kansas set here two years ago.

Ryun ran a 1:46.8, but could get Kansas no better than third place as Rice was second in 3:16.6 to Kansas' 3:16.7.

Dennis Cotner of Oklahoma won the opening event with a 51.4 clocking in the 440-yard hurdles.

World indoor two-mile record holder Kerry Pearce of Texas-El Paso ran second to teammate Ken Breen in the three-mile run. Breen, a freshman from Australia, was clocked in 13:43.9 and Pearce in 13:47.5.

DODGERS---

had beaten the throw.

It was a big night for rookies Sizemore and outfielder Bill Russell and veteran pitcher Claude Osteen.

Russell, making his first major league start, had a home run, triple and single and drove in two runs.

After grounding out in the first inning, Russell tripled to left in the third and homered into the left field stands in the sixth.

"I'm crazy about those two kids," said Osteen, who went the distance after surviving a rocky first inning when the Astros scored two runs and left the bases loaded. "Sizemore and Russell can do everything.

"They help you in the field and they help you at bat."

"There's no question but that Russell and Sizemore make us much more effective against the lefthanded pitcher," said Alston.

Their lockers are located in the same corner in the visiting clubhouse here, and that's where the reporters gathered.

"When I made an error in the third inning that was the thing which got me loose," said Sizemore. "I just felt relaxed after the error. I had kept wondering when that first error was going to come. Now it's over. I said to myself, 'Let's go now.'"

"I can't believe the things which are happening," said Russell, the youngest Dodger at age 20. "I went to spring training trying to make the Albuquerque team."

For a guy who thought about Albuquerque in February, the Astrodome truly looks like the eighth wonder of the world.

Yanks Deal Tigers First Setback, 9-4

DETROIT (UPI) — Joe Pepitone's two-run homer — his fourth hit — and a two-run homer by Roy White Friday enabled the New York Yankees to hand the defending world champion Detroit Tigers their first loss of the season, 9-4.

White's blast off losing pitcher Earl Wilson in the eighth inning snapped a 2-2 tie and Pepitone' shot off Dick Radatz in the ninth capped a four-run rally which sewed up the game.

New York helped its cause with five stolen bases and Detroit chipped in with four errors during the afternoon.

Mincher HR Paces Pilots

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Gary Bell spaced nine hits and Don Mincher powered a two-run homer Friday as the Pilots blandked the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, in Seattle's home major league baseball debut.

Mincher hit his homer, the second of the season, over the short left field fence at Sicks Stadium in the third inning to give Bell and the Pilots a 3-0 lead.

Ruddell Hurls 4th Blank as Lancers Hold Moore Lead

Mike Ruddell pitched his fourth Moore League shutout in as many starts as Lakewood High edged Poly, 2-0 Friday night at Blair Field to keep its one game lead in the Moore League baseball race.

It was the Lancers' sixth win in seven outings. Millikan remained one game back after a 6-5 afternoon win at Houghton Park against Jordan.

In the other game played at Blair, improving El Rancho won its third game in a row, 3-2, over Wilson.

Ruddell struck out the first eight batters he faced and wound up fanning 12 while allowing only three hits. The strong righthander now has 64 strikeouts in 37 innings this season and is 7-0.

Larry O'Brien scored the game's only runs, in the first on a Poly error and in the third on Al Lemmerman's two out single to center.

Poly, which has now gone 21 innings without scoring, threatened only once. In the fourth George Ambrow walked and Jerry Mantlo laced a long double to right. A good relay from O'Brien to Tony Piraino got the sliding Ambrow at home.

Dave Chorley and Russ Caldarella hit home runs in Millikan's win over Jordan, but it was a costly error in the fifth inning that turned out to be the key play in the Rams' win.

With runners on first and second, Chorley hit a fly ball that the Jordan left fielder dropped and enabled Caldarella and Rand Rasmussen to race home with what proved to be the deciding runs.

Jordan outhit Millikan 10-5, but had a hard time putting everything together. Dennis Kirksey drove in two runs for the Panthers.

Steve Rosen stroked a two-out single in the sixth inning with runners on second and third to score two runs and give El Rancho its win over Wilson.

Rosen's hit brought home Ken Matthews and John Egan and enabled Barry Beecher to turn back the Bruins after a shaky start.

Pius X Halts Saints On Edwards' 1-Hitter

By RICK ARTHUR

Pius X, paced by the one-hit pitching of Bob Edwards, scored a 4-1 Angelus League baseball victory over St. Anthony High Friday at Wardlow Park field.

The Warriors touched St. Anthony starting pitcher Terrill Coker for three runs on two hits, two errors and a hit batsman in the fourth inning. The lone Saint run came in the sixth when Marc Landry walked, advanced to second on a walk to Ken Yokoyama and scored on a fielding error by the third baseman.

Coker suffered his first loss on the year against four wins. St. Anthony is 1-1 in the league.

Cards Nudge Mets, 6-5, for First Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mike Shannons' two-run ninth inning double and three hits by Joe Torre, including his first homer of the season, paced the defending National League champion St. Louis Cardinals to their first victory of the season Friday, a 6-5 triumph over the New York Mets.

With two out in the ninth and the Cardinals leading 4-2, Vada Pinson slammed his second double of the game and Torre was walked intentionally before Shannon drilled his double over centerfielder Tommie Aggee's head to score both runs.

Torre, who was rumored to be on his way to New York from Atlanta during the winter, but was traded to St. Louis this spring instead, broke out of an early slump at the plate against Mets' left-hander Jerry Koosman.

After only one hit in 14 at-bats during the first three games of the season, Torre singled and doubled in his first two times up and hit a towering home run in the seventh inning.

Cubs Snare 4th in Row

CHICAGO (UPI) — Billy Williams singled with two out in the 12th inning Friday to score Don Kessinger from third base and give Chicago a 1-0 triumph over the Montreal Expos, the Cubs' fourth consecutive victory.

Carroll Sembera, the second of three Expos pitchers, got into trouble when he walked Kessinger with two out. Kessinger stole second and reached third on the play when catcher John Bateman's throw to second was high and rolled into centerfield.

Pirates Rip Phillies, 7-1

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The surprising Pittsburgh Pirates playing before their biggest home crowd in two years, won their fourth consecutive game Friday by whipping the Philadelphia Phillies 7-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Moose.

A crowd of 31,641, the largest home turnout for the Pirates since 1967, watched their faithfuls lash out 12 hits in support of Moose and hand the slumping Phillies their fourth successive loss.

Braves Win Fourth, 5-2

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda broke an eighth inning tie with his first home run of the season Friday night and helped the Atlanta Braves to a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cepeda's shot opened the inning and moved the unbeaten Braves to their fourth successive victory. Sonny Jackson drove in an insurance run with a hit later in the inning.

ing amateur athlete of 1968, finished only third in the 400 individual medley, fourth in the 200 freestyle. She is just starting serious training.

Miss Vidali won the 400 I. M. in 4:36.78, while Miss Gustavson won the freestyle in 1:54.48.

Beverly Boys of Canada won the other women's event, the platform dive, on her last attempt.

Far behind Theresa Brookbank of Phoenix, Miss Boys attempted the most difficult dive of the competition — a forward one and one-half somersault with three twists. She was awarded a towering 57.42 points, high for the evening.

Miss Brookbank totalled 40.02 on her final five, a one and one-half somersault, and lost, 361.11 to 355.11, Miena Duchkova, Olympic champion from Czechoslovakia, was third at 334.59. She has been handicapped by an ear infection.

Frank Heckl of USC won the 200 freestyle in 1:42.29, Yale the 400 medley relay in 3:30.4.

With two days remaining in the nationals, USC leads with 175 points, followed by Santa Clara Swim Club 174.5, Phillips 66 of Long Beach 151, Arden Hills of Sacramento 120, Yale 115, and Lakewood Aquatic Club 95.5.

Ryun Gets Kansas No Better Than 3rd

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Kansas State and Texas-El Paso upset Kansas in the sprint medley and distance medley relays and Texas A&I sped to the only major record of the opening night of the 42nd annual Texas Relays Friday night.

Kansas, the NCAA indoor champion which normally dominates the first leg of the Midlands' big three relay carnivals Texas, Kansas and Drake Relays — salvaged only the 880-yard relay, but picked up first places in the discus and pole vault in the individual events.

A 4:05.9 anchor lap by little Robert Gonzales carried Texas A&I to a 9:50.8 clocking in the college division distance medley in contrast to the division mark of 9:51.6 by Howard Payne in 1967.

Kansas won the 880-relay in 1:23.4 and Bob Steinhoff gave the Wildcats a medal in the pole vault with a leap of 16-6.

Kansas State got a tremendous 45.7 440 lap out of Terry Holbrook in the sprint medley and a 1:47.1 anchor lap from Ken Swenson as the Wildcats held off Kansas-led Jim Ryun in the excellent time of 3:15.6, only four-tenths of a second off the world record Kansas set here two years ago.

Ryun ran a 1:46.8, but could get Kansas no better than third place as Rice was second in 3:16.6 to Kansas' 3:16.7.

Dennis Cotner of Oklahoma won the opening event with a 51.4 clocking in the 440-yard hurdles.

World indoor two-mile record holder Kerry Pearce of Texas-El Paso ran second to teammate Ken Breen in the three-mile run. Breen, a freshman from Australia, was clocked in 13:43.9 and Pearce in 13:47.5.

had beaten the throw.

It was a big night for rookies Sizemore and outfielder Bill Russell and veteran pitcher Claude Osteen.

Russell, making his first major league start, had a home run, triple and single and drove in two runs.

After grounding out in the first inning, Russell tripled to left in the third and homered into the left field stands in the sixth.

"I'm crazy about those two kids," said Osteen, who went the distance after surviving a rocky first inning when the Astros scored two runs and left the bases loaded. "Sizemore and Russell can do everything.

"They help you in the field and they help you at bat."

"There's no question but that Russell and Sizemore make us much more effective against the lefthanded pitcher," said Alston.

Their lockers are located in the same corner in the visiting clubhouse here, and that's where the reporters gathered.

"When I made an error in the third inning that was the thing which got me loose," said Sizemore. "I just felt relaxed after the error. I had kept wondering when that first error was going to come. Now it's over. I said to myself, 'Let's go now.'"

"I can't believe the things which are happening," said Russell, the youngest Dodger at age 20. "I went to spring training trying to make the Albuquerque."

For a guy who thought about Albuquerque in February, the Astrodome truly looks like the eighth wonder of the world.

Yanks Deal Tigers First Setback, 9-4

DETROIT (UPI) — Joe Pepitone's two-run homer — his fourth hit — and a two-run homer by Roy White Friday enabled the New York Yankees to hand the defending world champion Detroit Tigers their first loss of the season, 9-4.

White's blast off losing pitcher Earl Wilson in the eighth inning snapped a 2-2 tie and Pepitone' shot off Dick Radetz in the ninth capped a four-run rally which sewed up the game.

New York helped its cause with five stolen bases and Detroit chipped in with four errors during the afternoon.

Royals Drop First to A's

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim "Catfish" Hunter pitched a six-hitter and the Oakland A's shut out the Kansas City Royals 5-0 Friday night, tagging the expansionist Royals with their first loss.

Hunter, a 13-game winner last year, struck out six and walked two and was never in serious trouble.

Mincher HR Paces Pilots

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Gary Bell spaced nine hits and Don Mincher powered a two-run homer Friday as the Pilots blandked the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, in Seattle's home major league baseball debut.

Mincher hit his homer, the second of the season, over the short left field fence at Sicks Stadium in the third inning to give Bell and the Pilots a 3-0 lead.

Ruddell Hurls 4th Blank as Lancers Hold Moore Lead

Mike Ruddell pitched his fourth Moore League shutout in as many starts as Lakewood High edged Poly, 2-0 Friday night at Blair Field to keep its one game lead in the Moore League baseball race.

It was the Lancers' sixth win in seven outings. Millikan remained one game back after a 6-5 afternoon win at Houghton Park against Jordan.

Friday's Results
Millikan 6, Jordan 5.
El Rancho 3, Wilson 2.
Lakewood 2, Poly 0.

In the other game played at Blair, improving El Rancho won its third game in a row, 3-2 over Wilson.

Ruddell struck out the first eight batters he faced and wound up fanning 12 while allowing only three hits. The strong righthander now has 64 strikeouts in 37 innings this season and is 7-0.

Larry O'Brien scored the game's only runs, in the first on a Poly error and in the third on Al Lemmerman's two out single to center.

Poly, which has now gone 21 innings without scoring, threatened only once. In the fourth George Ambrow walked and Jerry Mantlo laced a long double to right. A good relay from O'Brien to Tony Piraino got the sliding Ambrow at home.

Dave Chorley and Russ Caldarella hit home runs in Millikan's win over Jordan, but it was a costly error in the fifth inning that turned out to be the key play in the Rams' win.

With runners on first and second, Chorley hit a fly ball that the Jordan left fielder dropped and enabled Caldarella and Rand Rasmussen to race home with what proved to be the deciding runs.

Jordan outhit Millikan 10-5, but had a hard time putting everything together. Dennis Kirksey drove in two runs for the Panthers.

Steve Rosen stroked a two-out single in the sixth inning with runners on second and third to score two runs and give El Rancho its win over Wilson.

Rosen's hit brought home Ken Matthews and John Egan and enabled Barry Beecher to turn back the Bruins after a shaky start.

Pius X Halts Saints on Roberts' 1-Hitter

By RICK ARTHUR

Pius X, paced by the one-hit pitching of Bob Edwards, scored a 4-1 Angelus League baseball victory over St. Anthony High Friday at Wardlow Park field.

The Warriors touched St. Anthony starting pitcher Terrill Coker for three runs on two hits, two errors and a hit batsman in the fourth inning. The lone Saint run came in the sixth when Marc Landry walked, advanced to second on a walk to Ken Yokoyama and scored on a fielding error by the third baseman.

Coker suffered his first loss on the year against four wins. St. Anthony is 1-1 in the league.

ROBERTS RUNS OUT OF JAM

Jordan High's Ken Roberts was credited with stolen base in fourth inning Friday thanks to wide throw. Rand Rasmussen (36) retrieves ball while Millikan's Chris Kinder backs up play. Roberts had been picked off first base, but escaped when first baseman's throw to Rasmussen was off target. Millikan edged Jordan, 6-5, at Houghton Park.

SC, OREGON SPIKERS VIE TODAY
49ERS HOST FULLERTON, VALLEY

It's Freeway Week in track and field — except for Cal State Long Beach followers.

Today at 1:15 p.m., the 49ers entertain Cal State Fullerton and San Fernando Valley State.

Long Beach, unbeaten in dual competition, will be favored — barely. The 49ers lead the CCAA in four events — 440-yard hurdles, Mike Edelstein, 54.1; discus, Tom Kirkwood, 171-5; mile relay, 3:16.0, and 440, Gary Carlson, 48.2 (Ed Ricke second, 49.2).

Valley is No. 1 in the 440 relay, 41.8, and javelin with Rolf Hoppe, 235-4.

"If we do a good job," 49er coach Jack Rose predicts, we should be able to beat Valley and Fullerton. But, it will be very close.

"We are unbeaten in dual and triangular meets and at home and we'd like to keep it that way," Rose added. "If anyone wants to see a good, clean, competitive meet, this is it."

The Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, gradually approaching outdoor title form, takes on San Diego State, 11:30 a.m., on the Aztec track.

The PCCers will switch crack miler John Lawson to the steeplechase, Vince McArdle and Greg Heet to the intermediate hurdles. Seven-foot high jumper John Dobroth, girding for the decathlon, will participate in the high hurdles, 440 relay, javelin, high jump and long jump.

USC and Oregon, who rank among the nation's better teams, meet in the Coliseum, 9:45 a.m., while UCLA, which might be better than either of them, engages Stanford on the Bruin track, 1:15 p.m. Occidental faces tough Redlands on the Bulldog field, 7:30 p.m.

POLY ROCKETS PAST WILSON

Lancers Roll by Jordan Spikers

Bob Somesan clocked the fastest two-mile in Long Beach this year as visiting Lakewood High rolled to a 94-24 Moore League track victory over Jordan Friday.

Somesan, a veteran of three seasons on Lakewood track teams, broke the tape in 9:24.3 to highlight a meet which saw the Lancers win all but one event.

Cal Gipson scored a double in the hurdles events with 15.6 and 19.8 clockings while teammate Larry Greer won the mile in 4:28.9. Steve Lauriano launched the shot 59-4 while brother Larry won the long jump at 20-9 and placed second in the 220 dash.

Poly had little trouble in dispatching Wilson, 88-30, in another featured meet on the winners' field.

Jim Chaffin, although off his best of 4:21.5, ran a 4:27.8 mile to set a meet record while both Jackrabbit relay teams also posted meet records.

The big story, however, was Bob Stockton, who won the 100 in a sizzling 9.8 and the 120 high hurdles in 15.2 despite a painful foot injury.

Pierre Stockton collected 10 points for the Jackrabbits with a double in the 440 and 880 in times of 51.2 and 1:58.2. Bill Coon stretched 22-2 in the long jump.

Bob Langston's double in the 220 and 440 paced Millikan to a 69-49 victory over host El Rancho.

Brady Hurls LBCC Into Second Place

Long Beach City College scored three runs without a hit in the first inning and then coasted to a 9-4 Metropolitan Conference win over Pasadena City College Friday at Blair Field.

The win pushed the Vikings into sole possession of second place with an 8-5 record. The Vikings travel to Bakersfield College today to conclude the second round of Metro action.

Jim Martinez and Ed Crosby opened the first inning by getting on base via consecutive Lancer errors. Two walks, two passed balls and three wild pitches later, the Vikings had a 3-0 lead.

Tim Brady pitched his first complete game of the year in moving his record to 6-4.

Jay Morrison was the only Viking to collect more than one hit with two singles and two runs batted in. Six other Vikings hit safely in the game that found Pasadena outhitting LBCC, 14-8.

The Vikings broke the game open in the fifth with a four-run uprising to take an 8-1 lead. Walks to Crosby and Doug Smallwood and singles by Glenn Berberet, Morrison and Mike Davis coupled with an error and Ray Colin's sacrifice fly accounted for the scores.

UNIFORM, DUGOUT CHANGES PROVE LUCKY

Cal State Lashes Fresno, 15-2

Frustrated by six losses in its last eight games, Cal State Long Beach's baseball team changed uniforms and dugouts Friday and then buried visiting Fresno State, 15-2, in a California Collegiate Athletic Assn. game on the campus field.

"We may try it again Saturday," 49er coach Bob Wuesthoff said after his club had totalled season highs in hits (17) and runs while dealing Fresno its first CCAA loss in four games.

The clubs meet twice today at Blair Field, beginning at noon.

"What really won it for us," Wuesthoff admitted, "was a couple of key hits. The big one was Jim Carter's single in the first."

Carter's single came with two out and runners at second and third. He moved to second on an outfield error and scored on Bill Hackett's base hit, giving Long Beach a four-run inning.

Carter's hit was crucial because Dale Duncan and Jim Seida opened the game with singles and Charlie Beech walked. Duncan scored on a wild pitch but the rally appeared dead when the next two batters struck out. Then Carter got things going again.

The 49ers picked up three more in the third on singles by Beech, Mike Lewis and Steve Brown, a force out and a two-run double by Mike Burns.

A five-run fourth came on a Seida single, an error, a two-run double by Lewis, a walk, a run-scoring single by Carter, a walk and a two-run base hit by Burns.

Long Beach concluded its afternoon with a three-run homer by Pat Puccinelli in the eighth.

Fresno, meanwhile, managed only three hits off Randy Moffitt, who struck out eight while winning his second game.

Vikes Avenge Only '68 Loss by Stunning Valley Spikers

Long Beach City College, buoyed by a series of season bests, easily defeated Valley College Friday, 92-43, in a Metropolitan Conference dual meet on the Viking Field.

Dave Fields started things off for the Vikings, now 5-1, with a 50-3¼ shotput, the first time he's reached the 50-foot mark this season. He doubled in the discus with a 140-2½ toss.

Things picked up from there for Joe Lanning's defending co-champion Vikings, who avenged their only dual meet loss of 1968 to the Monarchs, also defending co-champions.

Jim Thomas, the running captain, zipped to his lifetime best (49.5) in the quartermile and then Alan Tobin flashed a season best in the 440 intermediate hurdles with a swift 55.2 clocking.

Jerry Caine ran 9:23.8 in the two-mile to knock 12 seconds off his previous best time, but finished second to Valley's Wayne Estes, who set a meet record, 9:14.9.

Hardie Massengill scored a double in the sprints, but in much slower fashion than he is accustomed to. Melvin Johnson triple jumped 46-1½ to win that event.

Wilson's Swimmers Cinch Title

Mike Brousard nipped Greg Vanley by a fingertip in the 100-yard breaststroke to give Wilson High a 46-40 Moore League swim win over Lakewood and at least a tie for the Moore title.

Brousard's win clinched a tie for the Bruins, who came back to win the 400-freestyle relay and the dual meet.

Lakewood's 200 medley relay team, and Steve Genter in the 200 individual medley, set school records and high school all-America standards.

Wilson has a 6-0 record while Lakewood and Downey are tied for second with 5-1 marks.

Vikes Crack PCC's Skein

Long Beach City College's gymnastic team snapped Pasadena City College's 190 dual meet win streak Friday with a narrow 163.765-162.225 win in the Lancer gym.

The Vikings, coached by John Draghi, finished second to Pasadena in the State championships last year. PCC has won the past seven state titles.

Rick Swartz, Gary Albitz and Bob Mahorney swept the rings while Dale Fage won the free exercise and Chuck Stettler the horizontal bar.

Nitehawks Win in 9th

The Long Beach Nitehawks opened the Western Softball Congress season Friday night, scoring a pair of runs in the bottom of the ninth without benefit of a hit to defeat San Diego Sub-Flot No. 1, 2-0, at Park Avenue Field.

Dick Murrane led off with a bunt and was safe when second baseman Danny Dumont dropped catcher Dick Harkins' throw at first. Nick Hopkins then bunted and Harkins' throw to second attempting to force Morrane was wild, and both base runners scored.

SC, OREGON SPIKERS VIE TODAY
49ERS HOST FULLERTON, VALLEY

It's Freeway Week in track and field — except for Cal State Long Beach followers.

Today at 1:15 p.m., the 49ers entertain Cal State Fullerton and San Fernando Valley State.

Long Beach, unbeaten in dual competition, will be favored — barely. The 49ers lead the CCAA in four events — 440-yard hurdles, Mike Edelstein, 54.1; discus, Tom Kirkwood, 171-5; mile relay, 3:16.0, and 440, Gary Carlson, 48.2 (Ed Ricke second, 49.2).

Valley is No. 1 in the 440 relay, 41.8, and javelin with Rolf Hoppe, 235-4.

"If a good job," 49er coach Jack Rose predicts, "we should be able to beat Valley and Fullerton. But, it will be very close.

"We are unbeaten in dual and triangular meets and at home and we'd like to keep it that way," Rose added. "If anyone wants to see a good, clean, competitive meet, this is it."

The Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, gradually approaching outdoor title form, takes on San Diego State, 11:30 a.m., on the Aztec track.

The PCCers will switch crack miler John Lawson to the steeplechase, Vince McArdle and Greg Heet to the intermediate hurdles. Seven-foot high jumper John Dobroth, girding for the decathlon, will participate in the high hurdles, 440 relay, javelin, high jump and long jump.

USC and Oregon, who rank among the nation's better teams, meet in the Coliseum, 9:45 a.m., while UCLA, which might be better than either of them, engages Stanford on the Bruin track, 1:15 p.m. Occidental faces tough Redlands on the Bulldog field, 7:30 p.m.

UNIFORM, DUGOUT CHANGES PROVE LUCKY
Cal State Lashes Fresno, 15-2

Frustrated by six losses in its last eight games, Cal State Long Beach's baseball team changed uniforms and dugouts Friday and then buried visiting Fresno State, 15-2, in a California Collegiate Athletic Assn. game on the campus field.

"We may try it again today," 49er coach Bob Wuesthoff said after his club had totalled season highs in hits (17) and runs while dealing Fresno its first CCAA loss in four games.

The clubs meet twice today at Blair Field, beginning at noon.

"What really won it for us," Wuesthoff admitted, "was a couple of key hits. The big one was Jim Carter's single in the first."

Carter's single came with two out and runners at second and third. He moved to second on an outfield error and scored on Bill Hackett's base hit, giving Long Beach a four-run inning.

Carter's hit was crucial because Dale Duncan and Jim Seida opened the game with singles and Charlie Beech walked. Duncan scored on a wild pitch but the rally appeared dead when the next two batters struck out. Then Carter got things going again.

The 49ers picked up three more in the third on singles by Beech, Mike Lewis and Steve Brown, a force out and a two-run double by Mike Burns.

A five-run fourth came on a Seida single, an error, a two-run double by Lewis, a walk, a run-scoring single by Carter, a walk and a two-run base hit by Burns.

Long Beach concluded its afternoon with a three-run homer by Larry Puccinelli in the eighth.

Fresno, meanwhile, managed only three hits off Randy Moffitt, who struck out eight while winning his second game.

Vikes Avenge Only '68 Loss by Stunning Valley Spikers

Long Beach City College, buoyed by a series of season bests, easily defeated Valley College Friday, 92-43, in a Metropolitan Conference dual meet on the Viking Field.

Dave Fields started things off for the Vikings, now 5-1, with a 50-3¼ shotput, the first time he's reached the 50-foot mark this season. He doubled in the discus with a 140-2½ toss.

Things picked up from there for Joe Lanning's defending co-champion Vikings, who avenged their only dual meet loss of 1968 to the Monarchs, also defending co-champions.

Jim Thomas, the running captain, zipped to his lifetime best (49.5) in the quartermile and then Alan Tobin flashed a season best in the 440 intermediate hurdles with a swift 55.2 clocking.

Jerry Caine ran 9:23.8 in the two-mile to knock 12 seconds off his previous best time, but finished second to Valley's Wayne Estes, who set a meet record, 9:14.9.

Hardie Massengill scored a double in the sprints, but in much slower fashion than he is accustomed to. Melvin Johnson triple jumped 46-1½ to win that event.

Vikes Crack PCC's Skein

Long Beach City College's gymnastic team snapped Pasadena City College's 190 dual meet win streak Friday with a narrow 163.765-162.225 win in the Lancer gym.

The Vikings, coached by John Draghi, finished second to Pasadena in the State championships last year. PCC has won the past seven state titles.

Rick Swartz, Gary Albitz and Bob Mahorney swept the rings while Dale Fage won the free exercise and Chuck Stettler the horizontal bar.

Nitehawks Win in 9th

The Long Beach Nitehawks opened the Western Softball Congress season Friday night, scoring a pair of runs in the bottom of the ninth without benefit of a hit to defeat San Diego Sub-Flot No. 1, 2-0, at Park Avenue Field.

Dick Murrane led off with a bunt and was safe when second baseman Danny Dumont dropped catcher Dick Harkins' throw at first. Nick Hopkins then bunted and Harkins' throw to second attempting to force Morrane was wild, and both base runners scored.

Wilson's Swimmers Cinch Title

Mike Brousard nipped Greg Vanley by a fingertip in the 100-yard breaststroke to give Wilson High a 46-40 Moore League swim win over Lakewood and at least a tie for the Moore title.

Brousard's win clinched a tie for the Bruins; who came back to win the 400-freestyle relay and the dual meet.

Lakewood's 200 medley relay team, and Steve Genter in the 200 individual medley, set school records and high school all-America standards.

Wilson has a 6-0 record while Lakewood and Downey are tied for second with 5-1 marks.

POLY ROCKETS PAST WILSON
Lancers Roll by Jordan Spikers

Bob Somesan clocked the fastest two-mile in Long Beach this year as visiting Lakewood High rolled to a 94-24 Moore League track victory over Jordan Friday.

Somesan, a veteran of three seasons on Lakewood track teams, broke the tape in 9:24.3 to highlight a meet which saw the Lancers win all but one event.

Cal Gipson scored a double in the hurdles events with 15.6 and 19.8 clockings while teammate Larry Greer won the mile in 4:28.9. Steve Lauriano launched the shot 59-4 while brother Larry won the long jump at 20-9 and placed second in the 220 dash.

Poly had little trouble in dispatching Wilson, 88-30, in another featured meet on the winners' field.

Jim Chaffin, although off his best of 4:21.5, ran a 4:27.8 mile to set a meet record while both Jackrabbit relay teams also posted meet records.

The big story, however, was Bob Stockton, who won the 100 in a sizzling 9.8 and the 120 high hurdles in 15.2 despite a painful foot injury.

Pierre Stockton collected 10 points for the Jackrabbits with a double in the 440 and 880 in times of 51.2 and 1:58.2. Bill Coon stretched 22-2 in the long jump.

Bob Langston's double in the 220 and 440 paced Millikan to a 69-49 victory over host El Rancho.

Brady Hurls LBCC Into Second Place

Long Beach City College scored three runs without a hit in the first inning and then coasted to a 9-4 Metropolitan Conference win over Pasadena City College Friday at Blair Field.

The win pushed the Vikings into sole possession of second place with an 8-5 record. The Vikings travel to Bakersfield College today to conclude the second round of Metro action.

Jim Martinez and Ed Crosby opened the first inning by getting on base via consecutive Lancer errors. Two walks, two passed balls and three wild pitches later, the Vikings had a 3-0 lead.

Tim Brady pitched his first complete game of the year in moving his record to 6-4.

Jay Morrison was the only Viking to collect more than one hit with two singles and two runs batted in. Six other Vikings hit safely in the game that found Pasadena outhitting LBCC 14-8.

The Vikings broke the game open in the fifth with a four-run uprising to take an 8-1 lead. Walks to Crosby and Doug Smallwood and singles by Glenn Berberet, Morrison and Mike Davis coupled with an error and Ray Colin's sacrifice fly accounted for the scores.

Indulto Surprises in Hollypark Inaugural

Stretch-running Indulto survived a claim of foul and scored a mild upset victory Friday in the $28,150 Premiere Handicap as Hollywood Park launched its 30th thoroughbred season.

With the heavily bet favorite, Rising Market, finishing third Jockey Don Pierce guided Indulto under the wire about a length in front of longshot Title Game.

Jockey Wayne Harris, who finished fourth on Pataha Prince, lodged a protest against Indulto, claiming interference in the stretch. After a brief look at the film of the race, the stewards overruled him.

Indulto carried 120 pounds, five less than Rising Market, and was the second betting choice of an opening day turnout of 31,928 gathered under hazy skies.

The time for the six furlongs on a fast track was 1:08 2-5. Indulto, a 6-year-old owned by Mrs. Edward Lasker, paid $10.40, $5.60 and $3.20; Title Game paid $9 and $4.40 and Rising Market $2.60.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker sent Rising Market out on the pace with Title Game while Indulto was held well back. Prise Jay and War Emperor offered some challenge to the front runners but there was no stopping Indulto in his stretch run and it was Title Game who hung on and Rising Market who fell back.

Indulto won the Sierra Madre Handicap on the grass during the recent Santa Anita meeting. This was the 19th sprint for Rising Market, who still has never finished worse than third.

Nine horses started and the winning owner collected $16,900.

Many of the opening day fans were on hand long before the program began to attend a special ceremony dedicating a monument to the California-bred champion, Native Diver.

The companion feature, the $8,500 Native Diver Purse, appropriately went to Nice Mistake, who like The 'Diver, is a black gelding. And it was the 'Diver's rider and trainer, Jerry Lambert and Buster Millerick, who fashioned the victory.

The biggest payoff of the day was the $105 return registered by Eagle Fly, who won fourth race under veteran Merlin Volzke, the hero of the longshot clan.

Fleet Kirsch, whose record-setting victory in the richest race in Hollywood Park history last summer earned him the two-year-old championship of the season, will attempt to pick up where he left off with that triumph today when he faces six rivals in the 18th running of the $26,800 Debonair Stakes.

The six-furlong test for three-year-old colts and geldings will highlight the first of 15 gala Saturday programs during the 75-day Inglewood session.

Post-time for the nine-race program will be 1:15 p.m. and there will be no "live" television coverage of the sprint event.

CRAZY LUCK broke on top, raced close up to the stretch without need of urging, rallied steadily from the outside, wore down TIE MY SHOES and won in full stride. FLEET BOATSWAIN broke in stride, saved ground along the rail, took up on the turn and checked intermittently in the drive. TIE MY SHOE broke fast, rushed into command early, took a breather on the turn but slackened in the late stages.

Scratched—Leather Lungs, Little Hillarry, Princess Nora, Admiral's Mila, Trabuco, Currabor.

TARGET DAY was urged forward soon after the start, engaged in a duel with track surveyor for the lead, saved ground and won narrowly. TRACK SURVEYOR broke in stride, shared the early lead, drew off with the winner, offered his best bid in the upper stretch and responded to the end. STELLAKO was sandwiched through the stretch and could only be hand ridden.

Scratched—Mr. Holme, Royals Kaled.

DAILY DOUBLE, 4-CRAZY LUCK & 3-TARGET DAY, PAID $185.60.

Start good from gate, won easily.
Mutuel pool—$264,037.

OLYMPIAD WORLD broke on top, shared the early lead with GAINSTERNE, disposed of that one when settled in the stretch, drew off and won with speed to spare. SAND CANYON broke slowly, checked early while in traffic along the rail, swung to the outside, rallied wide, responded to left hand urging and finished eagerly. GAINSTERNE forced the winner to the stretch and weakened.

Scratched—D'Artagnan, Without Reason, Artful Envoy, Trubo, Nostromo, Chellean.

Mutuel pool—$344,629.

EAGLE FLY dropped back at the start, moved to the outside down the backstretch for room, moved nearer on the final turn, cut between horses in the drive to wear down the leaders and won going away. PADEROSO lagged early, rallied from the outside, drifted out in the upper stretch and hung. ADVANCE GUARD broke alertly, shared the lead, saved ground and lacked a closing kick.

Scratched—Far To Reach.

RIVA, under a well executed ride, raced on her own courage to the stretch, rallied in the middle of the course when settled in the stretch, wore down horses late and nipped SCHATZI PIE in the final strides. The latter broke on top, set the early pace without need of urging, showed speed through the stretch but could not contain the winner. SUMMER SORROW offered her best bid from along the rail mid way on the final turn and hung.

No scratches.

BIN MARK took up on the far turn while lacking room along the inside, rallied from the outside all through the stretch and took a desperate decision from LITTLE WILSON HILL. The latter broke alertly, shared the early lead with KEEN KUTTER, discouraged that one, responded to battle with the winner and just failed to last. FOOT THE BILL was outrun early, rallied from between horses in the upper stretch but could make little impact.

INDULTO broke alertly, dropped back, caught his best stride while blocked on the stretch turn, manuevered for room mid-way in the drive, cut between horses late, drove clear and won going away. TITLE GAME rushed up soon after the start to share the lead, saved ground, responded for the drive but was not good enough. RISING MARKET battled for the early lead from between horses, slackened in the upper stretch and then hung. PATAHA PRINCE raced close up early from along the inside, brushed with the winner while attempting to rally through the same opening in the drive and could make little headway. BAFFLE fell back at the start. OTTAWA HILLS raced wide around the stretch turn. WAR EMPEROR lost ground attending the pace and tired. PRAISE JAY took up in the stretch when squeezed along the rail. The rider on PATAHA PRINCE claimed foul against the winner. The stewards ruled against an infraction and the claim was not allowed.

Scratched—Grey Host, Kay Rolla, Teresio, Speedy King.

Seals Rate Edge at Home Over Kings, or Do They?

By RICH ROBERTS
Staff Writer

OAKLAND — "Seventh game, if necessary, at Oakland," they said and, boy, is it ever necessary!

It will be the most necessary game of the season for the Kings and Seals Sunday night (Ch. 5, 7 p.m.) when they settle their Stanley Cup quarterfinals. The winner goes on to St. Louis, where the Blues await the start of the semifinals Tuesday night.

It's Oakland's home game, so the Seals must rate an edge. Or do they?

"Basically, yes," Seal coach Fred Glover says realistically, if hesitantly. "But this is only one game, so percentages don't apply. I don't think it's an edge at all."

Gary Smith, the Seals' boyish 6-4 goaltender, isn't making predictions, either. His brother Brian played for the Kings when they met Minnesota at home in the seventh game of last season's quarterfinals.

"Look what happened," Smith said. "What was the score, 9-4"

Smith, who was second fiddle to veteran Charlie Hodge when the season opened, has been an inspiration to the Seals in the series, establishing his National Hockey League credentials.

Late in Thursday's 4-3 loss to the Kings at the Forum, the Seals became so bogged down that Smith launched a rush himself, carrying the puck almost to the center red line before passing off.

"I was looking for a break," he admitted. "The two defensemen didn't even see me. They just kept backing up."

Two years ago, playing for Toronto, Smith caused a large stir when he did the same thing in a game at Montreal. It sent league officials to the rule book, where they discovered that goalies are prohibited from crossing the center line.

The ice itself may have been a factor in the Seals' frustration. They prefer their own surface at home to the Forum's frozen floor.

"Ours is far better ice," Glover says. "It's faster ice."

Even King coach Red Kelly agrees: "I don't know why our ice is slow, but the puck slides better at Oakland and you don't have to push so hard to skate."

Again, the change in ice offers no edge. The Kings and Seals are strong skating clubs who will play better on a faster surface.

And the mere fact that it's a road game won't necessarily erase the Kings, who won only six away from the Forum all season. Two of those wins were at Oakland, including last week's 5-4 overtime opener.

What counts, in the end, will be who puts the most pucks in the other guy's net.

BLUE LINES: Second game of the semifinals will be at St. Louis Thursday. Third and fourth games will be at the Forum or Oakland Saturday and Sunday nights . . . Should the Kings win, they'll fly to St. Louis from Oakland Monday, without returning home. . . . The Seals, outgunning the Kings by 22 goals to 18, have 16 top six scorers in the series, led by Earl Ingarfield with 3 goals and 4 assists for 7 points. Ted Hampson is 3-3—6. Six Kings have four points each—Gary Croteau, 3-1—4; Ed Joyal, 2-2—4; Real Lemieux, 1-3—4; Dale Rolfe, 0-4—4; Ted Irvine, 3-1—4, and Bill Flett, 1-3—4 . . . Then Kings have scored four goals while shorthanded this season and three have been by Lowell MacDonald, including Thursday's.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

The likeable gaucho from Argentina, Roberto De Vicenzo, failed to make the 148 cut at the Masters Friday, but he'll be back for the third round today.

CRUMP

VENTURI

Roberto will be one of many spectators expected to patrol the lush fairways at Augusta. "I like this tournament. I wanna see who wins.

"I no root for anybody in particular. I have too many friends there," said the 46-year-old veteran. "But I like to see young fella win. I hope to see so many tie that I can come watch playoff Monday."

* * * *

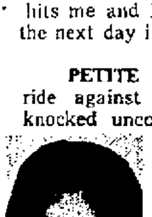
KEN VENTURI, 1964 U.S. Open Champion who has been suffering from circulatory trouble in his hands for three years, has had his share of problems, too.

"The only thing I don't know how to do is quit," said Venturi, while denying a published report he will forsake the PGA tour. Venturi also failed to make the Masters cut with a disastrous 83 in the first round.

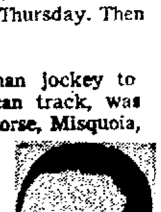
"I've had my problems but I plan to continue fighting this thing. You just never can tell. Sometimes this hits me and I have a bad day, as I did Thursday. Then the next day it may be all right."

* * * *

PETITE DIANE CRUMP, first woman jockey to ride against men at a major American track, was knocked unconscious Friday when her horse, Misquoia, went down in a bad spill in the fourth race at Gulfstream Park. "I was out cold for awhile," the 20-year-old Miss Crump said. "But I walked to the ambulance. I'll be riding again just as soon as I get out of here."



ELLIS



BROWN

Promoter Jack Solomons announced that 34-year-old Briton Henry Cooper, European heavyweight champion, will meet WBA champion Jimmy Ellis in a title bout later this year . . . The Belgian Grand Prix may not take place this year because drivers rate the Francorchamps circuit as "too dangerous." Scottish ace Jackie Stewart called it the "most dangerous in the world" and said many Formula One drivers may not participate unless extra security measures are undertaken . . . A field of 26 USAC championship Indy cars will race in Sunday's $30,000 California 200 at Hanford Motor Speedway . . . Larry Brown, former North Carolina star now playing with Oakland of the ABA, was selected coach at Davidson College, succeeding Lefty Driesell . . . Billie Jean King of Long Beach faces Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., today in the South African Open Tennis Championships . . . Former movie starlet Robyn Smith was granted an apprentice jockey's license at Golden Gate Fields.

Derby Hopefuls Idle Today; Filly Champ in Debut

Asssociated Press

Hopefuls for the May 3 Kentucky Derby will remain in their stalls today, leaving the tracks to the handicap runners and Process Shot, who will be having her coming out as a 3-year-old.

Two $50,000-added handicaps top the national headliners — the 1⅛-mile Excelsior at Aqueduct and the Pan-American Turf 'Cap at Gulfstream Park.

Process Shot, the 1968 2-year-old filly champion, is slated to make her 1969 debut in the $25,000-added, six-furlong Flirtation Stakes at Pimlico.

Indulto Surprises in Hollypark Inaugural

Stretch-running Indulto survived a claim of foul and scored a mild upset victory Friday in the $28,150 Premiere Handicap as Hollywood Park launched its 30th thoroughbred season.

With the heavily bet favorite, Rising Market, finishing third jockey Don Pierce guided Indulto under the wire about a length in front of longshot Title Game.

Jockey Wayne Harris, who finished fourth on Pataha Prince, lodged a protest against Indulto, claiming interference in the stretch. After a brief look at the film of the race, the stewards overruled him.

Indulto carried 120 pounds, five less than Rising Market, and was the second betting choice of an opening day turnout of 31,928 gathered under hazy skies.

The time for the six furlongs on a fast track was 1:08 2-5. Indulto, a 6-year-old owned by Mrs. Edward Lasker, paid $10.40, $5.60 and $3.20; Title Game paid $9 and $4.40 and Rising Market $2.60.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker sent Rising Market out on the pace with Title Game while Indulto was held well back. Prise Jay and War Emperor offered some challenge to the front runners but there was no stopping Indulto in his stretch run and it was Title Game who hung on and Rising Market who fell back.

Indulto won the Sierra Madre Handicap on the grass during the recent Santa Anita meeting. This was the 19th sprint for Rising Market, who still has never finished worse than third.

Nine horses started and the winning owner collected $16,900.

Many of the opening day fans were on hand long before the program began to attend a special ceremony dedicating a monument to the California-bred champion, Native Diver.

The companion feature, the $8,500 Native Diver Purse, appropriately went to Nice Mistake, who like The 'Diver, is a black gelding. And it was the 'Diver's rider and trainer, Jerry Lambert and Buster Millerick, who fashioned the victory.

The biggest payoff of the day was the $105 return registered by Eagle Fly, who won fourth race under veteran Merlin Volzke, the hero of the longshot clan.

Fleet Kirsch, whose record-setting victory in the richest race in Hollywood Park history last summer earned him the two-year-old championship of the season, will attempt to pick up where he left off with that triumph today when he faces six rivals in the 18th running of the $26,800 Debonair Stakes.

The six-furlong test for three-year-old colts and geldings will highlight the first of 15 gala Saturday programs during the 75-day Inglewood session.

Post-time for the nine-race program will be 1:15 p.m. and there will be no "live" television coverage of the sprint event.

Seals Rate Edge at Home Over Kings, or Do They?

By RICH ROBERTS
Staff Writer

OAKLAND — "Seventh game, if necessary, at Oakland," they said and, boy, is it ever necessary!

It will be the most necessary game of the season for the Kings and Seals Sunday night (Ch. 5, 7 p.m.) when they settle their Stanley Cup quarterfinals. The winner goes on to St. Louis, where the Blues await the start of the semifinals Tuesday night.

It's Oakland's home game, so the Seals must rate an edge. Or do they?

"Basically, yes," Seal coach Fred Glover says realistically, if hesitantly. "But this is only one game, so percentages don't apply. I don't think it's an edge at all."

Gary Smith, the Seals' boyish 6-4 goaltender, isn't making predictions, either. His brother Brian played for the Kings when they met Minnesota at home in the seventh game of last season's quarterfinals.

"Look what happened," Smith said. "What was the score, 9-4"

Smith, who was second fiddle to veteran Charlie Hodge when the season opened, has been an inspiration to the Seals in the series, establishing his National Hockey League credentials.

Late in Thursday's 4-3 loss to the Kings at the Forum, the Seals became so bogged down that Smith launched a rush himself, carrying the puck almost to the center red line before passing off.

"I was looking for a break," he admitted. "The two defensemen didn't even see me. They just kept backing up."

Two years ago, playing for Toronto, Smith caused a large stir when he did the same thing in a game at Montreal. It sent league officials to the rule book, where they discovered that goalies are prohibited from crossing the center line.

The ice itself may have been a factor in the Seals' frustration. They prefer their own surface at home to the Forum's frozen floor.

"Ours is far better ice," Glover says. "It's faster ice."

Even King coach Red Kelly agrees: "I don't know why our ice is slow, but the puck slides better at Oakland and you don't have to push so hard to skate."

Again, the change in ice offers no edge. The Kings and Seals are strong skating clubs who will play better on a faster surface.

And the mere fact that it's a road game won't necessarily erase the Kings, who won only six away from the Forum all season. Two of those wins were at Oakland, including last week's 5-4 overtime opener.

What counts, in the end, will be who puts the most pucks in the other guy's net.

BLUE LINES: Second game of the semifinals will be at St. Louis Thursday. Third and fourth games will be at the Forum or Oakland Saturday and Sunday nights . . . Should the Kings win, they'll fly to St. Louis from Oakland Monday, without returning home . . . The Seals, outgunning the Kings by 22 goals to 18, have to top six scorers in the series, led by Earl Ingarfield with 3 goals and 4 assists for 7 points. Ted Hampson is 3-3—6. Six Kings have four points each—Gary Croteau, 3-1—4; Ed Joyal, 2-2—4; Real Lemieux, 1-3—4; Dale Rolfe, 0-4—4; Ted Irvine, 3-1—4, and Bill Flett, 1-3—4 . . . Then Kings have scored four goals while shorthanded this season and three have been by Lowell MacDonald, including Thursday's.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

The likeable gaucho from Argentina, Roberto De Vicenzo, failed to make the 148 cut at the Masters Friday, but he'll be back for the third round today.

CRUMP

VENTURI

Roberto will be one of many spectators expected to patrol the lush fairways at Augusta. "I like this tournament. I wanna see who wins.

"I no root for anybody in particular. I have too many friends there," said the 46-year-old veteran. "But I like to see young fella win. I hope to see so many tie that I can come watch playoff Monday."

* * * *

KEN VENTURI, 1964 U.S. Open Champion who has been suffering from circulatory trouble in his hands for three years, has had his share of problems, too.

"The only thing I don't know how to do is quit," said Venturi, while denying a published report he will forsake the PGA tour. Venturi also failed to make the Masters cut with a disastrous 83 in the first round.

"I've had my problems but I plan to continue fighting this thing. You just never can tell. Sometimes this hits me and I have a bad day, as I did Thursday. Then the next day it may be all right."

* * * *

PETITE DIANE CRUMP, first woman jockey to ride against men at a major American track, was knocked unconscious Friday when her horse, Misquoia, went down in a bad spill in the fourth race at Gulfstream Park. "I was out cold for awhile," the 20-year-old Miss Crump said. "But I walked to the ambulance. I'll be riding again just as soon as I get out of here."

ELLIS

BROWN

Promoter Jack Solomons announced that 34-year-old Briton Henry Cooper, European heavyweight champion, will meet WBA champion Jimmy Ellis in a title bout later this year . . . The Belgian Grand Prix may not take place this year because drivers rate the Francorchamps circuit as "too dangerous." Scottish ace Jackie Stewart called it the "most dangerous in the world" and said many Formula One drivers may not participate unless extra security measures are undertaken . . . A field of 26 USAC championship Indy cars will race in Sunday's $30,000 California 200 at Hanford Motor Speedway . . . Larry Brown, former North Carolina star now playing with Oakland of the ABA, was selected coach at Davidson College, succeeding Lefty Driesell . . . Billie Jean King of Long Beach faces Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., today in the South African Open Tennis Championships . . . Former movie starlet Robyn Smith was granted an apprentice jockey's license at Golden Gate Fields.

Derby Hopefuls Idle Today; Filly Champ in Debut

Asssociated Press

Hopefuls for the May 3 Kentucky Derby will remain in their stalls today, leaving the tracks to the handicap runners and Process Shot, who will be having her coming out as a 3-year-old.

Two $50,000-added handicaps top the national headliners — the 1⅛-mile Excelsior at Aqueduct and the Pan-American Turf 'Cap at Gulfstream Park.

Process Shot, the 1968 2-year-old filly champion, is slated to make her 1969 debut in the $25,000-added, six-furlong Flirtation Stakes at Pimlico.

BILLY CASPER
Plays It Cool

Casper Tied in Masters

for Casper, who stated frankly at the start of the tournament that he thinks his 12 previous failures to win here were due to "gambling" too much on shots. Billy's playing it sweet and simple — "up and down." He plays carefully up to the green in regulation and then gets his putts down in regulation.

With that system, he takes little or no bogeys — only one in 36 holes so far. And when his approaches are especially close or his long putts dropping, he gets birds — six opening day, two Friday.

But don't let cool Billy fool you too much — he can "gamble" when he has to, and in Friday's round, which he admitted was "scrambling," he had to come on the 17th when his tee shot went into the trees and bounced 30 feet.

"I was blind to the green," he reported. "I lined up through a vee in the trees and took a chance."

See? The chance paid off with a spectacular 200-yard shot that landed three feet from the pin for an easy birdie.

The 6-foot-6 Archer started the day tied with Devlin one stroke behind Casper and sank another stroke backward as he three-putted greens for bogeys and had a 1-over-par 73 for 140. "I don't consider myself a good long putter," he confessed.

Sikes, the Florida fried chicken entrepreneur, started out three strokes behind Casper, had two front-nine birdies and held the lead briefly at the 27-hole mark, then had eight pars and a birdie coming back for a 71-140.

Nicklaus had a horrendous six bogeys, offset only by three birdies. Asked if his 143 leaves him with any chance, he replied, "The way I played opening day (68), yes. The way I played the second round, no."

Falcons Rip 'Bucs'

The Cerritos Falcons tagged three Santa Monica hurlers for a dozen hits and capitalized on seven errors Friday afternoon to trounce the Bucs 16-1.

The scoring output by Cerritos, half of which were unearned, totaled the highest score the Falcons have attained this season.

Dave Snow provided the biggest punch at the plate for Cerritos, collecting four hits and three RBIs.

Teammate Ron Diggle also pushed across three runs while Mike Weathers tagged home three more tallies.

DISPUTED PLAY
Gahr's Ron Youngerman was very unhappy baserunner on this play Friday as he is thrown out at first base by Glenn pitcher Dave Parker. Umpire ruled foul tip rolled fair, but Youngerman and his coach disagreed. Guess who won?

Monsoons Gain on Artesia; Blyleven Sharp; Dons Romp

Mayfair High jumped back into the thick of the Suburban League title race Friday as the Monsoons used one big inning to hand Artesia its first loss, 6-2.

A four-run fourth inning provided the difference as Mayfair improved its record to 4-1-1, only one-half game behind the league-leading Pioneers.

A two-run single by Bud Young, a sacrifice fly by Russ Johnson and Stu Smith's single capped the big fourth inning and relief hurler Steve Hudson protected the lead.

In another game, Gahr also used a four-run inning to whip Glenn, 4-1. Glenn Wallace pitched the win and slugged a two-run triple to spark Gahr's third win in six games.

Neff stopped La Mirada, 6-2, on the sparkling relief hurling of Paul Pelz.

GARDEN GROVE

Bert Blyleven hurled a one-hitter and Tom Heierle slugged a home run Friday as Santiago handed Garden Grove High its first loss in seven games, 4-1, in Garden Grove League action.

The victory kept the Cavs in a second-place tie with LaQuinta, which routed Bolsa Grande, 8-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Horrace Knoppsel.

In the other game, Doug Watkins picked off four baserunners as Pacifica stopped Rancho Alamitos, 2-0.

Monarch Spikers Triumph

The Morningside Monarchs scored a crushing track victory over Leuzinger Friday in Sky League competition, taking all but two events in the lopsided 97 1/3-19 2/3 contest.

Ted Kunstt helped the Olympians to their two victories by winning the mile event and breaking the tape for the mile relay team.

BILLY CASPER
Plays It Cool

for Casper, who stated frankly at the start of the tournament that he thinks his 12 previous failures to win here were due to "gambling" too much on shots. Billy's playing it sweet and simple — "up and down." He plays carefully up to the green in regulation and then gets his putts down in regulation.

With that system, he takes little or no bogeys — only one in 36 holes so far. And when his approaches are especially close or his long putts dropping, he gets birds — six opening day, two Friday.

But don't let cool Billy fool you too much — he can "gamble" when he has to, and in Friday's round, which he admitted was "scrambling," he had to come on the 17th when his tee shot went into the trees and bounced 30 feet.

"I was blind to the green," he reported. "I lined up through a vee in the trees and took a chance."

See? The chance paid off with a spectacular 200-yard shot that landed three feet from the pin for an easy birdie.

The 6-foot-6 Archer started the day tied with Devlin one stroke behind Casper and sank another stroke backward as he three-putted greens for bogeys and had a 1-over-par 73 for 140. "I don't consider myself a good long putter," he confessed.

Sikes, the Florida fried chicken entrepreneur, started out three strokes behind Casper, had two front-nine birdies and held the lead briefly at the 27-hole mark, then had eight pars and a birdie coming back for a 71-140.

Nicklaus had a horrendous six bogeys, offset only by three birdies. Asked if his 143 leaves him with any chance, he replied, "The way I played opening day (68), yes. The way I played the second round, no."

Falcons Rip 'Bucs'

The Cerritos Falcons tagged three Santa Monica hurlers for a dozen hits and capitalized on seven errors Friday afternoon to trounce the Bucs 16-1.

The scoring output by Cerritos, half of which were unearned, totaled the highest score the Falcons have attained this season.

Dave Snow provided the biggest punch at the plate for Cerritos, collecting four hits and three RBIs. Teammate Ron Diggle also pushed across three runs while Mike Weathers tagged home three more tallies.

The victory brought the Falcons (12-1) within four games of wrapping up the Metropolitan Conference. Game starter Bob Wolf won his fourth consecutive victory against no defeats.

DISPUTED PLAY
Gahr's Ron Youngerman was very unhappy baserunner on this play Friday as he is thrown out at first base by Glenn pitcher Dave Parker. Umpire ruled foul tip rolled fair, but Youngerman and his coach disagreed. Guess who won?

Monsoons Gain on Artesia; Blyleven Sharp; Dons Romp

Mayfair High jumped back into the thick of the Suburban League title race Friday as the Monsoons used one big inning to hand Artesia its first loss, 6-2.

A four-run fourth inning provided the difference as Mayfair improved its record to 4-1-1, only one-half game behind the league-leading Pioneers.

A two-run single by Bud Young, a sacrifice fly by Russ Johnson and Stu Smith's single capped the big fourth inning and relief hurler Steve Hudson protected the lead.

In another game, Gahr also used a four-run inning to whip Glenn, 4-1. Glenn Wallace pitched the win and slugged a two-run triple to spark Gahr's third win in six games.

Neff stopped La Mirada, 6-2, on the sparkling relief hurling of Paul Pelz.

Monarch Spikers Triumph

The Morningside Monarchs scored a crushing track victory over Leusinger Friday in Sky League competition, taking all but two events in the lopsided 97 1/3-19 2/3 contest.

Ted Kunstt helped the Olympians to their two victories by winning the mile event and breaking the tape for the mile relay team.

MEMORI
HOSPITA

Get it.

BILLS come big when you are hurt in an accident nowadays—even a small one.

Hospital rooms cost from $60 to $85 a day. And that's only the beginning.

Even if you have hospitalization insurance or Medicare, there's nothing like another check paid directly to you to help with all the extras that are sure to come up.

Your newspaper's reader service insurance has that check for you. For a premium cost that's so tiny you will never miss it.

For a premium cost of mere "pocket-change".

The benefits are large and substantial.

They are paid directly to you, to use as you please. They're tax-free because they're insurance. And you collect the benefits no matter what other insurance you have or Medicare.

Isn't this as good a proposition as you have seen in a long time. Isn't it better to fill out and mail the coupon-application now than to wish you had. It is all that is required. There are no age limits, there is no medical examination. Just the coupon. Act now,

Week's Wall Street Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — The two opposing forces which heavily influenced the direction of the stock market were dramatically evident the past week as inflation-fighting measures sent the market skidding and peace hopes pulled it up again.

The renewed hopes of some breakthrough in the Vietnam war situation were strong enough to enable the market to shake off a sharp early loss and turn in a winning performance for the week. The Dow Jones industrial average, for example, lost 8.52 Monday but then won it all back again and finished the week with a gain of 6.16 at 933.46. The week previous the Dow had lost 8.18 to 927.30.

"The stock market," according to Argus Research Corp., "is torn between conflicting emotions: Optimism is encouraged by growing hopes for an early Vietnam peace, while pessimism is fostered by the fear that disinflationary fiscal-monetary policies will inevitably slow down the economy and hurt corporate earnings.

"Periodic disclosures of peace gestures by Washington and Saigon have helped buoy the market in recent weeks in the face of new disinflationary measures by the administration and the Federal Reserve Board. On balance, investors seem to be paying more attention to the messages of peace addressed to Hanoi than to the messages of disinflation addressed to the business and financial community."

The disinflation message came the previous Thursday after the market closed when the Federal Reserve moved to increase the discount rate to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent and to increase by $650 million the amount of money member banks will be required to hold in reserve. The market was closed Good Friday, and Wall Street had three days to think about the Fed's action: On Monday, it got its first chance to act, and a wave of selling came that sent the various major indicators downward.

But the first sharp reaction softened near the end of the session, and the following day the market began to push upward, largely because of bargain-hunting among stocks that had fallen to a price level that was considered an attractive buy.

Many investors remained cautious, however, and stayed on the sidelines. But much of this caution evaporated Wednesday as renewed peace hopes drew the money back into the action, and the market closed with a solid gain.

By GEOFFREY PARKINSON

Technical Analyst for Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis

The peace issue maintained its primary influence as it completely overshadowed recent monetary developments. However, emphasis on this issue is expected to decline without steady reinforcement or more definite progress. Without some unexpected developments this would leave only the recent flow of more favorable earnings reports to provide the stimulus for higher prices. The factor alone would not be expected to provide the basis for more than very selective strength. Thus a broad extension of the recent market rally is not expected over the near term. More recent rallies have proved short-lived before the market has had to retreat to gain more support. This is not the basis upon which a dynamic uptrend is established.

Shorter term the market has advanced into the area of its previous rally high at the 940 level. A volume penetration of this level would provide the basis for a move into the 950-960 level. While this would be bullish it would not provide the basis for more than a limited trading opportunity. A failure to penetrate 940 over the shorter term would suggest the need for at least a minor phase of consolidation or correction. Therefore a less aggressive shorter term trading stance is recommended.

FUNDS AND INSTITUTIONS do not always lead the market but they must support it. So far they have remained relatively neutral. Aside from periodic strength and weakness there has been no definable trend in this area. This by itself is neither bullish nor bearish but is a limiting factor. Until a more definite pattern is evident only a wide-winging market is expected. Among the stocks under significant accumulation last week which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are Benguet, Brunswick, Rheingold, Sperry Rand, Western Union.

Itek up 5 points, Fairchild Camera up 4 points, Texas Instruments up 3. The recent rally has been broad enough to include many of the glamour issues. As usual the stocks have jumped up quickly. Many have fulfilled small counts or reached initial resistance levels. Therefore they are considered somewhat vulnerable to a less dynamic market outlook. Taking some trading profits in many of the glamour issues is suggested until some consolidation or correction indicates another good trading opportunity.

THERE ARE A NUMBER of stocks that have shown good relative strength during periods of market strength and good relative resistance during periods off market weakness I.E. American Machine & Foundry, GAF Corp, Outboard Marine. These issues have been under steady accumulation despite the intermediate downturn by the market. This does not mean that they will be good trading vehicles but rather that they should continue to outperform the market over the near to medium term. On that basis these stocks are considered attractive at current levels.

Loew's Theatre up 5 points, Ling Temco Vought up 2 points, City Investing up 1½ points. Many conglomerates have rebounded recently, however recent strength stems from weakness not from strength. This group is not expected to stage more than shallow and short-lived rallies until more deffinite improvement is evident. The entire group is in a downtrend position and more than a minor base or reversal is needed to support a rally of any substance. Therefore this area should still be avoided on a trading basis and periods of strength should be considered near term selling opportunities.

Uggams to Take Smothers' Spot

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

Leslie Uggams, winner of the Tony Award for her performance in the Broadway musical, "Hallelujah, Baby!" has been signed by the Columbia Broadcasting system to replace the Smothers Brothers next season.

Robert D. Wood, president of the network, and Michael Dann, senior vice president, programs, announced the "new contemporary musical comedy-variety program" in a special closed-circuit broadcast to all network affiliates.

The series will be produced by Saul Ilson and Ernest Chambers, who now produce "What's It All About World?" for the American Broadcasting Co. and produced the Smothers Brothers Show when it first went on the air in 1967.

THE SMOTHERS show continues until June 15, mostly in reruns. A summer series will fill in until Sept. 21 when Miss Uggams will begin her new series. The Smothers were to have produced a summer show for the 9 to 10 p.m. Sunday slot, but CBS canceled this show, too.

Miss Uggam will be the first Negro woman to have her own network variety show. She will have three continuing "regulars" on the program each week and at least one major guest star will appear on each program, according to the network. A series of weekly features or "departments" will be a regular part of the show.

TOM SMOTHERS told the New York Times that Miss Uggams "is really talented, but with that kind of show CBS and NBC are just going to go further downhill." He said the brothers are negotiating with ABC-TV for a show next season.

Contacted by Associated Press, Ilson made this statement about the new Miss Uggams show:

"Basically, our thinking is that this will be a contemporary show. We're not going to go out of our way to be controversial, but we'll make our comment."

Chambers' comment: "America has had it with Spiro Agnew jokes. The question is what do you do. We want to make contemporary comment. We think the fact that Leslie is the star is implicitly a comment."

Trade papers said CBS' decision to fire the Smothers cost the network $3 million in advertising for the show which had been sold out for next season.

A friend who happens to be a specialist in internal medicine, told me about a patient who had been drinking heavily for over 15 years and finally developed a very bad case of "the shakes." He trembled so badly that his symptoms could easily be mis-diagnosed for St. Vitus' dance.

This good Doctor took a very personal interest in this man by reason of their lengthy friendship and devoted a great deal of time to the case.

Several months later I bumped into the Doctor at a lodge meeting and, unable to control my curiosity, asked about that same patient. The Doc informed me that he was successful in getting the man off the liquor, and that the shakes had disappeared completely--yet the condition of his health was much worse!!

Baffled at this, I pressed for a reason and the good Doctor answered sadly, "You see--'the shakes' was the only exercise poor Bill ever got!!!"

He Opens Doors for Student Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The student film maker has long been a frustrated soul. Equipped with a diploma that denotes a practical education in movie skills, he finds studios and unions closed to him.

At last someone is attempting to right that situation. He is Richard B. Childs, 29, himself a one-time student of the graduate film school at UCLA and hence a man who knows what it's like to be turned away by movie and union bosses.

Childs points out: "Last year the number of students taking college courses in film doubled from 40,000 to 80,000." He added that those who produce their own films generally get one showing on the campus and that's that.

He reflected on the fact that such films are normally seen only once by a paying audience.

He took a proposal to Filmways. Why not assemble a program of the best student films and distribute it to American colleges?

"Let's go!" said the Filmways bosses. Childs organized a Filmways subsidiary, aptly called Genesis Films, to distribute the collection. The results?

"Sensational,"

Focus on Home Fun

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Bel Air Circuit held its first world premiere of a motion picture this week.

Members of the Bel Air Circuit are the very rich in Hollywood's hierarchy — the stars, directors and producers who can afford projection rooms in their houses.

This requires a soundproof booth containing two 35mm projectors and a large screen. It helps to have a room long enough to provide sufficient projection for bigger-than-life size movies.

* * * *

APPROXIMATELY 30 homes are fitted out with those requirements in Bel Air, Beverly Hills and Holmby Hills.

It is a costly investment. The projectors alone represent more than $15,000. And they are such complicated machines none of the owners are able to operate them.

Thus professional projectionists are required to show the new pictures in a Bel Air circuit booth — at a cost of from $50 to $75 per movie. The projectionists work at the studios and command scale wages when they work for the stars at night.

One night this week proved a bonanza for the moonlighting projectionists: the premiere of "If It's Tuesday, This Must Be Belgium."

Producer David L. Wolper decided to hold the premiere at Bel Air Circuit homes because it was a first. He also provided comestibles and potables by caterer.

"It may be the smallest premier in history," Wolper said from behind his desk. "But the audience is select.

Hard Week for Philharmonic

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

The Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra has had a hard week.

Evenings it has been traveling—to Santa Barbara and Pasadena Tuesday and Wednesday, to Norwalk Thursday, to Long Beach last night—playing concerts under this season's eighth consecutive guest conductor, Antal Dorati.

And daytimes, fully half the orchestra is involved in the pit for the Guild Opera's performances of "Hansel and Gretel."

* * * *

ALL THINGS considered, then, the orchestra's rather routine performance at its once a year visit to Cerritos College Thursday night was understandable — especially as Dorati seemed uninterested in making it more than that.

Unfortunately, the conductor's apathy, even towards his own First Symphony, which preceded the intermission, proved contagious, for a noticeable portion of the audience fled at the break.

Not that one can blame them. Though Dorati's derivative score is mercifully unlengthy (30 minutes), it nevertheless provides no persuasive reasons for sitting still half an hour. It has neither an individual, forward-looking profile, nor any old-fashioned charms. If the listener wants to ignore its prosaic content, he might charitably call it "well-crafted," for it seems to be put together neatly enough. But further charity would be misplaced.

* * * *

THE SHAME of this occasion was not merely that those listeners who left at intermission, many of them young, potential music-lovers, missed a more satisfying second half. The pity is, some of them may never come back to a symphony concert. Please think about that, conductor-composers, the next time you build a program.

One amusing sidenote to the Dorati piece: Nicolas Slonimsky's colorful program notes, somewhat edited, were used in the program booklet—but attributed to another writer, which writer just happens to be chairman of the organization sponsoring this event. Conductors, it seems, are not the only people afflicted with vanity.

The rest of the evening was nicely, if uninspiredly, performed: the "Egmont" Overture of Beethoven; the "Good Friday Spell" from "Parsifal"; and Stravinsky's "Firebird" Suite. It's always comforting to rediscover that this orchestra maintains certain unchanging standards no matter who is waving the baton. Some weeks, it is those standards alone that keep us in our seats.

'Curious Yellow' Seized in Italy for Obscenity

ROME (AP) — Italian authorities Friday ordered the Swedish film "I Am Curious Yellow" seized throughout the nation, claiming it contained obscene sequences of love-making.

Rome public prosecutor Angelo Dore ordered the film banned from all movie theaters because of "sequences of sexual relations and of feminine and masculine nudes harming the common sentiment of prudency."

The film had been playing in northern Italy for a week, in Rome for only two days.

It was the second film seized this week for obscenity. "Satyricon," an Italian film based on the chronicles of Petronius Arbiter and directed by Gianluigi Polidori was seized Wednesday.

'The man from the paper' is a teacher for boys in a class by themselves

Your newspaperboy manages a business of his own. And that's why having a newspaper route can be so important to a boy. He earns his own money on the route, and he learns the basics of doing business. He buys his papers from us, he sells them to you. He is salesman, deliveryman, collector, and bookkeeper.

Yet while he has a business of his own, he is not entirely "on his own". The man from the paper is there—in his corner with friendly counsel and guidance. He knows boys and he makes his career working with boys. He also knows business methods—the ways in which a boy can make a success on his route. These he passes on to the boy. He is a teacher and the class he conducts is for boys "in a class by themselves".

If you think it would be worthwhile for your son to acquire the valuable lessons that come with newspaper route management, phone or write us today—

Jim gets sound advice from a pro

'The man from the paper' is a teacher for boys in a class by themselves

Your newspaperboy manages a business of his own. And that's why having a newspaper route can be so important to a boy. He earns his own money on the route, and he learns the basics of doing business. He buys his papers from us, he sells them to you. He is salesman, deliveryman, collector, and bookkeeper.

Yet while he has a business of his own, he is not entirely "on his own". The man from the paper is there—in his corner with friendly counsel and guidance. He knows boys and he makes his career working with boys. He also knows business methods—the ways in which a boy can make a success on his route. These he passes on to the boy. He is a teacher and the class he conducts is for boys "in a class by themselves".

If you think it would be worthwhile for your son to acquire the valuable lessons that come with newspaper route management, phone or write us today—

Governor Likes Idea of Mansion

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan likes the idea of California building a governor's mansion on land donated by a citizen's group but he's not going to commit himself for or against it, State Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger said Friday.

The idea was proposed by Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, in a brief meeting earlier this week with Reagan.

It involves an 11-acre site, overlooking the American River, owned by Citizens for a Residence for California Governors, a private group headed by San Francisco financier Leland M. Kaiser.

• • • •

ACCORDING to Burns, the property would be donated to the state, which would immediately appropriate the necessary funds — perhaps $500,000 — to build the mansion.

Also attending the meeting were Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy; Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point; Vernon L. Sturgeon, Reagan's legislative secretary, and Weinberger.

Weinberger said Burns' plan would require approval of a change in the Capitol master plan which calls for the mansion to be built on state-owned land across from Capitol Park.

The Reagans moved out of the 91-year-old downtown governor's mansion shortly after his election and have been living in a home recently bought by 14 of Reagan's wealthy friends and leased back to the governor.

Great Dane Saves Life of Toddler

WEST HOLLYWOOD (CNS) — A Great Dane dog was credited with saving the life of a toddler Friday by fetching his owner when two-year-old Christopher Conley fell into a swimming pool.

The dog's master, Axel Patcwaldt, 25, was alerted when his dog scratched on the door of his apartment and barked.

The dog led him to the pool where Patcwaldt dived in and rescued the infant. The child's father, Sean, 25, who lives in another apartment at the same address, lifted Christopher from the water.

They gave the baby artificial respiration and took him to a hospital.

Governor Likes Idea of Mansion

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan likes the idea of California building a governor's mansion on land donated by a citizen's group but he's not going to commit himself for or against it, State Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger said Friday.

The idea was proposed by Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, in a brief meeting earlier this week with Reagan.

It involves an 11-acre site, overlooking the American River, owned by Citizens for a Residence for California Governors, a private group headed by San Francisco financier Leland M. Kaiser.

* * * *

ACCORDING to Burns, the property would be donated to the state, which would immediately appropriate the necessary funds — perhaps $500,000 — to build the mansion.

Also attending the meeting were Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy; Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point; Vernon L. Sturgeon, Reagan's legislative secretary, and Weinberger.

Weinberger said Burns' plan would require approval of a change in the Capitol master plan which calls for the mansion to be built on state-owned land across from Capitol Park.

The Reagans moved out of the 91-year-old downtown governor's mansion shortly after his election and have been living in a home recently bought by 14 of Reagan's wealthy friends and leased back to the governor.

Great Dane Saves Life of Toddler

WEST HOLLYWOOD (CNS) — A Great Dane dog was credited with saving the life of a toddler Friday by fetching his owner when two-year-old Christopher Conley fell into a swimming pool.

The dog's master, Axel Patcwaldt, 25, was alerted when his dog scratched on the door of his apartment and barked.

The dog led him to the pool where Patcwaldt dived in and rescued the infant. The child's father, Sean, 25, who lives in another apartment at the same address, lifted Christopher from the water.

They gave the baby artificial respiration and took him to a hospital.

Looking For A WINNER?

If you do not want to be a pioneer and can recognize the many advantages of assuming ownership of an established profitable franchise store in a fantastic growth area . . . this could be the opportunity you have been looking for.

If you can qualify — you will join the El Poco Candle and Gift Shoppe store chain, which is one of the largest in this specialty store field. Two existing hi-traffic Orange County stores are available immediately as well as other locations throughout the Western States.

If you can invest $18,950 cash and begin at once, call (714) 642-2717 for a personal confidential interview.

If you prefer, you may write about yourself in detail and include phone number to: Universal Franchise Exchange, 1617 Westcliff Drive, Suite 210, Newport Beach, Calif.

Looking For A WINNER?

If you do not want to be a pioneer and can recognize the many advantages of assuming ownership of an established profitable franchise store in a fantastic growth area . . . this could be the opportunity you have been looking for.

If you can qualify — you will join the El Poco Candle and Gift Shoppe store chain, which is one of the largest in this specialty store field. Two existing hi-traffic Orange County stores are available immediately as well as other locations throughout the Western States.

If you can invest $16,950 cash and begin at once, call (714) 642-2717 for a personal confidential interview.

Universal Franchise Exchange, 1617 Westcliff Drive, Suite 210, Newport Beach, Calif.
